Gen. Montesgudo Hangs All His Prisoners on the Battle Field Where He Captured Them-Retailation Will be the Policy Hereafter if Spain Continues Her Murderous Ways.

Havana, June 26 .- The Cuban general Chucho Monteagudo has begun to take retaliatory measures against the Spanards for the outrages committed by their guerrilla forces in Santa Clara province. A onteagudo, for more than three months past, has been asking permission from Gen. Gomez to retaliate against the Spaniards on the ground that the policy of clemency and humanity pursued by Gen. Gomez was met by the enemy with the massacre of sick and wounded Cubans in the hospitals and the assassination of prisoners of war. At last Gen. Gomez sent permission to Monteagudo to act as he desired

f, after first warning the Spaniards, they should continue their inhuman conduct. Monteagudo sent the warning to the Spanish military commander at Santa Clara, and the answer came in the form of a raid upon a Cuban hospital by the guerrilla force of Camajuani and the murder of a sick Cuban officer and two nurses. Monteagudo then prepared an ambush or the Camajuani men at a place named Palo Prieto, where they often went n search of cattle. The Spaniards fell nto the ambuscade, and a hard hand to hand fight ensued. One Spanish captain and seventeen soldiers were killed and thirty-five Spanish soldiers and one lieutenant were captured. The rest fled n disorder. A few minutes after the engagement was over Monteagudo hanged his thirty-six prisoners on the

"If you do not treat us as belligerents," he wrote again to the Spanish commander at Santa Clara, "and if you continue to murder our prisoners, we will treat you as bandits.

This is the beginning of a terrible retaliation which tien. Weyler's methods has provoked and which will soon extend to all the provinces.

The Spaniards are not showing any signs of being deterred by their new Cuban policy from their barbarous work. This morning Tomas Amores, Antonio Jordan, and Isidro Carmona were shot in the Cabana fortress here "for having helped" the revolution, which means that they have suffered death merely because of their sympathy with free Cuba. The three men, who had not taken arms against, Spain, but were arrested while peacefully engaged in their vocations at their homes, died bravely, as all the Cuban patriots shot before them have died.

At Trinidad over 400 peaceful countrymen, of all sexes and ages, have been concentrated by orders of Gen. Weyler. They were driven to th etown in an awful condition of misery by the column of Gen. Prats. Their end will be the same as that of their predecessorsdeath from starvation. Gen. Weyler gave strict orders to Prats not to allow them to seek for any food outside

Annie's parents two months ago noiced a slight stiffness in her movements and a peculiar hardness in her flesh. Local physicians were consulted, but could do nothing for her. On the advice of Drs. Hurlbut and Shavoir, of Stamford, she was taken to New York city and placed in a private sanitarium at No. 4, East Thirty-seventh street. Here many experiments were made in the attempt to soften the girl's flesh, which is now as hard a; wood. The

In the presence of twenty leading scientific investigators, New York physicians, the young girl was put through a course of treatment that included everything that doctors could think of for her relief and the softening of the Will be issued by the KINGSTON BUSINESS flesh. The experts say that the disease must have been a full year in reaching its present stage. The girl's case is a rare one, and they were anxious to keep her in New York for the purpose of experiment, but to this her parents would not agree, and she now remains quietly at home. A peculiarity of the caseone that puzzles the physicians-is the fact that the girl is still able to use her limbs. She is kept from school, and exercises as much as growing stiffness of her limbs will permit, this being the advice of the physicians. Little Annie remains sunny and bright under her affliction. Her vital organs are still unimpaired, but if the creeping hardness reaches the heart or if calcareous deposits form in the blood her life will be very short. So little is known of the disease that treatment of it must be entirely experimental, and the chances of arresting its progress are not good.

Mr. Waterbury will probably soon reconsider his decision not to have his daughter treated in New York, and send her there to receive the attendance of the best specialists in America.

FACTS FOR THE FARMER.

A Talk On The Unlocking of Plant Food In

The Soil

Mineral is better known to exist in an inexhaustible supply in the soil, but in different forms-sometimes in comfinations that have resulted in cultivation, and also in an original condition. The portion available for crops are those that have been rendered soluble from some cause-heat, oxygen, moisture, and the action of roots being the agents constantly at work effecting changes. In the soil the rocks and stones are rich in the elements of plant fcod, and are beyond the reach of plants because they are insoluble. But though the action is slow the rocks and stones are ever being demolished, articles being given oif at all times, which in the future become assimilable to plants. Down in the soil exist large deposits of mineral matter, and as long as they are within the power of the plants to be converted into plant food, growth will occur, but when the plant food is removed by crops faster than the mineral matter is rendered soluble the soil becomes poorer, and in the course of time as more of the existing mineral matter becomes soluble the soil gradually returns to fertility and can be induced to again produce crops, the restoration to fertility depending upon many conditions which exist according to the location of the farm, the kind of soil, the limate and the management of the far-, The means used by farmers to reduce thing they ever used. The alkalies hasten the decay of vezetable matter, and thus decomposition also causes chemical action by which the breaking-down processes are continued, but time may be useless on soils that alound in potash and phosphates, which are ready for the use of plants.

