The five o'clock tea at which Mrs. Gas' coigne was entertained, at camp Barrie field last evening, was quite a successful function, Among the invited guests besides Mrs. Gascoigne were : Mrs. Cotton and Miss Cotton, Mrs. Drury and Miss Edith Drury, Mrs. Neilson, Mrs. Ogilvie, Mrs. Prince, Miss Ross, Mrs. Kent; Mrs. Taylor, of Deseronto; Miss E. Macpherson and Mrs. W. Nickle.

At eight o'clock Lieut. Col. Cotton and his staff entertained the major general and Capt. McLean, A.D.C., at dinner. The staff mess tent was very tastily decorated with evergreens, etc., a large portrait her majesty in a star-shaped frame of evergreens and flowers having a place of bonor at each end of the tent. The table presented a pretty sight, with its spotless napery, glittering glassware, and polished silver. Large and handsome bouquets of flowers, placed at Robert Mill, town treasurer, had the mis frequent intervals, lent a pleasing contrast of color. The eatables were served in the best style of staff caterer Devlin, who spared no pains to inticipate and meet the needs of hosts and guests.

The band of the 59th batt., rendered a number of selections during the progress of the repast, and alternating with the music of the band, was the more shrill and piercing melody of the Scottish bagpiper, the regimental piper of the 59th being on duty also.

Lieut. Col. Rory McLellan commands one of the best shooting battalions Canada. A couple of years ago it took first place in the Canadian military league matches with a phenomenally high aggregate, and its place among the crack shoot ing corps is second only to that of the 13th of Hamilton. Last year Capts. Weller and Runians represented the battalion at Bisley, and this year Lieut Smith and Sergt. Corrigan are on the Bisley team. Capt. Weller is one of the finest shots in the dominion, having scored 102 points out of a possible 105 at the C. M. R. league matches last year. The brigade orders issued by Lieut. Col. Private Morgan, No. 6 Co., 59th batt., was sent home from camp yesterday ill. The denomination returns sent in by the 46th, 49th and 59th battalions show that in the first named corps there are 126 Methodists, sixty-three Anglicans, thirtytwo Presbyterian and six Roman Catholics. The 59th has 107 Presbyterians, seventyfour Roman Catholics, fifty-nine Angli cans, and forty-six Methodists. The 49th has 175 Methodists, forty-two Anglicans, twenty-seven Presbyterians and eighteen Roman Catholics.

The field batteries are not allowed to have hospital sergeants in camp. The staff-sergeants had their photo-

Since camp opened there have been no accidents, and the only serious cases of illness were the two diphtheria cases. Sydney Anderson, of Cornwall, aged thirteen is a most expert "twirler" of

PROUD OF THE BAND.

A Kingstonian Says Citizens do Not Fully Appreciate Dur Excellent Band. Kingston, June 25.—(To the Editor) In reading of some features and incidents of the queen's jubilee in London I was reminded of an incident which made an impression on the minds of thousands of people who were congregated on Windsor and Dorchester streets and the Windsor square in Montreal on Tuesday night last. The 14th battalion band had been giving one of its popular concerts at the club St. James, manignificent and entrancing music that floated out over the area from the balcony of the grand building of this most wealthy of Montreal clubs. About 10:30 the band was formed up in front of the building as though on parade, ready to march off. Bandmaster Carey raised his baton and the strains of "God save the Queen" came pouring out, I venture to say, as it has never been heard before in any city outside of London, England. The multitude of people bared their heads, and at the conclusion of the rendition of the national anthem, for a moment an intense silence reigned, broken by the quiet command of the bandmaster, "By the right; quick march." Then the people, as by preconcerted sction, broke into applause, and cheer after cheer arose as the bandsmen swung along. playing the grand old regimental march of the corps. On reaching Windsor square the multitude of people was so great and the demand for music from the band so prolonged, ladies more particularly requesting it, that Mr. Carey halted the band at the junction of Windsor Square and Dorchester street. The bandsmen played for some time for the people and finished with 'God Save the Queen." This time at the conclusion the people cheered and called for an encore as though they would never be satisfied, but the band had to proceed on to their regimental headquarters to escort the regiment to the train, the people cheering the bandemen to the echo as they moved off. For once I felt I would like to be a member of the band of our city corps. Citizens do not appreciate them; they have to go away to be properly estimated. A grander tribute to genuine merit it would be hard to pay

THE CANADIAN REQUIREMENTS ARE AMPLY SUFFICIENT.

What the Collector of Customs at Cape Vincent, N. Y., Required-The Matter Referred to Washington-Keep the Range Light Full in View.

Last week the collector of customs a Cape Vincent, N. Y., issued an order forbidding the steamer Pierrepont, when having passengers aboard, going around the head of Wolfe Island on her ferry trips to and from Kingston and Cape Vincent The requirements set up by the American government touching the outfit that lake going steamers must carry are different from those of Canada. The steamer was fitted out according to the Canadian requirements, sufficient in every particular, but the Cape Vincent collector thought the steamer must comply with the American requirements as well. The matter was referred to the authorities at Washington for settlement, the exact condition of affairs being set forth. Meanwhile the officers of the steamer complied with the command issued by the Cape Vincent collector. Yesterday an answer arrived, to the effect that the Canadian requirements as fulfilled were sufficent, and that the steamer could make her trips by way of the head of the island. The change of route made a difference of an hour in the trip each way.

Keep On The Ranges.

An old mariner, who watched the steamer Norwalk enter port last evening and noted the careful manner in which the pilot kept the range lights in view, says that if all laden craft entering the barbor would keep the range lights in line until well abreast of the M.T. Co's long wharf before hauling in shore, there would not be any danger of going on the shoal off Richardson & sons' elevator. He says the error which strange pilots make is in hauling too close in shore immediately after passing Martello tower, thus steering in a direct line for the shoal that exists all along that section. He says there are nineteen feet of water in the regular channel.

Marriage.

Some speak of wedded life As if it were all gloom, They fear to take a wife Lest with her, woe should come: In rapturous strains they do profess They're love of "single blessedness."

Yet who so well prepared To face the storms of life, As he who has secured A faithful, loving wife? She shares your joys and sorrows too-If you're not married, quickly woo. -But take sufficient time To choose a worthy wife,

That you may ne'er repine At being wed for life To one who proves she does not care Your pains to soothe, your ills to share. And, having found the pearl Of priceless worth to you. Prove to the trusting girl A husband, kind and true; Then sweet affection, lovely tree,

Will ever bloom, and bloom for thee.
