

Daily British Whig.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCT. 11, 1877.

At Liverpool.—The "Hibernian" arrived out-to-day.

New Yorker.—An effort is being made to establish a new Masonic Lodge in this city.

The Concert.—This evening the concert will take place for the benefit of the Rine movement. Attended it.

Police.—William Colburn, David Rae and William McKewen, all charged with acting disorderly, were dismissed with a reprimand.

On a Visit.—The Rev. J. White, of Elgin, spent last night in the city on his way to his old Parish of Loughboro, where he has so many warm friends whom he wishes to see.

Personal.—Mr. J. B. Ashley, editor of the Belleville Ontario, is visiting friends here. He called at this office to exchange greetings and revise the tender memories of former days.

Babylonian History.—Mr. R. T. Burns will read a paper on "The Rise and Fall of Babylon," at the Young Men's Christian Association Rooms on Monday evening next. All young men are invited.

Loughboro Fair.—The annual Agricultural Exhibition of the township is to be held at Sydenham to-morrow. It will be worth attending if the skies are propitious.

Acknowledgment.—The Treasurer of the Orphan's Home begs to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a cheque for $100, being request by will of the late Dr. Batis in favour of the Orphan's Home.

Expanding.—Mr. Chas. Powell has joined partnership with his brother, and a second studio has been opened in Abbott's old stand. The work of the firm may be depended upon as artistic and high classed.

Township of Kingston.—Mr. Simon Jackson won the first prize in bugles, which was incorrectly recorded. Mr. John F. Ward, of Cataract Bay, is father to the lady (Mrs. Ackerman) who rode so well in the contest of saddle horses.

Temperance.—The Y. M. C. A. will have a young men's meeting for the benefit of temperance on Saturday evening. We hope the public will take notice of the particularly prominent part which the Y. M. C. A. is taking in the Rine Total Abstinence movement.

County of Lennox Exhibition, Napawan.—G. W. Robinson took four first prizes, (on pleasure carriage, Portland cutter, truck, sulky and market wagon.) These were the only articles he took up there, and it speaks well for a Kingston firm.—Advt.

The Police Cells.—We are satisfied that the police cells should not be too comfortable, but we must say that at the present time they are in a horrible state. The stench is awful, enough to sicken any one who may have the misfortune to be incarcerated in them.

Short Hand Writing.—The County Council of the County of Hastings are great of the times. They have empowered a committee to select and appoint a short hand writer to the County Court. It is calculated the experiment will be a saving of several hundred dollars to the County.

Probabilities for the next 24 hours.—For the lower lake region rising barometer, fresh to brisk westerly to northerly winds, clearing and colder weather. For the St. Lawrence falling barometer, brisk north-easterly to south-easterly winds and cloudy weather, with rain.

M. E. Church.—The Methodist Episcopal of the district are bent upon the erection of the new Church here next year, and will devote $20,000 to the purpose. This is Christian enterprise, truly, for as yet they have no congregation here. The Rev. Mr. McVeeley, of Odessa, is about to move into the city and take charge of Church matters here for the M. E. Conference.

Deportation.—The Ontario says Kingston sadly needs Rine's presence. What does the Ontario man know about Kingston that justifies him in these petty deprecatory allusions. Rine is needed everywhere, and if opinions are of any value we must say that when he struck Belleville he landed in a spot not much blessed with morality.

The County Road.—The tolls on the Kingston & Napawan Road were sold yesterday (Wednesday) by Mr. Gilbert Wood, of Sydenham. At Waterloo Mr. Spence purchased No. 1 Gate for $2,630, and Mr. Andrew Wallace No. 2 Gate for $635. Tenders for the supply of wood for the gate for 1878 were also opened. Mr. Noble's tender being the lowest, was accepted.

Great Sale.—The whole of the immense stock of costly furniture, new rosewood pianos, mirrors, carpets, curtains and carriage, in Shaw's Buildings, Montreal, are to be sold by public auction on Wednesday, the 17th October, and following days. This stock is one of the largest and finest in the Dominion. The advertisement will be found in our paper to-day.

New School Ma'am.—Robertson's cheap series of novels are meeting with public favour. The last one is entitled "The New School Ma'am." The author is unknown, but the reading is none the less interesting on that account. No household can want for entertaining reading matter so long as books are published at such reasonable rates. They may be had at Henderson's.

WIND WAFTS.

"Rine" concert this evening.—A large number of vessels are bound down the lakes for Kingston.

Mr. F. Rathburn has built a handsome new residence at Mill Point.

Charities: Mr. Manilla, wheat to Kingston at 9 cents.

Eight plucked in the Medical Matriculation Examinations, Gt. George.

Mr. Nason has the largest western corn we have seen for a long time—if ever.

MARINE.

The schooner Ontario, grain laden, bound from the Bay of Quinte to Oswego, ran here last evening in distress.

