Miraculous Experiences.

(N. Y. Werld.) Mr. Henry Schroeder is a German with a bald and corrugated head, who, having advertised in yesterday's papers for 'truth-seekers and sceptizs' to attend a lecture upon his miraculous conversation to Christianity,' was last evening listened to by a World reporter and twenty others in a little hall at No. 110 West Forty-second street. 'It is an old saying, said the speaker, somewhat abruptly in the course of his remarks, 'that there are many things between heaven and earth. All that I am about to tell you is true, for I have no desire to make any statement that I cannot substantiate to my own satisfaction. tell you my experience for your warning, just as I would, if the house were burning down, call fire on the top of my MAYORALTY, 1878 'I was one night reading my Bible, which I never believed. Filled was I with doubt as I read it then. I could not swallow the miracles. Ashamed am I to say that now, but I could not. wished to. As I was reading there came some distinct taps on the cover of the Bible. But still I was not convinced. My heart, as I now know, was too hard. I shut the book and prayed to have some other miracle worked upon me, so strong that I could not doubt. Then I went to I offer myself as Candidate for the looking out on the summer merning, all at once I became sensible of a force in my right arm. My arm kept going back and forth, and try as I would I could not

> Pretty soon it was suggested to me that my moving arm wanted to write something, and so I got up and went towards the table, where lay a slate and pend belonging to my little girl. At I approached the slate my arm stopped got if, but my hand immediately wrote the word 'Hail! Oh, what joy!' I felt the thrill of conviction run through all my veins, at once determined to join the Church. My little girl came in and interrupted me or I think I should have written more. The next morning when I awoke my arm was going just the same way, but I suppose I was tired and did not get up, and the force ran out.' From that time Mr. Schroeder felt the Candidate for the Mayoralty of 1878, and hope | perfect joy and peace of faith, but the miracles did not s'op. A little while afterwards he woke at night and found his room full of moving lights. They crowded the black space and justled one another, shining like stars, but pretty soon they vanished, and one big light came swooping in. Mr. Schroeder said it was "a large light - as large as the size of the full moon," and that he was "somewhat frightened," but he has since become used to it, as he "has these visits now every night;" and moreover, he knows there is no imagination in the matter, because he sees the same things in the day-

"And now," said the selected lecturer, I shall tell you my last and most imirtant experience, which happened to me last Friday night. The church which I attended regularly was not open that day, I am sorry to say, and I went to an the service I came out and was going town the steps when to my astonishment I was slapped on the back. I knew "at ince it was another miracle. At the same moment a voice called out sharply. Schroeder.' Strange to say it did not pronounce the name as people here pronounce it, but as the Germans say it Schr-ay-der. I looked around and nobody was near me or could have called my name. The import of the remark seemed to me to be that I should stay in till 3 o'clock." During that time Mr. There are three run of Stores with powerful Schroeder said that he heard some sing Engines and Boiler on the premises, with every log, whereas there were no visible other convenience for doing a large Flouring singers, and "went through some remark. able states of feeling." Also, a "singular power went into his heart and made it

But the occasion of his first partaking WANTED-Logs Square Pine or Ash Timber f the communion was one which Mr. Sizes about 12x12 in 20, 25 or 32 feet length. Schroeder especially will never forget. As he took the cup in his hand he felt himself "slapped all over as if all the angels were surrounding him." Also his arm began to gather the old force, and seemed about to go, but it did not, and that relieved Mr. Schroeder's mind. He intimated that he would have been greatembarrassed if it had gone, his words being "Think of it, before the whole
