SWALLOWED BY A GEYSER.

An English Tourist And His Guide Have a

Most Thrilling Muventuve. BISMARCK, D. T., Nov. 29 .- A report of thrilling accident or attempted suicide comes from the national park, where, it is claimed, a driver and a tourist were engulf ed in a geyser. It appears that the tourist, whose name is given as John McDonald, of London, England, insisted on going close to the Excelsior, whose eruptions have been irregular of late, and upon looking into the crater of the immense geyser. The driver, who was also acting as a guide, followed him to the bank to guard against accident. Just as the Englishman leaned over the verge of the crater the geyser broke forth with terrific force, the suction drawing him and the driver into it and hurled them back into the air many feet. Excelsior gevser over three hundred feet wide at the crater and throws out the greatest volume of water of any geyser in the park. Fortunately for the men they were caught in the strongest current of the up-shooting stream, or they would have been swallowed in the unknown depths of boiling water. As it is they were severely scalded and there are grave doubts of their recovery. Some believe that Mc-Donald intended to commit suicide. This is the second accident of this character in the park, and while there is not the slightest danger to those who are satisfied with seeing and not investigating it is understood that congress will be asked to appropriate money for the building of protective walls about these curiosities.

COWHIDED IN CHURCH.

The Minister Descends From the Pulpit

But Couldn't Stop the Rew. SEATTLE, W.T., Nov. 29.-The little town of Tumwater, south of Olympia, is in a fever of excitement over an incident which occurred in the Methodist church. Bad blood had existed between G. W. Manville and Fred. Ward of that place. Mr. Ward was in church, and when the minister was in the midst of his sermon Mr. Manville strolled up the aisle until he came to the pew in which Ward was sitting, when he unceremoniously grabbed him by the coat collar, dragged him into the aisle, drew from his pocket a rawhide, and began to wield it lustily on the back of his victim. The minister rushed from his pulpit and ordered Manville from the church, but the irate man turned upon the minister and ordered him to be quiet or suffer the same punishment. He completed his cowhiding process, and when he had thoroughly tired himself departed, leaving behind him a be wildered congregation. He was arrested and brought to Olympia, where he was fined $5 for assault and $5 for disturbing a public meeting.

FEVER SCARE IN NEW YORK. A Case That Causes Alarm-And It Came Direct From Jacksonville.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. - Another case of yellow fever was reported last night. Raphael Delano, who arrived yesterday from Jackson ville with his wife and two children, and was taken sick soon after his arrival. He was removed to the reception hospital. Delano told the doctor that he had been in Jacksonville during the epidemic and had nursed several patients, but had never caught it himself. As the man and his family went to the densely populated Italian quarter fears are entertained that the germs may have spread.

Couldn't Sustain the Charge.

Yesterday J. Fisher, brewer at Ports. mouth, where the Scott act is in force, was tried at Cataraqui by Squire McKim on a charge of having sold a keg of beer to W. Holland, a resident of the village. Inspector Dawson could not sustain the charge, and the case was dismissed. T. L. Snook was counsel for defendant.

Escape of an Alleged Forger.

PETERBORO, Nov. 29. - Irwine Roraback was to have come up for preliminary trial at Norwood for forging the name of Robert H. Gardner, of Dummer, so a mortgage for $2,000, but Constable, Hill, seeing that the cells were unfit for occupation, took his prisoner to his own house, from which he escaped.

BARNETT, THE RUNAWAY CENTRAL BANK MAN. IN A TIGHT BOX.

Sent Back to Toronto From England-The Did Not Calculate Upon-His Arrest May Affect Baxter, the Montreal Bro-

Toronto, Nov. 29. - Roland Gidson Israe Barnett will soon be on the high seas, his destination being Toronto. Chief of Police Grassett received this cable message from London, Eng. :

LONDON, 28th Nov. Chief Constable, -- By Fugitive Offenders act prisoner must be surrendered within thirty days after committal. Time expires 6th Dec. Officer must be sent from here. He will leave to-morrow.

COMMISSIONER OF POLICE. Barnets made a bard fight in England to regain his liberty, but the papers had been so carefully prepared by the county crown attorney that there was not a loop hole of escape, and on the 6th of November he was formally committed for trial, an order tantamount to his extradition. The procedure in the case was the tugitive offenders' act, imperial statutes of 1880, affecting the return of fugitives from one part of the The procedure British empire to another. is similar to the extradition law, and Barnett's is the first case that has occurred between England and any of her colonies. The prisoner had fifteen days after his committal in which to appeal to a superior court for a habeas corpus, but the time has expired and he has made no such appeal, being evidently convinced that he would have to come to loronto sooner or later.

