

THE KINGS TON WHIG.

A CIRCULATION GUARANTEE.
Fifty per cent. over any other in the city. More Daily Whigs taken in the city than all other dailies combined. Kingston, Ontario, and London, Ontario. The greatest mass of the people cannot be reached by any other medium.
If the Whig makes a claim 100%.

Matrimonial Bands

Are desirable, but still bands on financial affairs. We have just received some that will suit you.
JENKINS.

SIXTY-THIRD YEAR.—NO. 265.

KINGSTON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 13, 1896.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

Sevens

7's
Is that your size? We are clearing out a lot of Men's Sample Boots all that size. Former prices $2.50, $3 and $3.50, you can take your pick for $1.50.

Haines & Lockett.

All the Advertising

On earth will not draw trade to a store if the goods and the methods of this store are worth. That is the reason we are so particular to have you called right when you come here. That's why we always have something new to show. Our best customers are those who examine the bargains offered by our competitors before coming to us.

J. H. Montgomery, Manager Clothing Department.

H. D. DIBBY CO.

OAK HALL, KING STREET.

CLEARING SALE

$12,000 worth of Boots, Shoes, Trunks and Valises

Commencing Saturday morning and continuing until the entire stock is disposed of.

W. J. DICK & SON.

We Honestly Believe.

Magic Cough Cure

to be the best preparation on the market today for curing coughs or colds, six bottles and

E. C. MITCHELL,

Chemist and Optician.

RED Window

-Cura-Cough-

HOAG'S DRUG STORE

Sevens

7's
Is that your size? We are clearing out a lot of Men's Sample Boots all that size. Former prices $2.50, $3 and $3.50, you can take your pick for $1.50.

Haines & Lockett.

All the Advertising

On earth will not draw trade to a store if the goods and the methods of this store are worth. That is the reason we are so particular to have you called right when you come here. That's why we always have something new to show. Our best customers are those who examine the bargains offered by our competitors before coming to us.

J. H. Montgomery, Manager Clothing Department.

H. D. DIBBY CO.

OAK HALL, KING STREET.

CLEARING SALE

$12,000 worth of Boots, Shoes, Trunks and Valises

W. J. DICK & SON.

We Honestly Believe.

Magic Cough Cure

to be the best preparation on the market today for curing coughs or colds, six bottles and

E. C. MITCHELL,

Chemist and Optician.

RED Window

-Cura-Cough-

HOAG'S DRUG STORE

GAVE A TALE OF THE CHRIST.

BEAUTIFUL PRODUCTION OF BEN HUR LAST NIGHT.

Scenes From the Orient. In the Days of Our Saviour—Life of A Young Jewish Noble—Kingston's Amateurs Nobly Acquit Themselves.

The manner in which the "spectacular pantomime" Ben Hur was presented at Martin's opera house last evening attracted infinite credit upon the manager, and those who took part in the production. There was not a hitch during the performance, and those who took part acquitted themselves as though they had been "to the manner born" and were used to tread the boards every night for years. Although they were comparatively strange to the stage, and labored under the disadvantages peculiar to first night productions by amateurs, not the slightest sign of awkwardness was apparent, and while it is immeasurably more difficult to hold the attention of such a large house as was present last evening, by pantomime, than when the plot is interpreted by the eloquence of speech, the deep and continuous interest manifested by those present was an unmistakable tribute to the skill and capability of those upon whom such an onerous task devolved.

The scenery was very beautiful, and one could almost feel the breath of the languorous breeze as it sighed over the hills and along the streets of Jerusalem, trodden by our Saviour nearly two centuries ago. The costumes were in most cases dazzlingly gorgeous, though they were, in all instances suited to the popular requirements.

