DEATH OF MR. D. RYAN.

It Occurs Very Suddenly at Escanaba-Sad Blow to the Relatives.

General surprise and regret was felt in Sydenham on Monday last when intelligence was received that Daniel Ryan, formerly of that place, had died suddenly at Escanaba, Michigan. The deceased was well and favorably known in his native township, endowed with no ordinary abilipossessing an intelligence strengthened by a liberal education, and sharpened by many years' experience in the stern realities of life, he drew around him many, who, overlooking the frailties of mortality, admired, loved, and respected the true qualities of the man. His practical business qualities quickly placed him in a state of comparative independence, and, at the very time when he might rest on the rewards of his labor, death intervened and he was cut off in the noonday of his career. But "so passeth the glory of the world." His sudden death was a sad blow to his relatives and they have the sympathy of many friends. His remains were brought to Sydenham. The quiet churchyard at Railton has received him in its peaceful shade, and his ashes now mingle with the dust of his fathers. May it rest in peace.

ACCIDENT AT THE BUTTS.

A Soldier Seriously But Not Fatally Hurt -A Removal to the Hospital.

A detachment of "A" battery in command of Capt. Drury engaged in target practice at the butts at Barriefield this morning Gunner Frankem was chosen a marker and narrowly escaped being shot. The gun firing was at a range of 500 yards. Frankem was safely located on one of the butts when a soldier fired at the target. The bullet struck some stones on top of the butt holding Frankem and a piece of the lead went between the stones in a slanting direction and cut a ridge in the top of the marker's head. He fell at once and lay there until his companion marker found him. The firing party were notified. It was found he was not shot fatally. In the absence of Dr. Neilson, physician for the battery, Dr. Saunders was telephoned for and arrived quickly. The wounded soldier was taken to the barracks and placed in the hospital. It is hought that he will pull through.

A Tough One in Trouble.

A Chicago paper contains the record of a former Kingstonian that is simply scandalous. We suppress names in deference to relatives. But it seems that he deserted his wife and family in Ottawa, because the wife was sickly, and, under false pretences, married his housekeeper in Chicago. Wife No. 3 (for he was married three times, No! 1 being dead) got hold accidentally of a letter from wife No. 2, asking for money with which to educate her children, and because No. I would not surrender it he thrashed her and abused her. It was during the hearing of the assault case that the facts of the bigamy came out, and the facts also of his peculations from his employees. He is now in gaol awaiting developments. The chances are that he will go to the peniten-

The Attorney-General Arraigned. LONDON, July 9. - The Daily News in its comments on the O'Donnell case, says: "Sir R. E. Presently he, and not Mr. Parnell will stand on trial, and if the house of commons does not insist on probing the scandal, the people will know the reason why."

Hotel Keepers in Trouble.

BELLEVILLE, July 9 .-- During the annual meet of the Canadian wheelmen's association here, the hotels were thrown open to visitors, who were treated in a royal manner. A prominent temperance lady protested against this, as it occurred on Sunday, and this week a dozen or mere hotels have been fined for a violation of the Ontario license act.

THE CZAR AND THE KAISER.

Russian Protectorate to be Proposed for Bulgaria.

Bentan, July 9 .- The Czar has asked in an autograph letter to Emperor William that Prince Bismarck accompany the Emperor to St. Petersburg, where M. de Giers will formally present a proposal for a nominal Russian protectorate in Bulgaria.

The Pan-Slavist party of Russia does not approve the Czar's rapproachement with Germany. A Warsaw paper, the acknowledged organ of Gen. Gourko, asserts that the National party, with whom the Czar must reckon, is determined to reap the fuled in the wars with Turkey.

The report of the doctors concerning the late Emperor Frederick's disease will be published this week. Each doctor is to give his individual opinion, dealing with the nature of the disease alone.

The Emperor in receiving the resignation of Gen. you Caprivi conferred upon him the Grand Cross of the Red Eagle and assigned him to the command of an army corps at the autumn managuvres. The Emperor appears to attach the greatest importance to these manouvres.

