CATECHISM OF GOLF.

INFORMATION ON ALL POINTS FOR ENTHUSIASTS OF THE LINKS.

The Ancient Sport and How to Become an Adept at It—Rules of Conduct at Critical Points in the Game—Answers to Queries.

From being a game for the few golf has become a pastime for thousands. All around this city what has hitherto been meadows and woods have become golf links by the simple process of digging holes at intervals and planting flags near by; railroads and brooks are perverted into hazards, the pastoral stone wall masquerades as a bunker, and every patch of weed or tangle of brier has abandoned its botanical significance and taken important rank as whins. In view of the great and increasing importance of the game the following catechism has been compiled by a noted authority on the sport, who was for years Secretary of the Hartford Golf Club, with links on the

NO. 2.

Hackensack meadows. His portrait is given herewith. This catechism was the outcome of many queries sent to him from enthusiastic golfers in all parts of the country, and is made up largely from questions of practical experience. It is designed to fill a long-felt want, and the author's fond hope is that it will set at rest many disputed points and save from brain fever and paresis thousands whose intellects would otherwise have succumbed to the strain of the problems here solved.

NO. 3.

Q.—What is golf? A.—An ancient sport invented by a mighty Scotch genius for the delectation and mental exultation of the great-minded of succeeding generations.

Q.—Where is it played? A.—In all parts of the world sufficiently civilized to appreciate its beauties.

NO. 4.

Q.—What are the requisites for the game? A.—A golf outfit and several miles of somebody else's real estate.

Q.—What is a golf outfit? A.—A scarlet coat, a pair of badly swollen knee breeches and a collection of hopelessly deformed shinny sticks.

Q.—What is the first step towards learning the game? A.—Practice dropping the ball in golf.

Q.—What comes next? A.—Procure a caddie. A caddie is a small boy who knows more about the game than the players, but refrains from saying so for financial reasons. He also chases and locates the ball.

NO. 5.

Q.—What is the object of the game? A.—To propel a small but perverse sphere with the sticks into a series of diminutive and unreceptive holes in less time than his opponent can do the same thing with another equally perverse sphere.

Q.—How does the player know which stick to use? A.—He doesn't. The caddie does, but he won't tell.

Q.—How does the game begin? A.—With the drive-off. To drive off the player assumes a stern and forbidding expression, and selecting a particular well-formed implement called a driver, swings it viciously up and down, meanwhile keeping his eye upon the ball. He then strikes the ball from the tee. See illustration No. 2.

Q.—What is the golfing term for failing to raise the ball from the ground? A.—Damn.

Q.—What is the golfing term for missing the ball entirely? A.—This is a compound Gaelic term too intricate for translation.

NO 6.

Q.—After a successful strike-off what is to be done? A.—See illustration No. 4.

Q.—What is whins? A.—Whins is any species of vegetation wher in the ball falls, to the dismay of the golfers.

Q.—(Originally sent in from the West)—When a lady golfer gets in whins, consisting of swet violets, is she justified in destroying them in order to get at the ball? A.—A true golfer is justified in destroying anything under the heavens, including his opponent in order to win the game.

Q.—Can a woman play golf? A.—There are two replies to this. The catechist declines to commit himself to either. He is prepared to state, however, that he has seen many women try.

Q.—How should a woman desiring to play golf set about it? A.—Employ a competent caddie, and bribe him to play her strokes for her.

Q.—What benefit, then, does she derive from the game? A.—She may get exercise by following the ball, and valvaluable golf instruction by listening to the remarks of the caddie when in a bunker. She may also afford opportunities for other players to act as caddies.

NO. 7.

Q.—Under what circumstances may a golfer become a caddie? A.—By special request. See illustration No. 5.

Q.—What is a bunker? A.—Any old thing that gets in the way. A stone wall is a stone bunker. A wooden fence isn't.

Q.—What is to be done when the ball lands in a bunker? A.—There are Gaelic formula graded according to the difficulty with the bunker.