She was looking badly, and had to have her cargo discharged at Hallowell & Stewart's. She is now on the Marine Railway, and as soon as repaired will be reloaded and leave for the place for which she was originally consigned.

A rumour was current in the city yesterday that the schooner Prince Alfred had been lost in the gale of the night previously. There is no foundation for the rumour.

Hastings Rifle Matches.

The 47th team have been very successful in their competition in the Hastings (Belleville) Rifle Matches. They figured as follows in the Association and All Comers' Matches:

Table with columns: Ranges, 300 and 500 yards; 6 shots at each. Highest possible score, 50. Prizes: Name, Corps, Score.

ALL COMERS' MATCH.

Ranges, 200, 500 and 600 yards; 5 shots at each. Highest possible score, 75.

Table with columns: Prize, Name, Corps, Score.

Medical Examination.

Mr. Woods concluded to-day his examination of candidates for medical matriculation. Twenty-seven presented themselves for examination, of which number eight were "plucked." The lucky ones were:

- Joseph G. E. Poirlock, Gray V. L. Pembroke, Reid H. V. Pembroke, Fraser D. H. Pembroke, McCounell B. J. Pembroke, Patterson R. L. Morphet, Vanstone W. T. Dorchester, Hutchings T. M. V. Exeter, Whisman E. Kingston, Shannon L. W. B. A. Kingston, McDuffel J. W. Sherbrooke, Symington J. J. Camloch, McLean J. D. Ottawa, Loring J. B. Sherbrooke.

More Rascality.

Another attempt has been made to cause injury to the Grand Trunk RR. On Tuesday the engineer on the down express noticed something unusual about the track, about eight miles from the station, and at once put on brakes, and had the train stopped. On examining the spot in question, it was found that several ties had been abstracted, and the gravel and ballast had been removed, with the object of causing a wreck of the train, which would have broken the rails had it been run over the breach in the track. Three men have been suspected of the offence, and warrants were issued and officers dispatched this afternoon to arrest them. They are Emanuel Orser, Kenneth Orser and Charles Evans. The act is a very grievous one, and if found guilty the punishment will undoubtedly be severe.

Excursion.

The excursion season is not over yet. The last and jolliest event of the season takes place on Saturday, being none other than the excursion of the K. & P. RR. Company over the road as far as the Mississippi, to which place the new branch extends. The City and County Councils, and a number of citizens, have been invited. The public will thus be enabled to judge of the condition of the line.

Rine Concert.

The indications are that the Concert in the City Hall this evening will be a great success. The public must bear in mind that the entertainment is for the benefit of no individual or set of individuals, but to pay expenses incurred in the late meetings and to create a fund for future efforts in the cause of Temperance. The Committee hope to be liberally supported in their benevolent work.

A Short Sermon.

We regret to say that a gentleman of good social standing has been so far affected by drink as to have attempted to take his life. For fifteen years he had been a total abstainer, but in a moment of excessive jubilation he indulged, and the result we have already noted. Let the Rine movement flourish in our midst by all means.

At W. S. Gordon's Grocery Princess St.

Will be found all kinds of groceries and provisions at the lowest cash prices.

Intermediate vs. Medical Matriculation.

We confess we were somewhat astounded to-day on receiving the intelligence that Mr. Woods, in his official capacity of Matriculation Examiner of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Ontario, was compelled to reject, amongst several other candidates, some who had previously succeeded in passing the much talked of Intermediate examination.

Strange to say, the subjects upon which the failure took place were those of arithmetic and algebra, "text subjects," as they are called, in the above examination.

Mr. Woods' eminent qualifications for the position which he occupies are well known, and the papers set by him cannot have been more difficult than the regulations of the Medical Council would justify warrant.

Twenty-eight candidates came up for Matriculation, and eight succeeded in passing, among the latter being some who had been "plucked" on two different occasions in their attempt to pass the Intermediate.

Mr. Woods does what few examiners would take the trouble to do; he not only indicates to unsuccessful candidates the subjects upon which they fail, but also reads their answers with them, so that no shadow of suspicion can haunt the mind of any candidate that his answers have been unfairly valued.

What gives the subject more than a passing interest at the present time is the fact that the Medical Council was asked at its meeting in July last not only to accept the Intermediate as a fair equivalent for its own entrance examination, but to raise its standard so as to make it equal that of this marvellous Intermediate.

If we recollect aright, the Council went so far as to appoint a Committee to meet the matter and report at the next meeting. We sincerely trust that the College of Physicians and Surgeons will consent to no such change being made in its Intermediate work.

Passing over other facts of a similar kind that have come under our notice, the result of this examination ought to be sufficient to convince the members of the Council that their Matriculation, when properly conducted (as it is by the present Examiners, ranks quite as high as the Intermediate) and that consequently a change is anything but desirable.

One explanation of the above mentioned circumstances may be, that the latter is apparently more difficult to pass in Kingston than elsewhere; but a much more likely one, and one that is far more reasonable, is that written examinations are at best a wretched test of a man's literary and scientific knowledge.