The South Pole expedition, planned several years ago by Dr. Neumeyer of the Marine Observatory of Hamburg, is likely to start in the spring. The Imperial Government has been asked to defray part of the expenses. Emperor William has made a favorable response, and has referred the question of the expedition to a committee of the Admiralty.

The Meaninger of response will accept the the United States on Sept. 1 on a four months' tour. They will take all the properties and scenery of the Meinengen Theatre. The material will be insured for Pitcher, the defaulting teller, have been received in London. Pitcher had mailed them to "J. A. His stealings aggregated $700,000.

HONEST BUT PREJUDICED.

Parnell's Friends Satisfied With His Denial

-Davitt Challenges the Government. LONDON, July 9. - The press on the Criconnell trial is not very instructive. The views expressed are on both sides partisan; honest no doubt, but prejudiced. All the Unionist papers consider a strong prima facie case against Mr. Parnell made out. All the Home Rule papers are confident that the letters on which the prima facie case rests are forged. Mr. Parnell's statement in the Commons convinces, so far as I can see, only those who were convinced before. His denials covered the whole ground. He spoke coldly and contemptuously, amid silence hardly broken except by Irish cheers. The Levi P. Morton was officially notified on Liberals observed in the House an attitude of reserve which they certainly do not in private or the Gladstonian press. Mr. Parnell's speech was the result of a conference with his English allies, who profess entire confidence in his innocence. The Times retorts upon him with twe long articles, and makes its points sharply enough. Mr. Parnell based his denial in part upon the theory that Mr. Egan's letter to Carey was admittedly found by the police in Carey's house, and the police evidence is worthless. No, says his accuser, that was not alleged and is not admitted. Mr. Parnell says that his "Dear E." letter about "making it hot for Forster," is alleged to be in the handwriting of his secretary, Mr. Campbell. It was not so alleged, answers The Times; the Attorney-General expressly said that he did not know whose handwriting it was. Mr. Parnell told the House that was a second he had been two days in court, ready to give evidence. "Yes," replies The Times, "you were there on a subpoena and would have to go to jail if you had not obeyed the summons of the court." "The signature of the fac-simile letter," says Mr. Parnell, " is one I had not used since 1879." "But you told the House last year" cries The Times, "that that signature was an audacious fabrication, containing only two letters which boreany resemblance to any letters in your own signature!" And The Times winds up with $2 bills. Three men were seen to jump from | think that in no other way can the issue be

> You may judge of the heat generated by this controversy from Mr. T. P. O'Connor's remarks. Nobody would think of calling Mr. O'Connor, to use an expression which this trial has made classical, mealy-mouthed, even in ordinary matters. He now observes that Sir Henry James told a deliberate falsehood in court in order to gain an advantage over his political opponents; that the Attorney-General, who is the head of the English bar, was guilty of a scandalous violation of all the decencies and of all the traditions of his profession; and that Mr. Walter, the proprietor of The Times, uses the Attorney-General is still Attorney-General and The Times comes out as usual.

The Daily News follows Mr. O'Connor's lead, and pronounces the charges against Mr. Parnell absurd and the documents produced in support of them mere rubbish. Them this zealous advocate discharges its whole armory of adjectives on Mr. Walter and the Attorney-General. It accuses the latter of using his position as a member of the Government to obtain official information for the purpose of his private practice, of bringing silly and infamous charges, and of making defamatory aspersions of the grossest kind, which he declined to support in any way, and concludes: "It is he, not Mr. Parnell, who stands upon his trial."

A Variety of Opinions,

LONDON, July 9. - The Pall Mall Gazette says the ministers obviously de not consider Mr. Parnell's denial as conclusive of his innocence. Their supporters declare the denial is false. The ministry, the papers say, must either expel Mr. Parnell from Parliament or dismiss Attorney-General Webster. No middle course is compatible with the honor and responsibility of the Government. The St. James Gazette calls Mr. Parnell's statement a flabby mixture of denial, inaccuracy, inconsistency, misrepresentation and mendacity. The Star, O'Connor's paper, rejoices over the fact that Mr. Parnell will not fall into The Times' trap and subject himself to At-