The farmer has a storehouse of plant fcod in his soil, and his object should be to reach it and appropriate it. It is cheaper to get at the plant food in the soil by direct means than to wai for the slow processes of nature. It is not only by the application of fertilizers, manure or chemical agents, that he can secure the stored mineral matter, but also by the growing of crops under systematic course of rotation and cultivation of the soil, which barnesses for his assistance the frosts, rains, sunlight and air, as the crops return to the soil the matter which has been taken therefrom when harvested and fed to stock. Every time a crop is grown more plant. food is made available, but crops differ in their preference for food, some utilizing less mineral matter than others. There is always chemical decomposition existing in the soil, which is hastened or retarded according to the kind of crop grown, and its treatment

THE HISTORY OF THE ORDER

Special interest will attach to the honors which have been conferred upon the Canadian premier, upon whom the cable despatches state the queen has conferred the title of Knight of the Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, (G.C.M.G.). This order was originally established in 1818 to commemorate the placing of the Ionian islands under the protectorate of Great Britain. It was thus limited at first to natives of these islands and of Malta, and to "such other subjects of his majesty as may hold high and confidential situations in the Meditterangan." In 1832 its three classes were fixed at the numbers of lifteen, twenty, and twenty-five respectively, but it was enlarged successvely in 1868, 1877, 1879 and 1887 till it has come to be assignable to any person who has rendered valuable services in other colonial or foreign affairs. It now comprises the sovereign the grand master or principal knight, grand cross, a number of royal princes, with possibly extra or honorary memlers, and the regular knights. The decorations ar ethe badge, star, collar, ribbon, mantle and chapeau. The badge is white enammeled, and resembling a Maltese cross, but with seven arms instead of four, on one side it represents the archangel Michael encountering Satan, and on the other St. George and the dragon. Around each of these designs is the motto, "Auspicium melioris nevi" (the token of a better age); above the whole badge is a crown attaching at to the collar. The star of a knight grand cross consists of seven rays of silver spreading in the manner of a Maltese cross, and with narrow ones of gold between, while in the centre is the figure of St. George with the motto and the extremeties of the four arms of a cross protruding from beneath this central circle. The collar is made up of crowned liens (the two in the front having wings), Maltese crosses and ciphers of the letters S.M. and S.G., with a crown in the front centre, slightly within the circle, all gold, except the crosses, which are of there were only sixty-five members of the first class. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Let The Drill Be Continued. KINGSTON, June 28 - (To the Editor) Now that the 14th P.W.O.R. have covered themselves with glory while in Montreal, and have won golden opinions from all quarters, it seems a pity that the drill should die out just when most of the men are willing to go on. This could be got over if some generous-minded public citizen would donate a cup, as is done in other cities, to be competed for by the different companies, during the next two months, for instance. This would be such an incensive to the companies that it would undoubtedly make the battalion the crack corps of anything in or near Eastern Ontario, and make them all the fitter to enter their new drill hall .- Non. ATARRH " Mrs. Dobell, of London, Ont., Gured for 25 Cents

Doctors Could Help, but Couldn't Cure-Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure Released the Prisoner, and To-day She is as Well as Ever-She Says It is a Great Remedy

"Yes, I am Mrs. Dobell," said a comely pleasant-faced woman at her home on Horton street to a News reporter to-day, "and I will very gladly tell you what you want to know. About three years ago my husband was very ill, and I had frequently occasion to rise in the night and go for a doctor or to the druggist. In my hurry I often neglected to properly clothe myself, and contracted several heavy colds, which turned at last to chronic catarrh. I tried doctors, who helped me, but did not cure me, and several special catarrh medicines. I was relieved but not cured, I was suffering intolerably when Mr. Shuff recommended me to try CHASE'S CATARRH CURE, and it began at once to help, and in about two months bad entirely cured me, I cannot speak too highly of this remarkable medicine, and cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from catarrh. The blower included is a great help to sufferers.

CURED BY

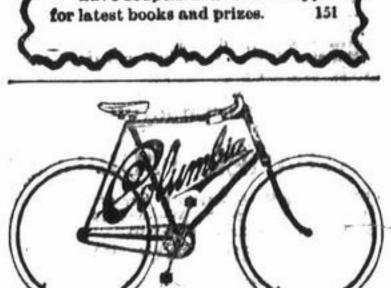

I have been troubled for some years with urinary trouble. I could not hold my urine. Was constantly broken of my rest, as I had to get up six or eight times every night. I tried doctors and many remedies without getting any relief until one of my friends advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I felt relieved from the first box and six boxes completely cured me. 1 cannot thank you enough for the new lease of life and comfort your Dodd's Kidney Pills has given me.