Barnett will be prosecuted on two different charges, one of having defrauded one Bunbury out of $204, and the other with having defrauded the Central bank out of two deposit receipts for $5,000 each. Be fore Barnett is asked to plead to the information a warrant will be issued for the apprehension of James Baxter.

Baxter's lawyer says Barnett's extradition does not in any way affect Baxter, who, if guaranteed the protection of the court, would come to Toronto at any time to give evidence.

A SAD TRAGICAL AFFAIR.

Both Operator And Victim Dying-The Shock is Hard on Dr. Valentine.

TOBONTO, Nov. 29. - When Dr. John Valentine was removed from his residence to the gaol he was very ill. He had been drinking hard and was slowly recovering from an attack of delirium tremens. He nothing more nor less than a maniac. The shock produced by his arrest on such a terrible charge has been so great as to leave him prostrate both mentally and physically. He was unable to recognize his most intimate friend and was so violent that he had to be strapped to his bed. Lily Charlton made a statement to the authorities which discloses the whole story.

TORONTO, Nov. 29 .- The girl Lily Charlton is yet living, but very low and apparently beyond recovery.

A Noted Paris Hunchback.

The boulevards have lost a well known type. Bosco, the hunchback, has been found dead in his room. Le was by profession a bootblack, and sometimes a commissioner at the doors of the Maison d'Or and Cafe Riche restaurants. On the night of "premieres" he was to be seen before the Theatre des Varietes. His hunch was a talisman in which many believed. There are hundreds of an ecdotes running about him-one dating back more than twenty years. One night Anna Delion, the greatest demi-mondaine of her time, and one of her triends dined in comming with a set of gav viveurs at the Marson d'Or About bocockeAnna Delion's and sent Boses away with the commission buy for her two to kets of the Credit Foncar, whose drawing was to come off on the next morain: When handed over to her she took care to rub the two tickets on Bosco's hump. The drawing was held, and Auma's friend were a purse of 50,000 francs. Bosco was were rewarded and got drunk for a whole week. -Paris Cor. Pittsburg out in his cornfield a few days ago, when he saw a half grown cat squirrel coming toward him. He picked up a small pine limb, his hist thought being to kill it, but knowing I that he could outrun the little animal, he dropped the limband got roady for the race. However, the race did not come off, as the squerrel came right straight to him, and not being driven away, jumped upon the stranger as though he had been an old friend, and ran and played amout him in quite a familiar manner. Mr. J.son was greatly surprised at the action of the squirrel. However, he carried him home and put him in a box. After keeping Lim in confinement for a day he decided to turn him out and let him go back to the forest. When liberated the little fellow went out in the pard and played among the branches of the trees, and when tired of this sport returned to the house as naturally as the agh he had been raised there. hr. Johnson bus the squirrel, though he is unable to account for its being so gentle. He says he is acquainted in the neighborhood, and, does not hand of a pet squirrel that could have e-cared. -Chicago Herald.

Burnt to a Crisp.

St. Thomas, Nov. 29. -Stephen Shelly, a farmer who lived a few miles from this city was burnt to death in his last night. When dicovered the body was burned to a crisp. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the upsetting of a lamp. Shelly claimed to be a r lative of Lord Randolph Churchill and for years had been telling his neighbors he expected a fortune of £20,000 from England.

High limes in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Nov. 29. - During the storm pedestrians were knocked of their legs like ten pins. A hearse was blown over at St. Sauveur and the coffin spilled on the street. Fences, loose signs, chimneys, double windows, outside doors, telegraph and telephone poles, suffered considerably.

A cousin of Lingg, the anarchist, says he can make a clock work which will run forty-two hours and then explode a bomb, which will split the largest ship from end to end. When it comes to working a week for $12 and keeping sober on Sunday he cannot possibly do it.

Don't miss it, St. Andrew's society concert to-night. Excellent programme.

ARIZONA EDITORIAL WORK.

the Arisona Ricker-Detroit Free Press.

