La Minerve has been in bad luck lately. It denied that Hon. Mr. Starnes was going to support the Mercier government and in a manner so offensive that Mr. Starnes came out with the statement that he did not be lieve in factiously opposing any governmen, and that when Mr. Mercier did well he wa. entitled to support. Somebody at the La Minerve is not all pleased, and will not go off soon at another time.

Mr. Nutting, of New York, not so long since discovered that the Canadian people were about to commence naval operations at Kingston, to construct war vessels for attacks upon the American marine. Now he has reached the conclusion that Great Britain owes the United States $600,000 for through the Welland canal, all of which shows that Mr. Nutting is a man of wonderful imaginative power. Congress will never want for a question while he remains in it.

"Among American women," says a contemporary, "there is more drinking now than there was twenty-five years ago. That is a fact of which every observant man who can compare the two period receives abundant evidence." This does not point unequivocally to the progress of the temperance reform. The women drifting from it is a very bad sign. Upon them depend the inspiration and labour involved in all successful moral reformations. The white ribbon army wants extension.

Andrew Carnegie, the American ironminer and worker, is leaving Scotland where he owns a great estate, to come to America and take a hand in the election campaign He is anxious to testify to the benefits of protection. It has enabled him to secure an income estimated at $4,120.85 a day, and the largest his workmen secure is $1.50 a day. It will be difficult to prove that in the deal capital and labour are equally fa-

More retaliation! The business men the frontier American towns and cities some time since decided not to accept Canadian silver at all, if possible, and certainly not at par. Now the post master of Welland has been notified by the post-master general not to accept American silver, and it is thought the same order will be sent to the Canadian post-masters all along the frontier. The St. Catharines Journal objects because of the scarcity of Canadian silver. And whose fault is that? Does it not pay the government to limit its silver coin? What's the sense of making Canadians defendants in this matter?

The result of the Maine election is a boom to the republican cause. Mr. Blaine is credited with exercising an increased influence in the state. Henry George must be flattered by the ferences of President Cleveland to the benefit of single tax. He points out that as long as the revenue is raised by customs duties on imported goods a corresponding increase in the price of domestic goods permitted, and the effect is a form of taxa tion, as certain and as inevitable as though the amount was annually paid into the hand of the tax-gather, which contributes many millions of dollars to the manufacturer for every million which is contributed to the treasury. The president points out that if all this unnecessarily heavy taxation was directly assessed upon land, or directly levied upon the people, they would not bear it for a moment. And he is right. It is amazing how indifferent some people are to an imposition which they cannot see. He is a rare individual who can estimate what amount of taxation he is called upon to pay to the state. If the could readily grasp the idea the so-called popular govern-

agriculture, with a view to their removal. He recommended that first prize be given to Prof. Thomas Shaw, Hamilton, and second to F. J. Sleightholm, Hanover. The reports were adopted.

The following is a list of the prize-winners in the prize farm competition : Gold medal-James Fisher, Hyde Park, Middlesex county. First silver medal-McDonald Bros., East

Zorra, Oxford county. Second silver medal-R. Gibson, Delaware, Middlesex county. First bronze medal-Robert Auld, Warwick, I ambton. Second brouze medal-R. and J. Nicholson, West Williams, Middlesex. The judges recommended that as the competition between R. Gibson and Green Brothers, was very close, and deeming the Green Brothers worthy of consideration at the hands of the board, they be awarded a silver medal. The results of the second-class agricultural examinations are as follows :

First prize, $25-J. A. Craig, Russell. -Second prize, $20 -George Harcourt, tells collected on American cereals passing Smithville; 78 per cent.

Third prize, $15-Mr. Creelman; 75 per

Fourth prize, $25-S. A. Lindmann, Bin brook; 73 per cent. B. Eaton Patterson, Guelph, received 71 cent. and W. Budd, Simcoe, 52 per

The foregoing attended the Ontario agricultural college. Lindmann, Binbrook, received second prize ($25) in the competition among those who had not attended college. In the third class competition J.A. Sleightholm, of Hunter, won the first prize, $25.

Advice That is Valuable.

Hon. Mr. Drury, minister of agriculture, pointed out that there would be great difficulty after next year in finding a place suitable for the holding of such a large show as the provincial. It was true there were seven or eight places bidding for the show, but the these places were large enough to accomodate asked them to consider if their was a place outside of the leading cities of the province, which would warrant them in giving a prize list amounting to $18,000 or $20,000, and would maintain the reputation of the show so that it might be continued. The result, he thought, of the show being held in small places, would be that they would not get sufficient visitors from time; to time, and there would be a deficit in their finances. He explained that the provincial show had done grand work in the past, and he would like to see it the leading show of the province, and under the direct contro' of farmers or of men who would be responsible to farmers for its success. The object of the show should be a higher one than that of bringing money into any particular locality. The shows being held in the cities of London and Toronto were not carried on for the general benefit of the farming community, but ostensibly for bringing money to those places. He would like to see the show maintained, and he hoped they would make an effort to pay off the $7,000 mortgage on property in Toronto, owned by the association. In order to get the government to renew its grant to the provincial show, they should bring pressure to bear on the members of the local legislature. If they urged this matter in the house he would not oppose it. Mr. Rykert, member for Lincoln, said he thought the government of Ontario should bring down a grant at the opening of its session for the provincial show. The grant could not be refused for he did not think that any member in the house dare oppose it. He could not see why the government had been induced to drop the appropriation for he was sure if the farmers of Ontario were polled on the question they would unanimously be in favour of continuing the grant. None of the shows being held in Canada could produce as good results as the provincial. Hereferred to the fact that they had suffered greatly while holding the show in Kingston because of bad weather. Since 1849 they had never held the show in the city when they had fair weather with the exception of the present occasion. He thought they should push their claim for continuance of a grant from the local legisment. He was highly delighted with the success of the show in Kingston this year. The city had done nobly.

The meeting adjourned at 10 o'c lock.

PRESIDENT MORGAN.

A Brief Sketch of the Gental Gentleman-Active in Public Affairs.

Tra Morgan, president of the Agriculture and Arts association, is a genial gentleman. about sixty years of age, a widower, and a retired resident of Metcalte village, Osgoode township, near Ottawa. This is his second term in office with the provincial association. In 1876 he was its president, and represented it at the centennial exposition in Philadelphia. His services were so much appreciated that he was presented with a gold watch, suitably inscribed. Mr. Morgan still carries the timepiece. He has been a member of the council of the association for twenty-one years successively, representing the O.tawa district. He is also a member of the Ontario creameries association. He has taken great interest in municipal affairs. and has sat at the county council board of Carleton for thirty-four years. He was warden of the county for nine years, with eight successive terms. He has a family of three. having been but recently bereaved. He has just returned from a journey to the North-West and British Columbia.