The importance of written examinations has been greatly exaggerated during the past few years, and we are happy to see such men as Professor Toulmin, of Cambridge, and Prof. Dupuis, of our own University, strongly protesting against the undue prominence that has lately been given to written examinations as a test of knowledge.

In this connection we are reminded that McGill College Examiners have never given up the old but undeniably fair custom of requiring an oral examination from all their students, no matter how excellent their written ones.

A Bold Dash!

On Tuesday evening Mr. Conner, as we said before, lectured at Seely's Bay. He had an audience of thirty persons, all young men, who were primed with a dose of mischief for the occasion.

Charis first gave them a dash on Woman's Rights, which was quietly received. But he was requested to give a touch of politics, which was declared to be the all-absorbing question of the day.

The counter was accorded to, and Mr. Conner fairly shook the building, as well as his auditors, with his denunciations of the Dominion Ministry. But thereon Charles made his mistake. He was surrounded by a deal of lively element, and evidence of an unhealthy commotion appeared.

The lecturer observed the agitation of his hearers, and humbly expressed the hope that the meeting would not end like a certain Reform gathering at which such a disorder occurred that Mr. Huntington had to fly through one window and Mr. Mackenzie to drop unceremoniously through another. No sooner had this little bit of pleasantry escaped the lips of the speaker than a general rumpus took place.

Seats were upset and men edged about and kicked in the air, and some went so far as to endeavour to stand on their heels or ears. Mr. Conner suspended his speech, and calmly surveyed the scene before him. The tumult increased, and benches and broom sticks fell about him in such a manner as to require a dexterous use of his legs in order to avoid collisions with substances harder than skin and bone.

Finally he made a bolt for the door, but only to find it locked and barricaded. A moment's contemplation satisfied him that his exit was a matter of necessity, and bracing himself up for a mighty effort he tackled the window, and after an effort which taxed the capability of every muscle and nerve of which he was possessed, he succeeded in lurching outside, where he had freedom of limb to relieve himself of any humanity. Mr. Conner will not go back to Seely's Bay for a while, and he may never have occasion to check to tell that little story of Mackenzie and Huntington again.

During the Franco-German war the Emperor conferred upon him the Iron Cross, and in Serbia he was decorated with the highest mark of royal favour.

CURRENCY.

Chief Justice Draper still lingers; one hour he appears absent, and another he seems to be sinking.

Dr. A. H. Dore, murderer of Sergeant Dore, is reported to be still at Lunenburg, to be found in his protestations of innocence.

Removal of a new coal combination, which exclude the Reading Company are circulated.

The full statement of the Allegheny Savings Bank of Pittsburgh, shows liabilities $846,000; assets $296,000. The concern went into insolvency yesterday.

The British Mortgage Loan Company of Ontario has been incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000,000. The head office is in London.

The Rochester Union says: "On Saturday night, a man was picked up and towed in the city, and it is not much the worse for his mishap and will soon be at Atlantic again."

The struggle in the State of New York for the Fall campaign, will centre upon the election of members of the State Legislature. The Democrats will make a desperate effort to obtain a majority and by that means secure the election of a United States Senator.

The Toronto Police Court this morning with forging the name of Bernard Halliday, Managing Director of the Western Assurance Company, to a draft upon Messrs. Harper & Gosley, Bankers, New York, dated August 2nd 1877, for $600.

He pleaded guilty and elected to be tried summarily, but the magistrate said it was out of his power to sentence him, and committed him for trial.

Gambetta is to be questioned, not for the publication of his manifesto, but for placarding it in the streets of Paris. The printer of the document has also been summoned before the Correctional Tribunal.

A public meeting in Paris last night, for attacking the Clericals, a large number were present, and precautions had been taken by the authorities to preserve order, but the affair passed off without incident.

St. Louis has a man in her boots, so to speak. That is to say, a St. Louis reporter has discovered a man who has discovered a public monster in the Mississippi River, the hideousness of which is beyond all power of description.

The monster has an immense neck, his ten feet in length; a gigantic bulging head; a mammoth, alky neck; enormous fins, ten feet in length, and a vast tail. It spouts water, in two streams, forty feet high, through coal barges about as though they were chips, and howls and roars with mingled rage and scorn.

Lord Dufferin's Speech at Winnipeg.

The New York World greatly admires Lord Dufferin's speech, and it must be admitted that the admiration is not misplaced. We clip the following from a leading article in the "World":

"In concluding his speech Lord Dufferin dwelt briefly on the friendly relations that he had found existing between Canada and the United States, 'both organic and political,' and he pointed out the signs of a great and growing friendship in line on a level front; both engaged in advancing the standards of civilization, and for many years to come to be associated in the task of great and noble work."

We are glad to see that Lord Dufferin has not only a high opinion of the friendship between Canada and the United States, but also a high opinion of the friendship between Canada and the United States, and for many years to come to be associated in the task of great and noble work."
