Principal Grant Gives His Reasons Way Am Investigation Into the Grievances Should He Made A Satisfactory Resolution Finally Adopted. Lospos, June 18.—The most the governl assembly was the combatants. Trincipal Caven and Principal pal Grant, upon the Manitoba school ques was to express out and out support of Maki-toba or advise an investigation of the sup-ject, Principal Grant advised the lat-ter course, saying there were two extreme views; that of those who wished to restore the schools in Mani-tobs as viewed by Mr. Edgar, and that of but stand by Manitoba, there being no need for investigation. He took a middle position, that there was need for investigation. 'Manitoba took that ground, and if Will be continued in our present there was a grievance they should know the amount of the grievance. If Principal Caven's motion prevailed the assembly was f practically saying that there was no need for investigation. He found fault with Principal Caven's proposition because it involved the declaration of an abstract proposition, which he did not try to carry out, and because it presents only one side of the case. The resolution declared that education should be in barmony with christianity. but while Principal Caven was not in favor of a secular school system separate from of a secular school system separate mier, and her three daughters and christiahity, yet he was asking the asted Victoria, B.C., where they will spend of Lieut Gov. sembly to affirm a principle that secularists would agree with. He, himself (Principal Grant), had attached great importance to the opening of the schools with prayer,

Ladies' Chemisette Fronts, and he hoped they would get more and not less of religion in the schools, and a principle such as that expressed by the resolution would drive out what little they had, They had been driven step by step to secularism, pure and simple, and in portions of Australia the same had been the case. In the old country this had not been the case. There they had a great deal of religious instruction, and he longed to see the old country styles adopted here. He held that there was a grievance in Manitoba and they should ascertain what it was. The privy council suggested modi-fications, and there were various modifica-In Arrears for Tuxes in the City of There was the Nova Scotia system, where on the general assembly was that it should ask the dominion government to give that investigation by experts. His own individual opinion was that if the dominion government refused that request it would deserve the opposition of every honest man. The question as to separate schools depended on the kind of separate schools they had. Separate schools had hot injured the national unity of Britain, and yet any sort of separate schools could Britain provided they submitted inspection. They were not so frightened there as people are here, tional spirit in Canada as there is in Bri tain. Again, with reference to separate schools in Ontario, he remarked there have been amendments in Ontario since the act of confederation, but the general assembly has not been asked to pronounce upor them. He then referred to the fact the despite the many school taxes, more Roman Catholic children have gone to separate schools in Winnipeg since the new law was passed than before, and held that such a state of things together with the decla ration of the supreme court of the British empire, made it impossible for the general assemble of the liberty-loving Presbyteria church to refuse to ask for an investigation by a committee of experts. Suitable To Everybody.