Q.—What is the best method of surmounting a difficult stone bunker? A.—There are many ways. The method typified in illustration No. 6 is recommended.

Q.—Are cattle to be regarded as bunkers or hazards? A.—Hazards, and then at as a great a distance as possible.

Q.—In case of interruption by cattle what is the golfer's wisest course? A.—First observe the gender of the cattle If it is a cow proceed with the play. If a bull proceed diplomatically. Remove your red golfing coat, which is likely to be offensive to the animal, and throw it over your caddie's shoulders. This will distract the bull's attention from yourself. If the caddie has run away, plant your golf stick firmly in the ground, hang the coat upon it, and climb the nearest tree. If no trees are at hand, seek a lofty bunker and get on the other side of it. The best links however, are guarded against the incursions of kine.

Q.—What is the duration of a game? A.—Anywhere from two hours to two weeks.

Q.—Is golf the greatest and most inspiring exercise known to civilized man? A.—Undoubtedly.

For the benefit of particular clubs the following extra queries and answers are appended:

Q. (from the Meadbrook Hunt Club Links)—What is good form in golf when a Sunday game is interrupted by the arrival of a constable with warrants? Wire reply. A.—Slay the constable with a club and proceed with the game.

Q. (from St. Andrew's Golf Club of Yonkers)—If one player in the heat of discussion uses a brass niblick as an argument what should his opponent reply with? A.—An iron gas spoon; the club to pay funeral expenses.

Q. (from the Tuxedo Golf Club)—In case the ball is run away with by a rapidly moving hazard (i. e., railroad train), what shall be done? A.—Despatch caddie to chase train, both sides score two tees, and institute suit for damages against railway company.

Q. (from the Newport Links)—In case of ball going out of play and slaying infant plebian on street, should the body be moved before playing the next stroke? A.—If it interferes with swing of stick; otherwise not.

Q. (from the Hartford Golf Club)—Does H. R. H. the Prince of Wales golf? A.—Yes.—New York Sun.

IT DOES BOTH.

South American Kidney Cure Not Only Relieves Kidney Disease Immediately, But It Also Heals and Removes the Trouble.

Those dragging pains in the loins that are a common symptom of kidney trouble are most distressing, but they are only the forerunner of more acute pain, and will develop rapidly if an effective remedy is not applied. No medicine acts on the kidneys with such speediness as South American Kidney Cure. It gives relief in the most distressing cases in a few hours. But it does not stop here. It is a great healer, and its continuous use for a short time completely banishes the disease. It is a cure for kidney trouble, and only it, but it never fails here.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

A MEDICINE THAT WILL REPAIR THE RAVAGES OF TIME.

An Old Lady in St. John's, Que., Tells How it Restored Her to Health and Vigor—Rejuvenates the Blood and Nerves.

From Franco-Canadien, St. John's, Que.

Long are the battles which youth can wage against disease, but when age has burdened ones shoulders the fight is an unequal one, and the victim all-too frequently succumbs to the grim reaper. When, however, the battle for life results in success it is fitting that the means which restored health and strength should be made public for the benefit of other sufferers. In the city of St. John's lives Mrs. Mary Wood, beloved by her family and esteemed by all who know her. Mrs. Wood is now in her 66th year, and for several years past has been a sufferer from weakness and general debility, but is now, happily, again restored to health and strength. To a reporter of Le Franco Canadien, Mrs. Wood gave an account of her illness and restoration to health. She said that her blood had become watery, she was subject to nervous prostration, severe headaches, and loss of appetite. She tried doctors and many drugs without finding any improvement in her condition, which was rather becoming steadily worse, and reducing her to a state of mental and physical prostration which threatened to speedily terminate her existence. Having read much concerning Dr. William's Pink Pills, Mrs. Wood at last determined to give them a trial and procured a supply from Mr. Gustave Boulanger, druggist. Under other treatment Mrs. Wood had been growing worse, but soon after beginning the use of Pink Pills, to the agreeable surprise of herself and family, a radical change for the better was noticed and with the continued use of the pills she soon regained her old time health and vigor, and despite her years can take any part of the household work. She says that she always keeps Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, and still uses them occasionally as a tonic, and always with the best results. She says that she believes she owes her life to Dr. Williams' wonderful medicine, and never loses an opportunity to recommend them to her friends.

