Of the wheat market in Great Britain the European agent of the department writes: "Great Britain is the principal outlet for the superfluous wheat of the world, and her markets during the past month have presented a study of peculiar interest and value. It was known at the opening of the month that the Russian and American crops were short. There was practically nothing available from other exporting countries except a few cargoes of last season's wheat from Argentina and stocks wore low both in Great Britain and on the continent. The Russians declined to sell except at enhanced prices and their shipments fell far behind the usual average for the time of year. The only source of supply was the United States and it might reasonably have been expected that we should have the benefit of our position by obtaining enhanced prices. Kane, Burnette, Donaldson, Sterne and Hoppins taking part, the last named declaring himself strongly against bimetallism.

Besides the silver question another matter was brought forward for discussion. J. R. Donaldson suggested that the meeting be thrown open to a discussion regarding the abvisability of urging the necessity upon Kingstonians of fitting up some hall for the benefit of workingmen out of emcould register and to which employers could go in search of help when needed The hall should be supplied with the lead ing magazines and papers, and workingmen thus have opportunities for improve ment. M. S. Burnette said that there was no use discussing such a question in Kingston, which is years behind the times, and where the rich care nothing for the wel fare of the public. The council was condemned as a body who do nothing for the good of workingmen. Dr. Curtis combatted Mr. Burnette's remarks and claimed that Kingston is one of the most progressive and charitable cities on the continent. Mr. Burnette's statements were a libel on Kingstonians and showed an ignorance almost incredible in a person, who, for years, has been a resident of Kingston, Mr. Donaldson's suggestion may be brought forward again hext Sunday, time not permitting for a thorough treatment of the question in yesterday's meeting. One of the many cases of rupture radically cured by wearing the Wilkinson truss is that of W. J. C. Allen, of Mcfitted with a truss by B. Lindman, the expert, 85 York street (Rossin house block), Toronto, and who writes on Sept. 16th as "I have been badly ruptured for the past nine years, and during that time have been fitted with many different kinds of trusses, manufactured not only in Canada but in the United States, without obtaining rehef. On April 19th, 1896, I purchased from you a Wilkinson trues, being advised by a physician to do so, and I feel confident that I am now perfectly cured. I can assure you that I feel thankful for the results, and if you wish you can refer Mr. Lindman will be at the "British American," Kingston, Friday and Satur-

NEVER WRITTEN A WORD.

A Yarn of the Sunday Times Was Declared a Forgery. LONDON, Oct. 19.-In its issue yesterday the Sunday Times asserted that Sir Wil liam Harcourt, whose name has been foremost among those mentioned as likely to succeed Lord Rosebery as the leader of the liberal party, had written a letter to an inquirer in which he said that he shared the general regret at Lord Rosebery's retirement. In concluding his letter, the Sunday Times asserted, Sir William said that the communication would be "news to those who were trying to prove his hosoval council. As soon as the church tility to an amiable and distinguished could act she rejected that rubric, and statesman and colleague." When the alwhon it was re-inserted a century later leged communication was shown to Sir the words real and essential were changed William Harcourt this morning he at once into corporal, i.e., carnal or material. denounced it as a forgery, declaring that Ask a Methodist or Presbyterian what is he had never written a word apon the subon the altar after the consecration prayer
