NOBILITY AT THE ALTAR.

The Marriage of the Duke of Norfolk and Lady Flora Hastings.

London, Nov. 22.—The marriage of the Duke of Norfolk at Brompton, England, on Wednesday was in many respects the most important social event of the season. The Duke began his preparations for the marriage in a very unusual way. On the 6th inst., both the bride and the bridegroom began a spiritual retreat. The bride entered a convent in Kensington Square, and the bridegroom retired to the oratory. For three days they devoted themselves to meditation and prayer, their repasts being very frugal and silence being observed except when the retreatants were in communication with priests. No letters were written to any one. At the end of the retreat a general confession of the whole lives of the subjects was made, and the communion administered. The duke is not a man of learning, but of good judgment. He aids all works of charity, and contributes freely to the Roman Catholic churches of England. His income is a million and a half annually. Lady Flora Hastings, the bride, became a Roman Catholic while staying with her cousin, Lord Bute, also a convert from Protestantism. It was especially noticed that neither the Queen nor any members of the royal family sent presents or congratulations. This was accounted for on the theory of the bride's change of religion, or an old scandal which had been forgotten by nine-tenths of the elite. The presents were very costly. The bridegroom's presents consisted of a pearl necklace of Mary Queen of Scots, of marvellous workmanship, a parure of diamonds and rubies, the stones being remarkable for size and shape. He also gave a string of pearls with a sapphire pendant surrounded with brilliants, richly chased, a silver gilt service, and three rings of brilliants, rubies and sapphires.

The Machine was Worn Out.

Why! Not because it was not well built, but it was wrongly run. Thousands of men who have run down long before their threescore and ten years are accomplished, might have been renewed into sprightliness and vim if they had tried the well known PERUVIAN SYRUP, which contains among its compounds the Protoxide of Iron, so combined that it assimilates with the blood and invigorates the whole system. This syrup has proved efficacious in thousands of cases, and will do everybody good who uses it. All druggists keep it.

A CARD.

TO all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. The great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman. Station D. Bible House, New York City