Every one knows the story of Ben Hur, that took the English speaking literary world by storm some years ago. In the pantomime, the first scene opens in the desert. Balducci, the guide, is seen guiding to the birth place of Christ by the star of Bethlehem, is discovered alone in front of his tent, awaiting the coming of Melchior and Gaspar. They start on their journey in search of the Christ of Bethlehem. In the next scene, Joseph and Mary are seen at the Joppa gate. The interview with Herod, his orders to them to seek out the infant Saviour, their finding of the child, their flight to Egypt, their heaven-directed journey, are all faithfully, beautifully, and ably pictured. Then follow scenes in the life of Ben Hur, the conspiracy against him by his former friend Messala, his arrest and condemnation to the galleys; his subsequent release from slavery, his return to Jerusalem to find his home broken up, and his mother and sister driven out as lepers; his successful search for them, and his final reconciliation with the "mook and lowly Nazarene." The whole closes with a strikingly beautiful allegorical scene entitled "Iris' Dream of the Nile." The calcium light is used with excellent effect during the progress of the representation.

The dancing of the "Butterflies," "the Nymphs," "the Naiads," etc., was in each and every instance a marvel of grace, poetry and skill. Miss Blanchette, who in her solo dance, in the character of "Thalia," displayed the brilliant terpsichorean skill that has given her more than a local reputation. At the close of her dance she presented a beautiful bouquet of white and yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Florence Williams in her personation of Sylvius, Queen of the Butterflies, was exceedingly taking and pleasing. While it is not possible to single out any one of the performers for special commendation, the dancing of the two young ladies first mentioned brought down the house. In the case of each performer, no error was for unfavorable criticism, and the greatest credit is due to the painstaking work, study and patient perseverance which alone could have meant to the grand success achieved last night.

Following are the names of those who took part, with the chapters to each group:

Butterflies—Chapman, Mrs. J. A. G. Hinton, Miss L. Donohue, Miss L. Donohue; Flore Hinton, Kathleen Donohue, Madeline Campion, Flossie Ohiko, Gertrude Mueckler, Rose Mendell, Olive Wright, Lulu Gays, Grace Murphy, Jennie Stroud, P. C. Carnovsky, Clara Ohlke.

Egyptian Fandango—Chapman, Mrs. J. S. Neilson; Misses Clara Taylor, Kate Upper, Freda Bartlett, Ella Power.

Naiads—Chapman, Mrs. J. S. Neilson, Mrs. G. H. Ogilvie; Misses Fannie Spriggs, Lora Reyer, Florence O'Donnell, Ruby Donnelly, Edith Hardy, Litta Norris, Mrs. Anderson, Adelaide Appleton.

Princesses of the East—Chapman, Misses L. Sutherland, E. Macpherson; leader, Miss Maggie Derry; Misses Nellie Thompson, Edith Seymour, Beatrice DeRoche, Lizzie Newman, Ethel Milan, Edna Reid, Lorraine Reid, Edna Gosner, Mattie W. King, Eva Staley, Lillie Reid, Mabel Mitchell.

Roman Soldiers—P. Gowen, J. Sharpe, C. Taylor, H. Sargent, B. Prevost, J. Franklin, G. J. Gaiter, W. M. Gaiter, J. Polson, B. Galloway, J. Sparks, J. Sharp, S. Squires, T. Gillespie, E. Cummings, W. Hamilton.

Sprites Fandango—Chapman, Mrs. J. A. G. Hinton, Miss L. Donohue, Miss L. Donohue; Sprites: Mabel Milan, Mollie Donohue, Wills Waggoner, Edith Young.

Naiads—Chapman, Mrs. J. S. Neilson, Mrs. W. Macneil; Misses Anna Adams, Hattie Beauger, Edith Beauger, Hattie Derry, Florence Seymour, Pearl O'Driscoll, Madeline Reid, Bertha Johnson, Agnes Staley, Lillie White, George Hinton, Agnes Wilkins, Edith Hamilton, Ethel Robinson, Ida McBermet.

Nymphs of Daphne—Chapman, Mrs. Herald; Misses Mabel Thurston, Stella Ross, Lillie Byrner, Florence Stagg, Katie Atlay, Jessie Reid, Mabel Day, Frank Rowan, Edna Moore, Stella Emma, Ada Adams, Katie Corrigan.

