Later a society of persons, not otherwise fully occupied, was formed to observe the day of the only English saint made since the reformation, and branch societies have since been started in this country. A portrait of Charles in saintly guise, painted by Oswald Henss, has been hung in the Church of the Evangelist in Philadelphia, and was unveiled with many ceremonies at the recent celebration. Bishop Perry, of lowa, the same who so zealously opposed making Phillips Brooks a bishop, pronounced a eulogy on king Charles, and eight other bishops and Dr. Morgan Dix, of New York, sent their blessings to the service. How many kinds of pious people there are in this interesting world, and how odd the activities of some of them do seem to us, the more prosaic fellows!

About three years ago my husband was very In my hurry I often neglected to properly clothe myself, and contracted several heavy colds, which turned at last to chronic catarri. I tried doctors, who helped me, but did not cure me, and several special catarrh medicines. I was relieved but not cured. I was suffering intolerably when Mr. Shuff recommended me to try CHASE'S CATARRH CURE, and it began at once to help, and in about two months had entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this remarkable medicine, and cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from catarrh." The blower included is a great help to sufferers.
