HIS LIFE SAVING-RECORD.

He Was Born in Portugal and Has Lived a Life of Marvelous Adventure, Full of Hairbreadth Escapes-His Remarkable Record.

Floating down the Mississippi river from. Alton to St. Louis, with his feet tied and hands bound behind him, was a wonderful feat, but Capt. Jack Williams did it recently. Williams is a Portuguese, having been born in Oporto, Portugal, thirty-eight years ago. His love for the water got him into as many so apes as it did other people out of them, or his mother had a strong arm and wanted ack to go to school. She criticised him so ING - AND - PAPERING Preverely at one time for leaving his books to leave his bed for a week. Finally the and when he was 9 years old could reef sail and steer, with the best of them. It is said that his mother became quite reconciled to her son's wayward course only when he fished her own father out of the ocean and restored the old gentleman to life and the fishing smack with the aid of an oar. Jack had previously developed a great penchant for saving lives, having one time galdevouring five kittens

CAPT. JACK WILLIAMS. whom he had but the moment before cast into it at his mother's request. His next adventure was a tussle mad dog, in which he, for a decidedly second best. This came near ending Jack's adventures, but it didn't, and he once more showed that he was an undutiful son by running away and shipping as a cabin boy on a bark which sailed to Brazil. When he was 14 years old he saved five persons from a schooner stuck on the reefs of Paraguay, and received $500 reward from the government. He was afterward wrecked off Savannah, Ga. He was picked up while floating around on a spar, and after he was released from the hospital became a pilot in Savannah harbor, where he was made a captain. He afterward engaged in the slave trade and got caught. He was shipped to Bombay, where he escaped by swimming to an English ship, on which he started to Eng-

The ship was wrecked in the Bay of Biscay, and Williams and three companions started to swim to the shore, thirty miles away. Williams did it, the others were drowned. He finally managed to get to England. Then began his career as a racer. He soon defeated all the English swimmers of note, and finally came to this side in search of new conquests. He found them, among them being J. Gerdon, the Irish champion. He swam innumer able races in Canada and this country, finally beating Capt. Mathias Webb on Sept. 19, 1882, at Montreal, for the championship of the world and a purse of $500. He says he doesn't know just how many people he has rescued | trance fees. from drowning, but he has taught 519 how to

Thought It Served Him Right. Some time ago, it is said, Judge Brace, who had never witnessed a game of baseball, went over to Mexico to witness a game between two amateur nines. The game progressed for a time without incident, the judge remaining a grave but deeply interested spectator, with an occasional reproachful glance at the umpire, till a wild ball chanced to strike the umpire in the stomach, when, bursting out in a wild laugh, while clapping his hands, the judge cried out: "Goody, goody, goody. That fellow has been putting in his jib and standing in the way ever since the game commenced, but I guess he'll subside now." A friend kindly explained that it was the business of the poor fellow to stand in the way and put his "jib" in, and the judge was so crestfallen that he has never attended a ball game since. -Salisbury Press Spectator.

Dave Orr. The American association figures for 1883 place the name of Dave Orr, Brooklyn's handsome first baseman, tenth on the batting list. As 1883 was Orr's first year as a professional player, this is a remarkable record. When Orr was playing with the Alaskas and Quicksteps-two half amateur, half professional New York city nines-he was known to be a very hard hitter, but it was not until September, 1883, after he had left the Newarks and signed with the Metropolitans, that he did anything phenomenal. In that month during a game with the Columbus, O., club, Orr made one twobase hit, two threebase hits and two home runs. Orr was not satisfied with breaking the record in so prosaic

DAVE ORR. a manner however, and on May 22, 1884, he astonished an audience at Metropolitan Park, New York, by knocking a sky scraper that soared grandly over the fence and finally dropped into the East river. From that time on Orr's reputation was established. He had done what no other man had ever accomplished, and that in his second season as a professional.

Some Old Timors. There are some old timers doing good service on the diamond yet. George Strief, of the Clevelands, Athletics and Browns of past seasons, is captaining the Toledos; Mike West, late of Cincinnati; Fred Mann, of last season's Clevelands and Athletics, and Munyan, of last season's Clevelands, are in Colum-So is Nick Handiboe, of the Pittsburgs of 1886.

Bob Lawshe, Cap Craig, Durell' Key and Will Turner arrived in Atlanta last night. These are four of the boys who did their level best to win the pennant for Atlanta in the State Baseball league. They did not intend to return to Atlanta just at this date, but the yellow fever and a sheriff with two big pistols are responsible for the change in their plans. A reporter for The Constitution met Bob Lawshe last night, and his story of their return trip is rather interesting. The boys left Atlanta about two weeks ago under contract to play ball with the Jacksonville club. They arrived in that city and played several games there, leaving that city on Monday last, going to Pensacola. At Pensalola they enlisted with the state troops and went to the encampment at Magnolia Beach. This was the best of the trip, in Lawshe's opinion, but it didn't last long. In answer to a reporter's question as to what caused him to leave the encampment, Lawshe said:

"Well, the yellow fever scare got started, and Pensacola quarantined against the encampment. That settled it, and we got orders to break camp on Thursday at 3 o'clock, and got a notice at the same time that a train would leave the beach at 4 o'clock." "That was pretty quick work, wasn't it?" "Yes, but we got on the train just the The train was watched closely, and stationed at the doors of every coach, and it was impossible to leave the train." "To what point had you bought tickets?" "All of us had tickets to Fernandina, but the conductor put us off the train a few miles from Callahan, and he would have put us off there, but the train was too closely

"What was his reason for putting you off the train?"