Following was the cast of characters in the main portion of the performance: Ben Hur, Capt. H. E. Barstall; Ben Hur (younger), John Ainsworth, Messala, H. M. Drummond; Messala (younger), Alfred P. Hill; Balducci, George Young; Melchior, Mrs. J. S. Neilson; F. D. Laflerty; King Herod, J. A. Gunn; Valerius Gratius, Major J. Galloway; Arius, Jack McKay; Joseph, John Gorbett; Rabbi Samuel, John Bohan; Sheik Isherim, J. E. Gages; Messala (younger), F. D. Laflerty; P. Gowen; Sanballat, James Bradshaw; First Guard, C. R. Webster; Second Guard, J. D. Cannon; Thord, Sergt. Major Morgan; Thord's companion, John McKay; Eubiorus, Mrs. J. B. Peirce; Iris, Miss Margaret Moore; Mother of Ben Hur, Miss Margaret McKenny; Tirah, Miss Lillian Reid; Amrah, Miss Olive Spriggs; Mary, Miss Gertrude Mendell; Sylvius, Queen Sylvia, Florence E. Williams; Thaitis (solo), Miss Blanche Hudson; children of Ben Hur, Misses Vivian D. Patrie and Flossie Hudson; stateress, Misses Gertrude Fortescue, Norton Taylor and C. Norton Taylor; reader of chorist rae, T. G. Marquet; pianist, Miss Jennie Daunt; orchestra, Harmony club, conducted by Lieut. March.

The production was under the patronage of Messieurs Cotton, Price, Sullivan, McGill, Drury and Grant.

A crowded house should greet the able amateurs to-night.

Imported Hat Jackets.

Selected with great care as to style, quality and price. You will certainly find it worth your while to make your selection in the mantle rooms of George Mills & Co., 170 Wellington street.

Keep On Coming.

We have lots of them left and every pair a bargain. Hats for everybody at this great sale of "Officer's" stock, 127 Princess street, A. A. Ainsworth.

CITY AND VICINITY.

18c. Worth More 18c.

Large or small bottle 18c. bottle tomato catsup 6c., can blueberries 8c. J. Crawford.

B & C.

That new fall jacket seen the unrivaled assortment now displayed in the mantle rooms of George Mills & Co., 170 Wellington street.

Perished in The Flames.

The barn of Nelbor Bosley, Flinton, was burned to the ground on Tuesday morning with all the contents. Eight head of cattle and a team of horses perished in the flames. Cause of fire unknown; partly covered by insurance.

Had A Live! Experience.

Last evening an Edward Mullin, Portmarnock, attempted to board street car No. 19 as it was descending the sylvan hill. He missed his step and was given a rolling in the mud. He had a narrow escape from being seriously injured.

Detained For A Week.

Last week John McKay and Ben shipped two car loads of hides to the United States. Through some alleged error in the making out of customs papers the cars were detained at Niagara Fall for about a week. The error was made on the other side.

The Latest Outrage.

The latest outrage in Kingston is that of "coercing an alderman." According to report, it was a very mild case of election prediction, but the alderman bristled up as if he was looking for war. He is usually superior to such a course, or influence, and was not practiced on the other side, of course.

And He Is Right.

Ald. Skinner states that if the aldermen opposing the extension of the oil limits, were to spend as much time and eloquence on the grain elevator question, instead of allowing the proposed to allow another industry to locate here, it would be more to their credit, and to the interests of their constituents.

The Bishop Of Algoma.

Canon Thorneley, bishop-elect of Algoma, was born in Coventry, England, in an M. A. of Bishop's college, Lennoxville, was ordained in the diocese of Montreal, and is now missionary at Stanstead, and since 1885 rector at Sherbrooke.

The Agreement Submitted.

The street railway extension agreement, as drawn up by city solicitor McIntyre, and which obtained the unanimous approval of the board of works, was submitted to the street railway committee yesterday. The committee decided to accept its terms the agreement will be laid before the council at its next meeting.

Run Down By A Bicyclist.

A young girl, named Gallagher, was knocked down and run over by a bicyclist, who was riding on the sidewalk a day or two ago. The girl was injured to such an extent that she will be unable to attend to her usual occupation for some time. The accident occurred on a street corner round which both girl and cyclist were turning, each going in an opposite direction.

Send In Your Claims.

Persons having claims against town and township councils should present such under the new municipal law before the last meeting in December. New councils cannot be expected to know the validity of claims contracted by predecessors. Under the old system the number of county councillors elected throughout the province was 1,400, and the new act reduces the number to 500 in all. The new act, it is estimated, about $25,000 a year.

