HOW TO GURE YOURSELF

In all forms of stomach trouble Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will promptly cure where there are such symptoms as pain or soreness in the stomach, indigestion or distress after eating, pressure and fullness in the stomach, shortness of breath, poor appetite, coated tongue, sour or bitter raising from the stomach, heartburn, wind on the stomach, constipation, dizziness, faintness and lost energy. billiousness, yellow-coated tongue, nausea, bitter taste in the mouth and sailow skin take Munyon's Liver Cure in alternation with the Dyspepsia Cure, an hour apart, Where there is obstinate constipation keep the bowels open once a day by using Munyon's Constipation Cure until they become regular under the effect of the Dyspepsia Cure. When there are troublesome heart symptoms alternate Munyon's Heart Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great nervousness or inability to sleep, alternate Munyon's Nerve Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If the blood is poor in quality alternate Munyon's Blood Cure and Dyspepsia Cure. By this plan of treatment one can eradicate the worst forms of stomach eradicate the worst forms of stomach

It is sad, but nevertheless true, that the disposition of some couples change entirely for the better as soon as they are freed from the shackles of housekeeping. Faultfinding ceases, anxious lines smooth away, and both husband and wife draw a long breath of relief. I have known a most devoted husband and wife who, after the various domestic complications caused by the civil war, looked the matter of housekeeping squarely in the face. The wife no longer young, felt that she could not, without worry, take up housekeeping on a totally different basis from that with which she had been familiar, and her husband was wise and considerate enough to accept her view of the situation. And to the end of their lives they boarded. So it goes. Work that to one woman is pleasant, to another one is irksome; but stances-it is far better to accept the inevitable with good grace. The Khan's Canticles.

R. K. Kernighan, better known "The Khan," has been dubbed the James Whitcomb Riley of Canada. In a well printed, well-bound volume are many poetical effusions fit to rank with Riley best. No Canadian poet has written in a more strikingly original manner, or got nearer to the people in the portrayal of scenes and incidents to their every-day life than "The Khan." Many of his verses are rich in rollicking humor; not a few are strongly sympathetic, while others breath patriotism quite soul-stirring. Indeed the versitality and the imagery of this poetic genius are marked. The book sold for $1.50 is a credit to its publisher, the Hamilton Spectator company. It is a Bros. duty to Canada to support its literary workers, and poet and publishers alike merit encouragement, especially since the Khan's canticles are in themselves in a literary sense worthy of generous patron-

Didn't Want To Bother Them. One lone tramp was sheltered at the police station last night. He was a French Canadian and said he was trying to make his way to Quebec. To the police he stated that he, at one time, was a Roman Catholic, but had joined the Salvation army in Chicago. "The army has a 'garrison' in Kingston" remarked a policeman.

"Yes, I know dat" answered the tramp. "Why, then, did you net go to their barracks and apply for shelter and assistance instead of coming to the police Lieut.-Col. Kitson, commandant of the station?" was the policeman's next, and "Oh," replied the tramp, with a shrug

> Proud Of The Force. Chief Horsey last evening read to the assembled members of the local police force a letter he had received from ex.P. C. Small "Phil," is visiting in Philadelphia and sends Christmas greetings to his old com-rades and friends. He says he finds, day by day, greater reason for his opinion that the Kingston police force is the best and most becomingly dressed on the continent. Christmas Furs.

D., of Ash-Richardson, Bessie Smythe, Marguerite | tabula, Ohio, and gives title to a modest Carr-Harris, Louise Barnet; class III, Mary | volume of his poems, privately published. The sub-title, "other gatherings from the Honor English-Class I, Kathleen Kirk. driftwood of idle hours on the poetic sea," prepares one to find a volume of miscellanies. There are narratives, legends retold, religious verses, translations, occasional pieces and squibs, which while not classified, possess an underlying unity of thought. The second piece is a single stanza on Character; the third a beautiful II. Marion Redden, Marguerite Carr | lyric entitled "Labor and Rest;" theseand several other poems are distinct contributions to a philosophy of life, and it is a hale and uplifting philosophy, full of wise insights. "Earthly Disappointments" is exquisite. The Easter and Christmas carols and hymns are notable for their verve and spontaneity, and the communion hymn and "Onward" are stately and de-

Dr. Burrows has an unusual command of rhythmic form. It is remarkable that in four-score pieces there are nearly onehalf as many varieties of stanza, in several instances of rare construction and singular beauty.
