HEALY HATES HASTINESS.

His Amendments to the Land Purchase Bill Accepted.

LONDON, Nov. 29. - In the House of Commons last evening Mr. Balfour said that Edward Harrington would not be arrested under the pending warrant against him during the debate on the Irish estimates.

Mr. Smith announced the withdrawal of the Tax Bill.

The debate on the Irish Land Purchase Bill was resumed and Mr. Mahony (Nat.) moved the insertion in the bill of a new clause to the effect that the Land Commission shall take as security for the payment by tenants of their instalments the improvements executed by the tenant or his predecessor on his title.

Mr. Balfour opposed the motion on the ground that it would introduce great confusion, and also because it was against the interests of the purchasing tenant.

The motion was rejected. Mr. Smith, the Government leader, appealed to the House to assist in closing the discussion on the bill. The Government, he said, was desirous of meeting the Opposition as far as possible and would accept the series of amendments proposed by Mr. Healy relating to subletting to laborers and also the provision that the Land Commission shall not sanction an advance of money to a tenant unless they are certain that the application of the tenant was not made under duress. The Government also intended to promote the bill dealing with the registration of titles.

Mr. Morley and Mr. Shaw-Lefevre both expressed themselves satisfied with these concessions and Mr. Smith thereupon moved that the bill be read a third time. Mr. Healy, however, objected on account of undue haste and the House adjourned.

Henry George on the Land Purchase Bill. London, Nov. 29. - Henry George, in a speech at Glasgow last evening, said that the feeling of the country was against buying out the Irish landlords, If it was good to use the national credit to enable country. men to buy their own land, why was it not good to use the national credit to enable townsmen to buy their house?

What "Rosster" Means.

LONDON, Nov. 29 .- Several witnesses were examined before the Parnell Commission yesterday with reference to outrages in the Castle Island district, County Kerry. Maurice Kennedy, a farmer, reluctantly gave evidence regarding the proceedings of he local league of which he himself was a member. He had heard the word "roaster" used at meetings of the League but did not know its meaning. Mr. Shannon, a Dublin solicitor who is assisting The Times, testited that hennedy told him that the local league had a list of roasters hung up in the office. Roaster meant a turn spit for roasting or boycotting landlords. The people were forbidden to work for men whose names were on the list of roasters.

The Plan Failed.

European Disarmament Impracticable. Berlin, Nov. 29 .- In the Reichstag yesterday the debate on the budget was resumed and Herr Liebknecht (Radical) attacked the foreign policy of the Government and suggested that it ought to propose a general

European disarmament. Herr von Boetticher, Prussian Minister of State and Imperial Secretary of State for the Interior, declared that the suggestion was impracticable. Prince Bismarck, he said, had never provoked a conflict on the contrary he steadfastly sought peace. The rederal Governments were well aware that the social legislation of past years has not emoved all evils, but they would have been held forgetful of duty if they had done noth ing. Their endeavors had been to remedy the evils singly. The Government cast back upon the Socialist party the charge of pursuing a policy of aggravation. It was the desire of the Government to reconcile antagonism and promote the welfare of all "That whereas the Conference special committee has allotted to this district the sum of $2485 to be raised for the federation scheme, it is the opinion of this convention that the amount is out of all proportion to the financial ability of the district, and while we fully accord to the Secretary Education the right under General Confer ence authority to collect by personal sui)scriptions throughout the district for the federation scheme, we do not feel as a district that our present financial circumstances and the attitude of our people generally towards the movement would justify us in accepting the allotment laid upon the dis-

One supposition is that it was stolen and smuggled over the line.

Indians Killing Cattle. FORT McLEOD, Man., Nov. 29.-There is considerable complaint among the stockmen of the Little Bow district about prowling bands of Indians that frequent that part of the country. It is absolutely certain that these Indians are killing cattle, more particularly young calves. They get permits to go down there for game. Those who know the country say they cannot get enough to keep them alive, and that their real object is to kill cattle. Any action that Commissioner Herchmer can take to protect the cattle on these isolated ranges will be much appreciated by the cattlemen.

