Three Children Have a Narrow Escape From Death.

The three children of Archibald Brown, a tailor in the employ of J. H. S. S. & Co., and who resides at 117 lower Bagin Street, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation during the early hours of yesterday morning. Mr. Brown had closed all the dampers of a coal burning stove in the dining room of his home at 10:30 o'clock on Monday night and had then retired, the other members having already done so. The dampers had been closed so tightly as to prevent the gas from the burning coal from escaping in the usual way, and it found its way into the room in some way, when Mrs. Brown arose yesterday morning she had an unusually faint recollection of the children. One of them, in fact, was just verging on unconsciousness when awakened, while the others were heavy and stupid. It had now been some time since they were last seen, and Mrs. Brown, finding their condition so serious, and their lives in danger, immediately sent for her physician.

Business College Notes.

The football team has been practicing hard for the match with the freshmen of Queen's to-morrow afternoon. W. E. Anglin, city, J. Langstaff and H. Mather, Midlandville, were conspicuous in the game. The evening class is steadily increasing and G. M. O'Brien, V. A. Gordon, C. E. Pickering, J. A. Lo Heup are now the stars. Never since the organization of the Philanthropic Society in 1885, has there been such enthusiastic and interest manifested by students and ex-students this year. In organizing this Society Capt. G. M. Lo Heup and J. E. Booth did a view of bringing the students and ex-students together so that they might become better acquainted with each other, and form attachments sometimes not to be broken through life. The communication of officers for the coming year takes place this evening.
