ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS.

Captain Sherard Osborne, R.N., recently read before the Royal Geographical Society of London an interesting paper in which he argues the perfect practicability of an exploration of that space around the North Pole which is now a blank upon our maps. He said it was not true that Arctic exploration was especially dangerous. During thirty-six years of glorious enterprise, from 1818 to 1854, by ship, by boat and by sledge, England fairly lost only two ships and 128 men out of forty-two successive expeditions. Forty thousand miles had been traversed by foot parties in search of Franklin alone, and yet not one of these parties had been lost. An equal amount of geographical discovery had never been accomplished on the earth's surface with so small an amount of human sacrifice. The discoveries in physical science were full of practical importance. The clue obtained to those mysterious currents, the Gulf Stream and the Ice Stream,—the discovery of the magnetic pole, and observations made in relation to it, adding so greatly to our knowledge of the laws of declination and dip,—as well as the many ethnological discoveries made, have been of the greatest value. It was probable that man would be found existing much farther north than was at present believed, and his mode of existence would be very similar to that of our remote ancestors in Europe, who used the flint weapons, at a period when the Arctic climate prevailed over Britain and a great part of the continent. Many meteorological problems of the highest interest were also to be solved.

Captain Osborne thought that all expeditions of this kind should be conducted under the auspices of the government and the navy. Dr. Kane's sufferings arose from the insufficient supplies and imperfect arrangements necessarily attendant on a purely private enterprise, but this was no reflection on those warm hearted Americans who had so nobly come forward to aid in Arctic enterprises.—The chivalrous and generous Kane never penned those touching accounts to frighten men from this grand field, but to caution us to avoid his mistakes, and to show how nobly the worst evils can be borne in a good cause. The government had plenty of wooden ships rotting in her arsenals. He thought the navy needed some action to wake it up from the sloth of routine, and Arctic exploration was more wholesome, both in a moral and a sanitary point of view, than any more Ashantee or Japanese wars. Would it therefore be too much to ask for a fraction of the vast sum yearly sunk in naval expenditure for two small screw vessels, and 120 officers and men out of the 50,000 annually placed at the disposal of the admiralty? Captain Sir Leopold McClintock, who had already spent ten years in Arctic seas, was ready to give up the command of one of the finest frigates in the service to take charge of such an expedition. Captain Osborne concluded by an eloquent appeal to the Society to give its enlightened support to the project.

Admiral Sir Edward Belcher afterwards made some remarks warmly advocating the proposed expedition. He said if this great problem was to be solved, it should be solved by England. It should not be agitated here and the Americans be allowed to get the start of us as they did in Japan. Other eminent scientific and naval gentlemen also strongly supported the project.

TONE OF THE SOUTHERN PRESS.—The question of increasing the military force of the Confederacy by the enlistment of negro slaves continues to agitate the press and people of the south. In the senate of the Confederate Congress it was decided by a majority of one that the slaves shall not be enlisted for the present at least. This action on the part of the Legislature of the country meets with very severe strictures from the Richmond press and seems to be generally very unpopular in the northern portion of the Confederacy. The Sentinel urges that the people should meet in mass assembly and express their disapprobation of the course taken by their representatives. It is argued that if the negroes made good servants, why not good soldiers? It is undoubtedly an extreme measure, but the times call for extreme measures; and the issue is plainly put that unless the South shall at once adopt the only available remedy for their present misfortunes, then it will, at least, be in imminent peril of being subjected to the yoke. Some recriminations are indulged in against the Gulf States as it was by their votes that the slavery question has assumed its present shape, and it is contended that although those states were foremost in bringing about secession originally, when they are called upon to make any real sacrifice for the good of the whole, they manifest an unwillingness to do so. On the other hand many who are large owners of slaves have voluntarily proffered them for the use and the benefit of the government and as a means of preserving the property yet remaining and the enjoyment of existing liberty intact. It is argued, and with much force, that unless an effort is made at once it will soon be too late, and the military forces of the Yankees will have such a hold upon the country as all their combined efforts will not be able to compell them to release. The issue is undoubtedly a grave one and calls for immediate and energetic action.—Leader.

THE TEMPERANCE VOTE IN HALTON.—The vote in this County on Dunkin's Bill took place on Monday and Tuesday last, when it was adopted by a majority of about 200. The poll was kept open the third day in Esquesing—majority against it 5 or 6; in Georgetown, 12 majority in favor; in Milton, 16 against; in Oakville, a tie; in Nassagaweya, majority of 11 in favor, and in Nelson and Trafalgar, large majorities in favor.

