

A Female Warrior.

(Bulgarian Correspondence London Times.)

In the Turkish attack on Kocelovo, September 6, occurred one of the most extraordinary episodes of the year. As the Russians began to waver and their fire to slacken, as the Turks were pressing forward with increased vigor, a young Russian officer was seen standing just behind one of their batteries waving his sword and boldly encouraging his men to stand their ground. Over and over again he rallied the troops who were pouring out of the trench, but the fire was too heavy for any human thing to stand and live. They could not bear it. They fell on their knees and entreated him to fly, but not an inch would he stir, and at last he stood for more than a minute absolutely alone, save for the dying and the dead piled around him. He fell, but the fire was too heavy for any human thing to stand and live.