"I guess he was afraid to carry us any further, and he acted as though he was doing the proper thing. When he put us off we started to walk back toward Callahan, but we changed our minds very suddenly about

"What changed your intention of going to Callahaa!"

"We met a sheriff with two big pistols, and he pointed them right in our direction. There was a health officer along with him, but the pistols settled the matter. The sheriff told us that it was eight miles to one station, four to another, and sure death if we tried to go to Callahan. He said we could take our choice, and we did."

"How far did you walk after the sheriff had his interview with you?" "We were lucky after we got and from him, and while resting at a water tank a few miles from Callahan were picked up by an engineer, who said be would take chances on being discharged before he would leave us there. So we rode to within about a mile of Wayeross, and walked around the town in order to avoid the guard stationed on that side. We got to the depot and bought tickets to Jesup." "Did you have any trouble at that point?" "Our only trouble here was in keeping out of sight of the health officers till the train started, and then we were all right. But 1 don't think any of us will want any more Florida experience till they have a frost. It's worse than getting beaten at baseball, and I for one am glad to get back to Atlanta."-Atlanta Constitution.

TURF TALK.

All of the Saratoga bookmakers have made money. William Rıley, the Chicago penciler, was $30,000 ahead at the end of two

Buffalo cleared over $12,000, notwithstanding the fact that the owners of the horses were paid more than $10,000 in excess of en-Lizzie R., 2:2314, has been sold by Richard Hentschel to J. B. Miller for $1,500. The mare will go in the free for all classes in the local circuit and county fairs, and has been given to Lyman Redmond to handle.

"Pittsburg Phil" is reported, in a dispatch from littsburg, to be about $70,000 behind in his horse racing speculations this season. His luck has changed.

Princeps, now 18 years old, has three brood mares that there produced four 2:30 horses. No other horse has ever equaled this exhibit at this age. Princeps' mares, as a rule, have plenty of size, substance, bone, finish and clean, hard legs.

ROWING RIPPLES.

Jim Keenan will take Wallace Ross with him to California and will endeavor to match the "Blue Nose" against Peterson.

Peter Kemp, the present world's champion, and Ed Hanlan will row for the title and $5,000, on Sept. 28, at Sydney, N. S. W.

Henry Peterson, the Pacific coast sculling champion, has pested $500 with a challenge to row Wallace Ross for $1,000 a side at San Francisco next November.

It is probable that Teemer and Willie O'Connor will row on Sept. 29. That is the date Teemer wishes to race on, and O'Connor will probably agree. They will row on some lake in the upper part of this state, probably at Saratoga. Stamboul's Great Performance.

Prominent among the notable performances of trotters this season is that of Stamboul in the free for all trot against Arab at the Los Angeles meeting on Aug. 8. Stamboul defeated the pride of Hickok's string in three straight heats, but each heat was a race from wire to wire. The first heat was won by a length, in 2:15, the second by four open lengths, in 2:171, and the third by a length fractional time in 2:15 heat, by quarters, is: First second, 311; third, Stamboul is a bay stallion, 6 years old, by Sultan, out of Fleetwing, by Hambletonian. Stamboul made a record of 2:37 as a 2-year-old, lowering it to 2:2614 the following year; two years later he trotted in 2:1714, and now as a 6-year-old he is credited with 2:15. Truly a grand record after an active season in the stud.

To Go to Australia. After the baseball season has ended this fall A. G. Spalding and Leigh Lynch will send two teams of ball players to Australia, one team to be under the management of Capt. Anson, and the other to be taken charge of by John M. Ward, of the New York club, Mr. Ward will no doubt put some of his fdeas into practice, and the outcome of his management will be watched with interest. With evenly matched teams Ward and Anson should make a fine fight for victories. The players who have already signed are Anson, Baldwin, Burns, Pfeffer, Williamson, Daly, Pettit, Sullivan and Flint, of the Chicagos; Ward and Tiernan, of New York; Fogarty, of F niladelphia; Hanlon, of Detroit, and Carroll, of Pittsburg. Billy Sunday is giving the scheme a favorable consideration, but has not yet decided to go. Negotiations are also pending with Comiskey and Carruthers and some others of the League and Association stars.-New York

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS-If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache relief from pain and anguish to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorating the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne date Army Medical Staff) to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered. CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis and Asth

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhosa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dy Palpitation and CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hyst

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache From Symnes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5, 1880. To J. T. Menngitis, &c. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir, -We embrace this opportanity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy tha their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Brownes Chlorodyne in Diarrhosa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramp , Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. even in the more terrible forn s of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we oweto the profession and the public, as we are of the opinion that the substitution of of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST, TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharmacy Society of Great Britain. CAUTION-Vice Chancellor Sir Page Wood stated that Dr. J.