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy as a dealer, for the sake of the extra profit to himself, may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail.

HOW IT SEEMS TO A LAMB.

He Writes About the Wheat Situation for General Benefit.

This is the way a lamb editorial writer on a daily paper reviews the recent course of events in the wheat market. It must be admitted that there is quite as much logic as humor in it, and that it is decerly funny the most determined bull can hardly deny:

The situation in the wheat market dazzles the intelligence of the man on the outside. All he perceives of it with genuine understanding is that the board of trade has suddenly resumed some of its old importance and that the fervid scenes which were of daily occurrence when many of the great fortunes of the present day were built up in a week, are re-enacted and accompanied by much of the collateral excitement in the mind of the innocent public that marked the fluctuations of boom periods.

But as for the details, they are Greek to the uninitiated. The price of wheat first went up because of the ravages of drought. Violent rainstorms broke the drought, but they were followed by cold weather, which assaulted the wheat in a new place. Very warm weather followed, which ought to have been good for the crops. It only bred chinch bugs and Hessian flies. The price climbed some more. The short sellers prayed for frost to kill the Hessian fly. The frost came, killing not the Hessian fly, but the wheat. The Hessian fly not only is not dead. He even sleepeth not. Cold weather gives him an alertness and ferocity which he was not up to the languid heated term. It has whetted his appetite to an extraordinary degree. If he cannot have grain to satisfy his cravings he may attack small animals, barnyard fowl and even men. The well known firm of Bullem and company, received this morning from Barry's Landing, Ind., a pair of canvas overalls rent into tatters by the fangs of a Hessian fly. Jabez Longman, the owner and late wearer of the pantaloons, is confined to his bed as a result of the encounter with the venomous, ferocious and desperate cuss.

Our compliments to the wheat bull and his allies the Hessian fly, the dry weather, the wet weather, the unparalleled heated term, the killing frosts and the modest but industrious chinch bug. He has the world on his horns.

CLERGYMEN AND LAYMEN UNITE

In Their Praises of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

Taking the bishop of Toronto, Right Rev. A. Sweatman, D. D., D. C. L., three of the leading members of the faculty of Manchester hall, and men like the Rev. W. H. Withrow, D. D., and others, as representing the Methodist church, all of whom have spoken in high terms of the merits of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and unite with these the warm endorsement of this medicine by the well-known Toronto journalist, W. E. Smith, as representing the laymen, and it must be granted that clergymen and laymen are of one mind touching this truly meritorous medicine. The truth is that everyone who uses the medicine has a good word to say for it.

One short puff of the breath through the blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use. It relieves in ten minutes and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, colds, headache, sore throat, tonsilitis and deafness. Sixty cents. Sample bottle and blower sent on receipt of two three-cent stamps. S. G. Detchon, 44 Church street, Toronto.

Counterfeiting Canadian Quarters.

JACKSON, Mich., May 31.—Mr. Mohr and Eugene Kitteniger, who live near Takonsha, in Calhoun county, were arrested by deputy United States marshal Large, of Detroit, and Sheriff Swayne, of Branch county, for counterfeiting Canadian quarters. A quantity of these and molds were found. Their operations have been quite extensive in Calhoun and Branch counties.

THE DISTRICT DASHES.

The News of the District Condensed From Whig Exchanges.

Jefferson county shippers are paying $10 per ton for hay.

On Tuesday John Hunnichelt died at Morrisburg, aged seventy-two years.

