Committed To Jail.

Yesterday afternoon Leonard Drury, Portsmouth, aged about thirty-five, was committed to jail on a criminal assault.

The plaintiff in the case is the father of Emily Hurst, who swore that early in May defendant assaulted her against her will in her father's barn, Portsmouth. He threatened to kill her if she ever told of the occurrence. For fear he would carry out this threat she refrained from informing her parents at an earlier date. Miss Hurst in her evidence gave her age as D. J. Walker, J.P., before whom the preliminary hearing took place, committed Drury to jail to stand trial at the first court of competent jurisdiction.
