EYE WITNESS DESCRIPTION OF MASSACRES AT TREBIZOND.

Armonians Fursued and Savagely Slaughtered by the Blood-Thirsty Turks-Penned in Buildings and Burned Alive-Russians Brutally Refuse Ald to the Terrified Fugitives. NEW YORK, Nov. 16 .- An eye witness on board the Austrian Lloyd steamship Venus, writes from Trebipond under date of Oct. 8th, giving some details of the massacre of the Armenians at Trebizond.

At seven o'clock this morning our steam' er anchored close to the town of Trebi sand. After all the passengers had landed except the three Europeans, of whom I am one, and the unloading of the cargo had begun, the sound of a shot came from the eastern side of the town, not far, from the shore. Soon shots were fired in quick succession and the whole town was in a state of great excitement. An Armenian rushed frantically round the corner of the custom house, making for the shore, when he was struck by a bullet and fell to the ground. The military came up, and, with their rifles loaded, marched through the streets. Close to where the fallen Armenian lay another one was seized and thrown into the sea. But the water was not deep enough to drown him, and his head appeared above the surface. The people then began to hurl stones at the unfortunate wretch, and a Turk got into a boat, and rowing out to him, smashed in his skull. A boat with three Armenians put on hotly pursued, and there began a race for life and death. Scarcely 100 meters from have been captured, and perfect peace will goal of the fugitives. As they came near, to her the Turks gave up the chase. Brutally and inhumanly the people on board the steamer threw the Armenians down the ship's ladder, Kicking them with their feet. When the Turks saw this they pushed forward with renewed courage and beat the Armenians to death. Three Turkish boatmen seized an Ar senian, one of their mates, threw him out of the boat into the water, beat him about the bead with their oars, and finished up by holding him underneath the water with an our until he was drowned. On the eastern shore an Armenian was shot down. but he was only wounded, for he tried to get up. When the Turks saw this they Turk fractured hisskull with a large stone. The bodies remained in the roadway a day and a half. Two days after the massacre I walked through the town, and my feet were wet with the blood of christians, for the pools of gore, were often so close together that it was impossible to avoid them. On a hill near Trebizond are some Armenian settlements. They were surrounded and set on fire. Anyone who tried to escape was shot down, and the people were burned alive. In the evening

Remarkable

What a difference there is in the quality of drugs and chemicals. Take such a common place thing as a Seidlitz Powder. Ours are made from guaranteed chemically pure material from the English factory of Howard & Sons. You would scarcely believe the difference between ours and the common kind until you try. Of course we don't make as large a profit as some folks do, but it, always pays in the end to have custom ers well pleased.