The Penitentiary Investigation.

Joseph F. Bawden and George Sale have been appointed to take shorthand reports and furnish type-written copies of the proceedings of the penitentiary investigation committee, at the first meeting to be held on Monday. The information obtained in the performance of their official duties. The investigation is proving to be of a more thoroughly searching character than some of those of former years. Inspector Stewart, of Ottawa, was expected to arrive here yesterday afternoon, but his arrival has been delayed.

Y.M.C.A. RECEPTION.

Quite a Delightful Time Was Enjoyed by Those Attending.

Last evening about 150 responded to the invitation to a reception tendered the members at the association building and spent a very enjoyable time. From eight to nine o'clock regular class was conducted in the gymnasium. A short time was spent in the game room, parlor and reading room. At 9:15 o'clock all adjourned to the hall, where tea had been prepared by the members of the association. The refreshments had been done to the good things supplied, George Mills welcomed the members to the association and in concluding hoped their presence showed their interest in the work of the Y.M.C.A. in Kingston. The toast "The Y.M.C.A. of Kingston" was proposed by T. J. Shanks. The "Yellows" and "Blues" were proposed respectively by D. A. Shaw and Rev. Mr. King and responded to by their captains, A. Ellis and C. Low. "Our College year" was proposed by Rev. Dr. Kirkpatrik and replied to by T. J. Shanks. "The Ladies' Auxiliary" was proposed by A. E. White and replied to by R. Meek on their behalf. The evening's events closed with singing and prayer.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

Marine Items Picked up Along Kingston Harbor Front.

The schr. Echo, Wolfe Island, arrived last evening with 3,000 bushels of wheat for Richardson & Sons.

The schr. Fleeting is discharging a cargo of wheat at Richardson & Sons' wharf last night with 300 tons of general merchandise consigned to McKelvey & Birch, Dalton & Strang and George Sears.

For the first time in a number of years the grain steamer "Echo" will call at Kingston this week the schr. Fleeting is discharging a cargo of wheat at Richardson & Sons' wharf last night with 300 tons of general merchandise consigned to McKelvey & Birch, Dalton & Strang and George Sears.

The tug Thomson with three light barges arrived from Montreal last night, and cleared again for the same port this morning with six grain laden barges.

The tug "Echo" will call at Kingston this week the schr. Fleeting is discharging a cargo of wheat at Richardson & Sons' wharf last night with 300 tons of general merchandise consigned to McKelvey & Birch, Dalton & Strang and George Sears.

The tug Thomson with three light barges arrived from Montreal last night, and cleared again for the same port this morning with six grain laden barges.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

PARAGRAPHS PICKED UP BY OUR BUSHY REPORTERS.

The Spice of Every Day Life—What the People Are Talking About—Nothing Escapes the Attention of Those Who Are Taking Notes.

"Ben Hur" to-night.

Extra heavy mail 18c. Crawford.

Honest 40c. coffee at Gilbert's grocery.

Our 50c. uncoloured shirt is a world beater at Baker's.

The city watering carts have been laid up the winter.

Men's suits at cost price Saturday. Dunlop, King street.

Violent scented household ammonia only at E. C. Mitchell's.

"Ben Hur" to-night.

Remember W. J. Dick & Son's clearing sale of boots and shoes.

"A" battery had the usual weekly march-out this morning.

Extra heavy mail 18c. Crawford.

Dunlop, King street.

Mrs. Toye, Kingston, is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Lingham, Belleville.

"Ben Hur" to-night.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

10 lb. sweet potatoes 25c. Crawford.

The city is being flooded with blanks of the Hamburg, Germany, lottery company.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

We are selling odd carpets cheaper than others can buy them at Star Hall's retiring sale.

See us Saturday for your new overcoat. We have them from $2.50 to $15. Dunlop, King street.

Mayor Elliott is out of town on a business trip, and Ald. Carson officiated in the absence of the mayor.

The splendid new 5c. and 7c. flannellets at R. McFall's, Kingston Carpet Warehouse.

Good afternoon! Have you tried Crown Brand Tea? Can get it at Gilbert's grocery.