Fugitive Offenders' Act Something He periment, and to help out a literary tenderfoot from the east, who was bare-footed and enniless, but who was fertile of sugges tions. The experiment was a failure. The aforesaid I. t. f. was drunk most of the time, and when sober he didn't know a cactus from a wild lemon. The most valuable suggestion made by him was that the farmers Arizona drink less oats and sow more whiskey. We have bidden the tenderfoot a permanent and lasting adjeu, and we now bid farewell to agriculture as a set thing. shall occasionally refer to the subject in reckless, off hand way, taking chances on results, but there will be no further studied. attempt to make the sandy plains get up and hump themselves into fields of waving corn, and we shan't cover the rocky hillsides hereabout with vineyards or patches of deceptive buck wheat. Good-bye, tender foot-good-bye, agriculture

We warn those meddlesome citizens who are charging us with political treachery to go easy. It is true that the Kicker has been democratic at times, and that we have occasionally had a good word for the republican ticket, and that we have at intervals seemed to be red-hot for prohibition, but we were sort of feeling around to see what kind of a paper our subscribers preferred. We didn't propose to break ourselves in two in the first six months by getting left. We had a democratic and a republican rooster ready for the election returns, and we didn't care a cent which way the old kangaroo jumped. We shall now be a little more republican than democratic, as we want the county printing, but whenever we say any thing distasteful to the democracy we will, as soon as the matter is called to our aftention, turn about and give Harrison a "wipe" in the next issue. We shall be independent in nothing and neutral in lots of things hoping that the democrats will get there next time, and advising the republicans to hang on if it takes a rib. We are heavy on the political principles of our forefathers, but we have run our circulation up to 168 copies, and we don't propose to hit any of our subscribers between the eyes to tickle any partisan. We warn contributors that we cannot return rejected manuscripts. If not accompanied by stamps we use them to light the office fire. If stamps are sent we use them on our business letters. If the author of "Seven Buckets of Blood or the Cork-Screw's Revenge" will send her address to this office she will hear of something to her advantage. We have received a sketch entitled: "Bobtail Bob, or the Bobbers of Bobber's Hill," which we will publish on receipt of the author's check for $40. We must respectfully decline the stories entitled. "Her Father Booted Me," and "An Adventure with Indians in France." They seem to have an immoral tone.

Contributors should always send in their right names, not for publication, but in order that none of our thousand checks shail go to the wrong person.

Since our last issue Col. Fairbanks has had three rods of beautiful picket fence erected in front of his abode, and the Gem saloon has received three barrels of whiskey and a new pier glass. We chronicle these improvements in no boastful spirit, but simply that outsiders may know that the spirit of progress is not dead within us. We are going right to the front as a town.

We regret to learn that Major Jackson, one of the pioneer residents of our little city, kicked at his dog last Saturday and drove his big toe back into his heel by hitting the corner stone of the new Masonic temple. The major was our second subscriber, and he never meets us without asking us to drink. We sympathize with him in his dark hour of trial, and trust that he may soon reappear among us. Should his condition become critical we shall issue daily bulletins from this office.

A correspondent wishes us to explain the meaning of the term : "From Alpha to Omega." We shan't do it. We have had politics enough for one season, and propose to let up on the machine. We never heard of Alpha, anyhow, and as for old Omega, may he be durned !

Accident to the Famous Trotter.

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 29,-J. I. Case, speak. Mr. Julius Johnson, of Dawson, Ga., was ing of the accident to Jay-Eye-See, said "The gelding is still very weak, but unless the artery, which was almost severed, breaks again he will recover and I am confident that his speed will not be lessened by the accident. If the artery breaks again, however, he will doubtless die." Local horsemen say there is danger of the gelding becoming blind through the excessive loss of A Very Sensible Suggestion.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29. - Theswitchmen's strike has assumed a new and threatening phase. Last night a secret conference was held with the engineers and fireman, at which it was decided to send a committee, composed of a member from the three brotherhoods to wait upon the officers of the various roads and request them to submit the matter to arbitration.

Death of "Spotted Feather."

PORT ELGIN, Ont., Nov. 29 .- The well known Kadahgegnon, "Spotted Feather," chief of the Sajnon band of Ojibeway Indians, is dead, aged 83. He received valuable silver medal from George III. for conspicuous loyalty to the British crown in 1812. He also received a medal from the Prince of Wales when the latter visited Canada in 1860.

Greenshields' Will.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29 .- The will of the late Samuel Greenshields has been probated. The real and personal estate is estimated at a quarter of a million. He leaves $5,000 to the Mcntreal general hospital, $5,000 to wife, and handsome bequests to the employees of the tirm.

The Jury Failed To Agree.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 .- The jury in thetrial of George Kelly, for killing Charles P. Mc-Laughlin, after being out five hours, failed to agree last night, and were discharged. McLaughlin's death resulted from a blow from a base ball bat in the course of quarrel.

Killed by an Explosion. LONDON, Nov. 29.—Eleven persons were killed and 175 injured by the explosion of a boiler at Kineschma, Central Russia, yes-

THIS IS THE VOTING DAY.

THE ELECTORS DEPOSITING THEIR BALLOTS IN QUIET FASHION.

Peculiar Law-The Yote Required to Make the By-aws Legal-Plenty of Work.

The railway meeting of last night is the topic of conversation to-day.