FORBIJDEN.

Fifever Eagal Surgean .- Merious News from Sunkim-Emperer William's lifuces-The Queenstown Lovernorship.

Lok nos. Nov. 23 .- Prince Louis Ferdil'az of Spain, is a very clever surgeon, and in one of the hospitats at Madrid recently operated on a woman suffering from cancer relative, Duke Charles Theodore, of Bayaria, the brother of the Empress of Austria, & both an oculist and a surgeon, and very skifful. But his fondaces for the knife is not appreciated at the Vienna and Munich hospitals, for whenever he operates all regular arrangements are upset, and the whole staff is required to be in attendance on him. He must always be respectfully addressed as "Your Royal Highness," and strict etiquette is observed, all of which is decidedly a nuisance. When the Duke is at Vienna he often passes his whole day at the general hospital, and i any arms or legs are to be cut he hastens joyfully to the work.

King Milan, wassexxxxxexxteller sheet we money and whose credit is utterly exhausted, has been obliged by the emperors of Russia and Austria to relinquish the plan which he had furmed for retilling his coffers by establishing public gaming tables at Belgrade. As the wealthy nobles of Hungary, Austria and Russia would inevitably have become the earliest victims of his Servian majesty's roule: te and rouge et noir tables, the two emperors have peremptori y forbidden the enterprise.

News from Snakim increases in seriousness. It is admitted that the present garrison is unable to drive off the besieging force. Suakim itself cannot be taken, for the causeway by which it must be approached is commanded by British gunboats, but neither can the native entrenchments be carried, nor their fire silenced. There is talk of sending more British troops to Suakim, and questions are asked in the House of Commons, Mr. Stanhope said troops would certainly be sent if needed, but no more than were needed to dislodge the rebels.

Lord Randolph Churchill's advice to Lord Salisbury to appoint a successor to Lord Sackville forthwith has been declined with thanks, so Mr. Smith's answer to Mr. Gourley in the House of Commons was understood to signify. But there is some feeling on the matter, and some sound Tories interpret his answer as meaning no more than that Lord Salisbury has not yet made up his mind. Lord Randolph, I hear, considers it so important that unless something is done he will call the attention of the House to the subject. The House has really nothing to do with sending diplomatists abroad, and if Lord Randolph speaks it will be to put pressure on the Government indirectly. Many member of the House agree with him, and the Opposition may be trusted to back him up if he wishes to be disagreeable to the Prime Minister. There is outside the House very little interest in the matter.

The Duke of Marlboro's quarrel with the rector of Woodstock has drawn forth a letter from the rector. The Duke, he says, has not closed the schools and has no power -o close them. He has withdrawn his subscription, but it was only $50, not $500 as reported. He has forbidden the rector to give religious instruction in other schools, which seem to be under the duke's control. Finally he has withdrawn the rector's privilege of driving through Blenheim park. The rector, it must be said, put himself in the wrong originally by assuming to pronounce against the validity of the duke's recent marriage. Whether the duke could not afford to ignore this is a question which perhaps can only be answered in Wood-

The Duchess of Sutherland's death is sincerely regretted, but socially will have little effect in London, except that of putting a number of families into mourning. Stafford House has rarely been opened of late. The Duchess has for many years had not only the respect, but for reasons widely known, the deep sympathies of society. The duke's absence at such a moment, the circumstances of his journey and his companionship are commented upon with severity. The Queen's journey to London and visit to the family are a striking proof of her friendship for the late

There have been a ndry reports in court circles here of late that Emperor William is suffering from an acute attack of his chronic trouble, a swelling inside the ear, about which the do tors are much alarmed. It keeps him awake almost continually, pation for relief. His odd way of turning up at sunrise drills, and his strange activity in rushing from one fun :tion to another all day, are thus accounted for. On Sunday one of the people best informed in England on inner Berlin news told me that he had become worse during the last few days and it is announced that owing to a cold he will remain indoors during the rest of the week. If the car malaly should take a serious turn there would be immense excitement all over

There is a rumor in the lobbies that Lord Balfour of Burleigh is to be Governor of Queensland, in place of Sir Henry Arthur Blake, who will be forced to resign in the face of the Irish protest.