Complaints are numerous that boys are constantly guilty of breaking the windows of vacant houses in the city.

See our large double chest protector at 50c. It is a world beater. E. C. Mitchell.

Lipton's tea, 30c., 40c. and 50c. a lb. at Gilbert's grocery.

The induction of Rev. C. J. Cameron into the Presbyterian church, Boston, occurred Thursday night.

Special for Saturday: 50 black and blue beaver overcoats $5.00, $6.50, $8.50. Dunlop for clothing value. King street.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

Boys' tanned leath boots $1 a pair. Just the thing to wear under rubbers.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

Extra special for Saturday: 45 men's extra heavy, extra long, extra high collar ulsters at $4.50, $5.75. Dunlop, King street.

W. H. Fisher returned yesterday from Amber Island. He was two days storm-bound on the island, unable to reach the main shore.

Ben Hur performers—face powders, eye shadow, rouge and grease paints at E. C. Mitchell's.

Do you intend to present your boy with a new overcoat Saturday? We have them in all styles and prices. Dunlop, King street.

When the street railway is completed to the outer G.T.R. station, the street railway company will run their cars to meet all late-incoming trains.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

Good afternoon! Have you tried Crown Brand Tea? Can get it at Gilbert's grocery.

Complaints are numerous that boys are constantly guilty of breaking the windows of vacant houses in the city.

See our large double chest protector at 50c. It is a world beater. E. C. Mitchell.

Lipton's tea, 30c., 40c. and 50c. a lb. at Gilbert's grocery.

The induction of Rev. C. J. Cameron into the Presbyterian church, Boston, occurred Thursday night.

Special for Saturday: 50 black and blue beaver overcoats $5.00, $6.50, $8.50. Dunlop for clothing value. King street.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

Boys' tanned leath boots $1 a pair. Just the thing to wear under rubbers.

Now 1 lb. a lb., half yard 12c., at Gilbert's grocery.

Extra special for Saturday: 45 men's extra heavy, extra long, extra high collar ulsters at $4.50, $5.75. Dunlop, King street.

W. H. Fisher returned yesterday from Amber Island. He was two days storm-bound on the island, unable to reach the main shore.

Ben Hur performers—face powders, eye shadow, rouge and grease paints at E. C. Mitchell's.

Do you intend to present your boy with a new overcoat Saturday? We have them in all styles and prices. Dunlop, King street.

When the street railway is completed to the outer G.T.R. station, the street railway company will run their cars to meet all late-incoming trains.

STR. ACADIA MISSING.

No Tidings Yet Received From The Overdue Steamer.

No further tidings of the overdue str. Acadia have been received and friends of those aboard have almost given up hoping for the best. Capt. John Cliffo, who commanded the steamer, is an old Kingstonian, having resided in the vicinity of Murray tower from his boyhood until removing to St. Catharines about a dozen years ago. John Collins, father-in-law of W. J. McNeil, four merchant, is first mate of the missing steamer. He has been sailing for years and is one of the most trusted men who ply the lakes. Patrick Dougherty, son of Daniel Dougherty, Elm street, is cabin boy on the Acadia. It is thought that some accident has happened to the machinery of the Acadia, and that she has been driven on some off-the-way bay on some of the upper lakes.

The str. Acadia is owned by the Mackay Bros., Hamilton. She was built in 1866 by Macdonald Brothers, and is composed of 600 net tons. She was built and repaired were made to her in 1895 and last spring. In the marine register the Acadia is valued at $25,000. She is insured for $25,000. The steamer was raised and repaired was carried only $5,000, the balance being provided upon a number of American companies.

The str. Acadia was comparatively few marine disasters to Canadian boats on the upper lakes in recent years. Last year the str. St. Magnus, like the Acadia, owned by the Mackays, Hamilton, sank at a dock at Cleveport. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat. Two years ago the Canadian steamer Africa went down during a storm in Lake Huron. Several of the crew were killed. The steamer was raised and brought to Port Dalhousie, and after repairs had been effected she was burned to the water's edge at a dock one night. It is a coincidence that Capt. Cliffo commanded the Acadia, was in charge of the St. Magnus when fire destroyed that boat.