THE DEFENCE OF RICHMOND.—The Richmond Sentinel [Jeff. Davis assumed organ] recommends all non-combatants to leave the city immediately, so that it may be defended to better advantage.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 6, 1865.

HEALTH AND PURE BLOOD ARE INSEPARABLE.—Recollect that all sickness arises from impurity of the blood, and that Judson's Mountain Herb Pills will as surely find out and cleanse these impurities from the system, that disease cannot exist. So simple are the herbs and plants that compose them, that it is not necessary to have them sugar coated in order that the stomach can bear them. In most cases, Pills are sugar coated because the materials of which they are composed are so griping and malignant, that otherwise a delicate stomach could not bear them.

These Pills deal with the disease as it is, and will not only cure by removing the cause, but will build up and restore the broken constitution. There are many who have so trifled with their constitutions that they think medicine will not help them; let not even these despair; incredulity and skepticism is overthrown by a host of testimony which is truly irresistable. At first the virtues ascribed to the Mountain Pills were deemed fabulous. The public had been so often deceived that they could not believe the simple truths put forward by their discovery. Yet facts undeniable, attested by witnesses of the highest character and respectability have proved, and are proving each day, the virtues of this mighty healer. They mark, by their miraculous efficacy and power a new era in medicine

We did not believe in "cure-alls" until we tried AYER'S inimitable PILLS, and now we think the whole secret lies in the fact, that purgatives are the natural remedy for disease, and Dr. Ayer has made the best of purgatives. They cure all our complaints.—Logan (O.) Press.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The Advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers, the means of cure.

To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a SURE CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted and spread information which he conceives, to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

IN THE YEAR 1845

Mr. Mathews first prepared the VENETIAN HAIR DYE; since that time it has been used by thousands, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is only Fifty Cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

The VENETIAN DYE is warranted not to injure the hair or the scalp in the slightest degree.

The VENETIAN DYE works with rapidity and certainty, the hair requiring no preparation whatever.

The VENETIAN DYE produces yan shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crock or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by all druggists.—Price 50 cents.

The New York Tribune says, "the reason why Drake's Plantation Bitters are so universally used and have such an immense sale, is that they are always made up to the original standard, of highly invigorating material and of pure quality, although the prices have so largely advanced, &c.

The Tribune just hits the nail on the head. The Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what it is. The Recipe is published around each Bottle, and the bottles are not reduced in size.—At least twenty imitations and counterfeits have sprung up. They impose upon the people once and that's the last of them.

The Plantation Bitters are now used in all the Government Hospitals, are recommended by the best physicians, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. Facts are stubborn things.

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 24, 1863.

DEAR SIR:—I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicine failed to relieve me. Some friends in New York, who were using Plantation Bitters, prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine glassful after dinner:—Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

Respectfully,
JUDITH RUSSEL."

If the ladies but knew what thousands of them are constantly relating to us, we candidly believe one half of the weakness, prostration and distress experienced by them would vanish.—James Marsh, Esq., of 159 West 14th St. N. Y., says, "he has three children, the first two are weak and puny, his wife having been unable to nurse or attend them, but that she has taken Plantation Bitters for the last two years, and has a child now eighteen months old which she has nursed and reared herself and both are hearty, saucy and well. The article is invaluable to mothers," &c.

Such evidence might be continued for a volume. The best evidence is to try them.—They speak for themselves. Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, diabetes, &c., will find speedy relief through these Bitters.

Every bottle for exportation and sale out of the United States has a metal cap and green label around the neck.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the cap has not been mutilated. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is an imposter. We sell it only in bottles.

Sold by principal dealers throughout the habitable globe.

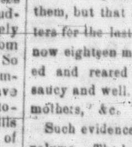
Don't fail to read the advertisement in this paper, headed

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN, of New York, has devoted the last thirty years of his practice to Female Complaints. His Pills act like a Charm. They are reliable and safe.



Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford great relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled Consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong whispers to all but him, CONSUMPTION. He tries everything; but the disease is knawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more all over his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now: it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy: his sleep is sound at night: his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it causes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easy cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by E. H. Parker, Kingston, and all Druggists. Northrup & Lyman, Newcastle, General Agents. 1mo29
