Sir John A. Macdonald has not inaptly been compared to Sir Robert Walpole in the matter of his corrupt retention of power. Hon. Mr. Cartwright, in his recent speech, takes occasion to defead the memory of the English statesman from the reflection implied in the comparison. The prince of English corruptionists had the decency to retire when finally baffled, beaten and disgraced. Not so Sir John. As his critic puts it: "Some men are dangerous till they are found out, but Sir John rises above the commonalty and continues to be dangerous even after being found out." So long as Sir John remains in public life he will be a menace | Hon. M.C. Cameron, Hon. Beverly Robto good government, although in Opposi- inson, the Mayor of Toronto, Lt.-Col. tion his power for evil is reduced to a minimum. The country can never so far forget its safety and its honour as to ever permit his return to power, and will be sure to keep him where he can do the Campbell, Mr. Emelius Irving, M. P., be has done regarding one influential least harm.

That was a most painful admission the Hon. Mr. Cartwright felt compelled to make the other day, that there was a class of men in Canada who preferred to have a rogue at the head of affairs. There is abundant evidence that this is so, otherwise we should not see such an anxiety manifested in certain quarters for the return of Sir John and his chums to power again. The Chieftain, who is all things to all men, is just the man for such a class. On the other hand the Hon. gentleman showed that with such classes the popularity of a really honest Govern- Tremayne, Beverely Jones, ment must suffer. Men who will refuse favours and resist the corrupt importuni- Allen Taylor, Wm. That any Government should be assailed by such opposition is all the more to its credit, and should rally the support of all honest men in its favour.

THAT UNANSWERED CHALLENCE.

How absurd is the assertion, so foolishly and frequently repeated by Tory organs that Hon. Mr. Cartwright seceded from Sir John's following because Sir Francis Hincks was taken into the cabinet as a Reformer. As Mr. Cartwright himself declared at Napanee lately, he (Mr. C.) had supported Sir John's Government for four years when Messrs. A sense of shame should enjoin a decent reticence on Tory journals which seem to have a penchant for pitching into the hon, memper for Lennox as the 'Renegade Tory and all that, at any rate, until the Chieftain shall have taken up the gauntlet thrown down by Mr. Cartwright in reference to their personal correspondence upon this subject. The Hon. Finance Minister has explicitly denied and disproved the charges bandied about the country by Sir John as to the alleged reasons for Mr. Cartwright's defection from him. Mr. Cartwright has Sir John's own letter with which to vindicate himcelf from their slanderous charges. Should Sir John challenge proof, he wil subject of frequent remarks here, and get it over his own signature. Sir John makes no sign. Until he breaks the silence let the organs have the common decency "to hold their peace."

Without any expectation of fee or ward we contribute a suggestion for the benefit of our political opponents. It is with reference to the matter of their party designation. 'Tory,' by many regarded as the synonym of despotism, has for some time been superseded by the every way to make the Street Railway mellower term 'Conservative.' Soon however, it transpired that the mere change of name had not been accompanied by a change of nature, and it has line for accommodation of the churchlately been sought to blind the public discernment by stealing a name to which neither the Tory ty anny of the past nor the Tory bigotry of the present is entitled. STREET CARS.

What Is Thought of our Line.

A letter written, in the Ottawa Fire ess, is drawing comparisons, and says "A press telegram from Kingston announces that the Street Railway in that city, which has been in operation less than six months, has already, by good management, and a desire on the part of the Directors to meet the requirements of the public, paid one-fourth of the original cost of construction. The excellent common sense way in which the Kingston Street Railway is managed has been the comparisons very unfavorable to the management of the Ottawa Street Railway have been made by visitors to Kingston and to other cities in the Dominion and the United States. I believe that the success of the Kings on Street Railway is largely owing to its never having established the obnoxious six cent fare.

The Kingston cars are kept clean and comfortable, which is more than can be said for the Ottawa street cars. The Kingston cars are more punctual in their movements, and make and keep better time in their trips.

The Kingston company endeavor in popular, and make it their special aim to meet the public convenience. On Sanday at church hours, morning and evening, they run a car from either end of the going public. This judicious arrangement at first met with some opposition from the extreme Sabbatarians, but common sense has prevailed, and the majority of the church-going community of Kingston now see the wisdom of the arrangement, and largely avail themselves

When he arrived in this, the first Canadian city, although in Manchester-a second-rate English town-he had not shone as a star of the first magnitude, there was considerable fuss made over Should the danger we thus apprehend be and importance given to the reverend gentleman, both by press and public, which doubtless somewhat astonished those with whom he had been accustomed to associate. But Mr. Bray having come as a new sensation, was bound to keep up the excitement, and this, by his platform and pulpit eccentricities, he has contrived to do, though he must admit that on cause which in good sooth is about the account of certain unfortunate occurrences which we all must deeply regret some of his extraordinary deliverances and attitudes in Canada have failed to be not of absolute condemnation, that it is and Love, to address himself as he has He killed a man when he fell, and laugh certain they deserved.
