ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

Vice-Royalty and Beauty at the Toronto Pavition.

TORONTO, Dec. 1. - Could St. Andrew, the patron saint of Old Scotia, have taken a peep into the Pavilion at Horticultural Gardens last night he would have seen something that would interest him. There, beneath a canopy of flags and bright lights, surrounded by a profusion of desorations and pervaded by the perfume of flowers and exotics, the whole softened by tuneful music, between two and three hundred revelers whiled away the midnight hours. It was the annual ball of St. Andrew's Society, generally the public social event of the Last night's affair has been the talk of the town for a month past, bethe Governor-General had promised to attend in person and bring with him Lady Stanley of Preston and his entire court. His Excellency did, to the unbounded delight of President D. R. Wilkie and his brother officers and members of St. Andrew's Society. Mrs. Langtry, who it had been whispered would be there, did not put in an appearance.

Many of the dresses were really handsome. Of course all eyes were on the ladies from Rideau Hall.

Lady Stanley of Preston wore a dress of VALLERY'S SUIT.

How Coverness Wiedemann Broke Down in Her Evidence.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The sensational suit which was begun by Miss Weidemann, a German governess, against Capt. Robert Horace Walpole, for breach of promise, ended in an extraordinary manner. The Queen's Bench Division Court was crowded by representatives of every grade of society, owing to the great publicity given to the case by the newspapers. Miss Weidemann was placed in the box and the solicitor-general resumed his crossexamination. She said she wrote to Capt. Walpole's mother and fiancee that she had a child living.

"Is it living now?"

"I decline to answer." The judge told her to answer and she re luctantly said it was.

"Was your child born in June, 1883?" At this question Miss Wiedeman's face blazed with indignation. She stamped her foot and burst into tears. "I will not answer those questions," she cried hysterically; "it is disgraceful. I am only sum? fer breach of promise, and my child has nothing to do with the case. I would rather go out of court than answer. After six years to put such a disgrace upon me! It is a shame to humanity!" The judge told her kindly she must answer the question; her counsel tried to reason with her, but to no purpose. She declared amid sobs she would rather abandon the case. Arguments, threats, pleadings failed to alter her mind, and the judge, reluctantly directed the jury to find a verdict for Walpole, who was a breathless witness of this remarkable scene. It is understood that the defence would have tried to prove that the child was not Walpole's and his friends say Miss Wiedemann dared not undergo examination on the

Her friends claim that she has been driven almost distracted by her troubles and the prospect of having to face exposure in court nearly drove her mad. It was feared from the first that she would refuse to answer questions relating to her child. The presumption is that the child was adopted by someone on the condition that its whereabouts and identity would never be revealed. A motion for a new trial will be made to the Divisional Court on the ground that the plaintiff being a foreigner did not under. stand the consequences of her refusal to answer the Solicitor-General's questions, and meant to retire simply to have time to consider her position.

Salisbury Favors Woman Suffrage. London, Nov. 30. - In his speech at Edinburgh yesterday Lord Salisbury declared himself in favor of woman suffrage and said he hoped the day was not far distant when women would be allowed to vote. Referring to the arrears of rent question Lord Salisbury contended that there could not be a greater mistake than to compare the position of the Scotch crofters with that of the Irish tenants. The latter he said obtained assistance and privileges which are unknown in any other country.

The Yone of Stock speculation tuprated Continued Exidence of a Short Wheat Crop Active Demand for Wool.

NEW YORK, Nov. 50 .- Special telegrams to Bradstreet's indicate that the storm of the early part of the week, the Thanksviving holiday and the approach of the end of the month, together with the proximity of the Caristmas holidays, have had some effect on the course and volume of general trade, but cities sending least favorable reports state the situation to be fairly satisfactory and the outlook favorable. Most markets, excepting wool, cottons, boots and shoes, are slightly quieter than last week.

Cattle are lower at western centres after heavier receipts, but hogs at most points are higher under better demands for packing.

The situation in industry has grown worse instead o better. Notwithstanding the published statement that the steel rail mills had partitioned the east, central west and west among themselves in order to establish a profitable minimum price for rails the determination of one or two mills to have their way has not been overcome by confer halay. The railway construction ence or solicitation. Business has therefore been a asked buyers waiting to learn whether $27.50, $26.50 or $25.50 is to be the established price.

The active demand for wool continues well sustaine lat all leading markets, but woolen fabrics do not show a corresponding advance which does not aid smaller manufacturers. It is believed spring woolen goods are bound to sell higher. The mills are all fully employed. Conditions before noted check dry glods jobbing operations. Transactions in print cloths are very heavy and lighter stocks are a result, with prices advanced be. Fine bleached goods are higher and fine colored cottons and low grade bleached goods are stronger. There are a large number of orders for spring delivery. Leading makes of ging hams are ordered well ahead. Flannels have advanced in price. Cotton is more active on a declining market (kc. on the week), due to tame advices from abroad. estimates is noticeable. Prices of raw sugars have favored holders about 1-16c. As meitings exceeded arrivals refiners' stocks were reduced at New York 4157 tons and importers stock to an extent which makes them the lightest at New York in a long series of years. Foreigr advices per cable favored the tendency of prices here. There has been more enquiry for refined, and prices are up about 1-8c. Two ships have been chartered at San Francisco to proceed to Manilla and load sugar for New York at $950 per ton. Refined sugar is 11c higher at San Francisco. New Orleans new crop receipts show a noteworthy increase in the yield over late expectations.

Coffee sustained an advance of about de. on more liberal purchases of desirable invoices by jobbers and distributors, the de mand being conspicuous in East Indian as well as Brazilian.

The Week's Influres.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. - The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dan, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 261 and for Canada 31, or a total of 232 as compared with a total of 296 last week and 237 the week previous to the last.