The results of the vote will be bulletined at the WHIG office after 5 o clock. The Rathbun company carried 180,000 ties from Kingston to Oswego this season and only 2,000 from Deseronto.

Dr. Cook, mayor of Napanee, will not be a candidate for office next year. Mr. Shibley said he would be, and that his interview with a WHIG reporter was for a purpose. The polls opened at @ c'clock with a fine delegation of workers promoting the schemes. The opposition is weak handed. During the morning the votes came in slowly, and but few were from opponents to the by-laws.

Last night Robert Shaw called Mr. Allen by name and said he shouted because he was working for his employers. Captain Allen challenged the remark, and, though there was no other Allen about the place indicated Mr. Shaw declared the reference was not to him.

It was developed to day that if a property holder, whose name is on the list, should seli his property he cannot vote, neither can the purchas his name is not on the list. A number of men, who, within the past six months, have sold property were challenged at the booths and refused ballets. In this way considerable property was disfranchised. If the railway by laws are supported by over 700 electors they will be carried tonight. In the first place two fifths of the entire vote must assent to the by laws, and there must be a majority also. If 699 vote for the by-laws and 20 against them the measures are defeated, but if 701 vote for the by-laws and 20 against the measures are

At one e'clock a canvass of the polls was made and it was found that the following number of votes had been cast . Frontenac ward, 115; St. Lawrence ward, 50; Ontario ward, 50; Cataraqui ward, 100; Sydenham ward, 95; Rideau ward, 125; Victoria, 80. This gave a total of 615. Of this number it was calculated that 125 had voted against the Napanee and Tamworth railway by law. There was not nearly the excitement in Ridean ward that was expected. The small property holders did not oppose the measures in great numbers.

This morning at the poll in Sydenham ward Fred H. Folger, who wanted to deposit his ballot, was challenged by Michael Foley, scrutinger for the opposition, who said he was an American citizen. Mr. Folger said he intended to vote, that Mr. Foley's advisers were improperly informed. Mr. Foley insisted, but finally Mr. Folger remarked that there was not a more loyal subject of her majesty than himself in the room. He had in his possession a commission from her majesty's government, and in it was an oath of allegiance which he had taken. His vote was taken without further

Nearly all the cabs in the city were utilized to day in carrying voters to the polls. The excitement was equal to that of a firstclass political fight. During the first three hours a fair representation of the voters appeared at the booths, but it was not until noon that there was any big demand for ballots. Men, who it was generally supposed would vote against the by laws, cast their ballots in the right way, while some prominent men, generally considered intelligent and far-seeing, showed an antagonism to railways that was most unexpected. By 1 o'clock over 600 votes had been cast and about a quarter of them were in opposition.

A HOP IN THE HALL.

The Kingston and Pembroke Railway Employees Dancing to Fine Music.

Although there were only about sixty five couples present at the eleventh annual ball of the employees of the Kingston & Pembroke, held in the city hall last evening, the event was recognized as a thorough success, for the reason that the majority of the attendants were residents of the city and by their dress and actions gave it the tone of a genuine ball. A great deal of pains had been taken in the decoration of the hall, which presented a pretty sight when the rays of gas light from the large chandeliers reflected down upon the different colored bunting that was draped from the ceiling to the walls. Evergreen mottoes and lanterns, with a mixture of colored globes, hung in the centre of each window. A locomotive headlight stood at one end of the hall, and immediately behind this on the platform sat the orchestra, containing seven pieces, under the leadership of Fred. Crosby. The music imparted was of an excellent quality and gave the utmost satisfaction to the terpsichorean artists. The best item on the programme was the supper that was anp plied in the Ontario hall at midnight. When it is known that Tim Doolan, the popular proprietor of the Collendar hotel, was the caterer it is almost unnecessary to tell of the quality of the edibles supplied. The best of everything in season was on the pill of fare, and when an order was taken it was promptly filled. There was quantity and those who sat down to appease their appetites had no difficulty in doing so. The tables were very neatly arranged. Tim added laurels to his reputation, as every one, on returning to the ball room, praised and commented on the rich supper which they had received. The question, "Who is belle of the ball ?" was freely asked, but as usual there were differences of opinion, There were many young ladies prettily attired and showing splendid taste in the arrangement of their dresses.

Lord Sackville's Will.

LONDON, Nov. 29 .- The will of the late Lord Sackville, leaving his property to the McGill university, $1,000 to St. Paul's | queen's maids of honour, is disputed on the church, an annuity of $6,000 a year to his ground of the alleged imbecility of the testator. A number of leading men of the bar have been detained, and some curious family revelations are expected.

Make a Note of This.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains.