The case of Joseph Theobald, who was convicted of cruelty to animals in the police court at Watertown, N.Y., and admitted to bail, will be argued before the June court of sessions.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small, no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

A young man named Thos. Watt was killed at Kemptville on May 24th. He fired a cannon made of gas pipe, which burst and a piece of the metal penetrated his brain. He was nineteen years old.

Since the organization of the Cape Vincent fire department there has been but three deaths in that body. Ontario hose loses two members, Alfred G. Gregor and Louis Mance, and the engine company one, Frederick Wolfe.

The cheese factory at Calabogie, which has been in course of erection for the last month, reached completion on May 20th and is now running at full blast. This needful industry will be a great boon to the farmers, owing to the very low price of butter.

James Stewart and family, who have been living at Calabogie for the past three years, moved back to their old home in Lanark on Tuesday last. Mr. Stewart has fallen heir to considerable property in Lanark, and this, no doubt, is his reason for returning, as he had become very much attached to Calabogie.

John Rogers has been drilling for water on the Sheley-Armstrong farm, near Chaumont, and the result is an artesian well that will be very valuable. Water was struck at a depth of ninety-four feet and a good sized stream is now gushing from the well with considerable force. The well has attracted people for miles around, as such wells are rare in this section.

ALMOST CRAZY.

Suffering From Constipation—Expected to Be in the Asylum—After all other Remedies Failed B. B. B. Made a Perfect Cure, Restoring Robust Health.

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favor of B. B. B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it. I am a different man now to what I was ten years ago when it was expected that I would be in the asylum, but now I am in perfect robust health and it was the B. B. B. that did it. I suffered for five or six years from constipation, sometimes so severely that I went out of my mind. I tried various doctors, both in the country and in the city, and took medicines too numerous to name, but everything failed to have the desired effect. When I used Burdock Blood Bitters, however, it succeeded beyond all expectations, requiring only two bottles to cure me. To make it still more certain that B. B. B. is the real cure for Constipation, I may say that some two years afterward I felt the symptoms returning and took one bottle more, and from that time to this present day (over eight years) I have never had any return of the disease. I never knew any medicine to work so well. It does not seem to be a mere reliever but a sure and certain cure, as I can certify to, for hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine and advice failed to do me any good, but three dollars' worth of B. B. B. made a permanent cure that has given me years of health and comfort. Yours truly, C. L. KULMER, Toronto.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Interest in the Continued Rise in Cotton and Wheat.

NEW YORK, May 31.—R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review of trade says: More far reaching than any other change during the past week is really warranted by the facts, is the continued rise in prices of wheat and cotton. Real scarcity of either would effect all business, happily there is still room to hope that accounts of injury are greatly exaggerated, although there has been some evidence during the week that both the great crops have suffered more than at first appeared. Other changes are almost all favorable and some highly encouraging. Labor troubles are clearly less threatening. Monetary conditions are satisfactory and the substantial increase in the commercial demands are a good sign. Exchanges through the clearing houses have been greatly inflated by speculation. The iron manufacturers are gaining rapidly. The structural demand is very large, and while the buying in other forms of iron and steel products is still conservative, great confidence prevails that prices will hereafter advance materially. The failures during the past week have been 215 in the United States against 183 last year and thirty-four in Canada against twenty-seven last year.

More Kind Words From Hamilton Regarding the Great Remedy Which Cures Rheumatism In One to Three Days.

Mrs. Phillips, sr., corner Hunter and Grath streets, Hamilton: "Several months ago I was afflicted with rheumatism, which completely crippled me. South American Rheumatic Cure being recommended to me, I procured a bottle and obtained perfect relief from the first few doses. It is without doubt the quickest relief for rheumatism I have ever seen, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from this disease."

A Famine In Cigarettes.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 1.—The recent West Virginia legislature passed a law imposing a license of $500 per annum on retail dealers in cigarettes. The act went into effect on the 23rd inst. Not a retail dealer in the state has yet taken out a license. In consequence there is a cigarette famine, and those wanting cigarettes are obliged to send to Ohio and Pennsylvania for their supply.
