Altogether their office is no enviable one, and few will grudge them the distinction or the remuneration which may be attached to it in view of the danger of a Custer martyrdom which may attend the attempted discharge of the delicate duties which will devolve upon them.

The return of Hon. Messrs. Mills and Pelletier from their North Western Mission is being signalized in Western Ontario by their participation in several Reform demonstrations got up in their honour. Both gentlemen made telling spesches in refutation of the more glaring caluminations indulged in by Tory spokesmen. Hon. M. Pelletier spoke first in French and then in English, after the manner of, and in reply to, M. Masson, who no long ago was brought up to Essex to catch the ear and, if possible, the vote of the French colony in that county. The errand on which these returning Ministers visited the North West has been ably and satisfactorily accomplished, and it is pleasing to find they are both en route to the capital to lend a ready and effective hand to the good work of the counteraction of the Tory pic-nic slanders and fallacies.

AN ADMISSION-

Premier's ability in the course of a re. cent speech. "He is," said he, "an able man, as you all know. No person underrates his ability." We beg pardon, but nan, and Cornelious McMahon, drunk, we can recall many instances of Tory contempt for even the 'ability' of the present Premier, if not from the Stretcher's own mouth, at any rate from that of his colleagues, as well as from the belittling utterances of the Tory Press. The Chieftain himself has repeatedly sneered at the Liberal Leader, as unfitted either by natural gifts or educational acquirements, to fill the position from which the 'foremost statesman' had fallen. The minions of the latter have taken up the cry. The Mail and its satellites have repeatedly repeated it, all with the intention of underrating the Premier's ability, as well as impugning his integri ty. All in vain, however. They between Miss Lambier and Mr. John have completely failed to convince the people, and so at the length are constrained to admit themselves what they residence, five miles from Beggsboro' have been denying from the first day of and walk to Burk's (nine miles). #### ANOTHER MARIFESTO.

Undeterred by the prosecution levelled against him for his former utterances by the Monarchical President, Gambetta i out in another manifesto more pronounce ed, and, from a Conservative standpoint, more extreme than any former deliverance. He more boldly than ever unmasks MacMahon's affected affection for the Republic, and identified the mea the 16th May as the "allies and protectors of the men of the 2nd December." other words, that the restoration of the Empire is still the darling, tho' secret project which the Marshall President has in view and at heart, if not in regard to the expatriated Napoleonic House, at

He ironically alludes to the motley groups of Imperialists, Royalists, Legiti-Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 9. - The miners mists and others, who "are all sheltered under the patronage of the President doubtless for the better protection of Republican institutions." The entire address would seem to be inspired with a most unqualified confidence that the electoral struggle of next week will issue in splendid victory for the Republicans If the sentence lately inflicted on Gambetta was intended to unhorse him ere the battle began, it has so far completely failed in this effect. His pen and voice are more vigorous, even more defiant, than ever. Again he repeats and en phasizes the offence, for which he was lately tried, by declaring that coming Republi can success throughout the country will leave the Chief of the executive power no alternative but to submit or resign. He also promises that the nation, i.e. the Capt. Lockhart will reply to-day. Republican majority, will devise means to make the national will prevail