CUT HIS THROAT.

A Letter to Two Witnesses in flis Pocket-Watter Strong Will Not Die.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. -George Strong, 47 years old, a waiter by occupation and an Englishman by birth, tried to kill himself at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by cutting his throat with a razor at his lodging house, 54 New Chambers street. Thomas Cassidy and Charles Broad, who lived in the house, and Thomas Corman of 18 Cherry-street told the Oak street police that they were all in Strong's room when Strong caught up. a razor, the blade of which was 'tied to the handle by a string, and drew it across his throat. After notifying the police they found the following note:

the place where it had stood they found a great eavity in the hillside, and just in front of this where the team had stopped with the load was another hole twenty feet square and ten deep. Not the slightest trace of Haggerty was found. About two hundred yards away a few small bits of horse flesh were picked up, but not another vestige of the team, driver or magazine re-

Haggerty lived at Hemlock and leaves a widow and six children. He was an experienced driver, and it is thought that rough roads caused the disaster, although another theory of the explosion is that in unloading the nitro-glycerine Haggerty dropped one of the cans.

A schoolhouse about a quarter of a mile from the magazine was completely wrecked and the dwelling house of a man named Gutshaw was shaken to pieces, and Mrs. Gutshaw, who was looking out of the window, was fatally injured by flying debris. Trees, rocks and earth were hurled in all directions. Luckily for the people of the village the magazine did not contain the usual amount of nitro glycerine.

WIDDEMER CHOOSES HIS WIFE.

Re Could not Keep Her and His Pasterate too, so He Threw up the Latter.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29. - By the terms of the sentence imposed upon the Rev. Howard T. Widdemer by Bishop Whitaker, the clergyman was practically obliged to choose between keeping his wife and remaining in the Protestant Episcopal Church. He has now decided to accept the former alternative, and on Friday last he sent the following letter to the Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania: "NEW YORK, Nov. 23, 1888.

"Right Rev. O. W. Whitaker: "I desire hereby to withdraw from all connection with the Protestant Episcopal thurch, in order that I may feel entirely free to continue the Lord's work in whatsoever direction his providence may seem to point. Please accept this letter as a final and absolute severance on my part of all relations with the above named church.

"Very tenly. HowARD T. WIDDEMER. The charge upon which Mr. Widdemer was found guilty by an ecclesiastical court and sentenced by the Bishop was the violation of the church canon upon marriage and divorce. It was shown that he had been divorced from his first wife in Hartford, Coun., on April 11, 1882, upon a charge of desertion, and that on Nov, 1 of the same year he married again, the first wife being then living.

The defence at her trial was insanity.

Indignation at Jacksonville, JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 29-Three new cases of yellow fever were reported here yesterday, no deaths. Grosse Isle quarantine station, is in the city. He says that the number of cases of infections disease dealt with at the quarantine station were about the same as last year The new regulations which went into operation in 1887 are working admirably and producing the most satisfactory results. Dr. Montizambert states that it is not uncommon for him to have yellow fever cases at Grosse Isle. Last August he believed some convalescent cases arrived at Grosse Laie. The patients were landed and kept in the hospital until well and the vessel was thorouguly fumigated. In regard to the scheme of building a landing at Grosse Isle on the plan of that at New Orleans for disinfecting clothes and bedding, Dr. Montizambert says be is still inquiring into the subject and he will very likely recommend that the New Orleans plan be not adopted and that the construction of the landing be put off for another year. He has studied the whole question in the United States and is convinced that it is possible to get some better system. A deputation representing the Dominion

Land Surveyor's Association had an interv.ew with the Minister of Interior yesterday with reference to geographical nomenclature in the Northwest.
