WOODS' -:- FAIR.

Remarkable results for February sales have far exceeded our expectation. A large amount of goods has been distributed by us throughout city and country. Hundreds of homes have been made richer, happier, more comfortable by those who have taken advantage of these sales. Our plans for March are laid with the determination to make it the most interesting and lively business month ever experienced by any retail house in Kingston. Last month our sales were large, our prices low and bargains great. This month's sales are to be larger; prices still lower, and bargains greater. A lot of fine purses which have been selling at 75c., we offer 25c. Our elegant bread box, 65c; 75c. and 85c; handsome goblets and fancy tumblers, 4c each; china egg cups with gold band 20c per dozen; soaps—4 cakes glycerine for 10c. Pear's celebrated English soap two cakes for 25c.; Baby's own soap 10c; white castile, 7c.; 10 bars best ruby family for 25c; 7 bars best electric soap in the world for 25c. Large box Eddy's best matches, 9c; 3 doz. clothes pegs, 7c; toilet paper, 1,000 sheets for 10c. Full line of all kinds thermometers, storm glasses at half the usual price. We expect to have a bargain day every day for some time. Come. This has been a disastrous year for business, many failures and the selling of goods at prices without reference to cost of making or value; in times like these our stores are looked to furnish relief to those in distress. If you understand it you would not wonder as some do how we can make one dollar, buy more than two elsewhere. WOODS' FAIR, Corner Princess and Wellington Streets, Kingston, Ont.

SPEECH.

WATER PRESENTS HIS FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The Tariff Resolutions—Many Changes—25 Cents per Barrel Additional on Flour—Increased Rates on Meats—The Fruit Duties Replaced.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Hon. Mr. Foster in opening his Budget speech congratulated the House on the prosperous condition of the country, the general trade having somewhat exceeded that of the previous year, the railway building being fairly vigorous and the volume of traffic larger than ever before. Ocean freight have been high and the vessel owners in the Maritime Provinces and on the lakes have reaped a rich harvest.

The Northwest settlement has progressed, a satisfactory ingress being established. On the whole the condition was one of fair prosperity within the country, and there had been something done also towards forming swift communications between Canada and distant portions of the world. The contracts for the Canadian Pacific fast steamers had been let; the Atlantic fast service promised to be arranged for shortly; the West Indies service subsidized last year had been inaugurated.

Proceeding then to give the first financial statement, he said this satisfactory result was shown with respect to the revenue:

	Estimated.	Actual.
Customs	$26,589,971	$23,736,78
Excise	7,000,000	7,000,00
Miscellaneous	7,999,189	8,159,64
Total	$38,601,359	$38,782,87

This gave an increase of $181,576 over the estimate. Looking back for a year it was found that there was in 1888-89 an increase of $2,874,408 over 1887-88, and the increase of this last named year over 1886-87 was $455,950.

The actual surplus of this year was $1,865,909, against $1,900,000 estimated—the revenue being as shown above and the expenditure $36,917,853 against $36,600,000 estimated. As compared with 1887-8 there was a surplus of $1,365,035 against a deficit of $810,031 and the surplus and sinking fund was $3,601,679 against $1,129,046. The capital expenditure during the year was as follows:

	Estimated.	Actual.	Difference.
R.R. and Canals	$2,773,767	$2,682,774	$ 909,95
Public Works	388,700	575,408	186,70
Dominion Lands	10,000	130,694	30,69
N. W. Rebellion	1,203	31,448	30,24
Red. Debt	3,056,386	3,316,091	431,90
R. R. Subsidies	1,188,428	846,721	396,70
Total	$7,557,586	$8,783,126	$1,345,54
Total less redemption debt			$5,397,09
			5,464,52

The net debt on July 1, 1888, was $236,431,354, and on July 1, 1889, $237,537,041, an increase of $2,908,683. The past year shows a gain over 1887-8 of $2,874,408, or 8 p.c., while the increased expenditure was $199,339, or 5½ p.c.

The surplus was $1,865,935 against a deficit of $810,031 in 1887-8. The surplus and sinking fund were $3,601,679 against $1,109,046. The capital expenditure was $5,397,090 against $5,464,521, and the increase of the debt $2,908,683 against $7,317,447.

Passing to the year 1889-90 the situation was found to compare thus with the estimate made last session:

REVENUE.	Estimated 1889.	Receipts to March 20, 1890.
Customs	$23,800,000	$17,350,355
Excise	7,125,000	5,179,128
Miscellaneous	8,150,000	5,460,068
Total	$39,175,000	$27,979,58

Adding the estimated receipts for the balance of the year on the basis of 1889, we get the following amended estimate for 1889-90:

Customs	$24,000,000
Excise	7,000,000
Miscellaneous	8,300,000
Total	$39,300,000

against the estimate of $39,175,000.

The expenditure to March 20, 1890, has been $28,353,399. That from March 20 to June 30, on the basis of 1889, will probably be $13,871,674, making a total on this basis of $36,525,073. But having regard to larger supplementaries for 1889-90, we next estimate the expenditure at $36,500,000, the original estimate, in which case the surplus will equal $2,700,000 as against $1,865,935 in 1888-9.

With reference to capital expenditure, including subsidies to railways, he made this comparison between the estimates and the actual expenditures to March 20:

	Estimate.	Expended to March 20
Railways and canals	$3,836,321	$2,399,442
Public works	407,000	398,06
Dominion lands	100,000	30,09
Redemption of debt	2,417,267	1,806,50
Railway subsidies	1,095,939	1,510,29

This gives a total expenditure to March 20 of $6,052,647, to which must be added $1,000,000 for railways and canals, public works and Dominion lands, $610,765 for redemption of debt and $400,000 for railway subsidies, adding $2,010,765 to the total and making a grand total of expenditure of $8,043,412, against an estimate of $7,855,000. The excess was due to larger expenditure on railway subsidies than was expected.

The capital expenditure, including railway subsidies and not counting the redemption of the debt, was $5,626,145. The surplus and sinking fund amounted to $4,490,000, so that the real addition to the debt is $1,136,145.

For the year 1890-91 he felt warranted in making this estimate of receipts:

Customs	$23,500,000
Excise	7,000,000
Miscellaneous	8,700,000
Total	$39,200,000

The estimated expenditure on consolidated fund was as follows:

Estimates already down	$36,095,442
Further increase	604,552
Total	$36,700,000

Thus there would probably be a surplus of about $2,500,000 so far as 1890-91 was concerned.

He then proceeded to enumerate the changes in the tariff, prefacing his remarks.

For a year or two there has been considerable discussion with reference to flour duties. It had been decided to give an advance of 25c. per barrel on flour, so as to equalize it with the duty on wheat. This was expected to keep the market for the Canadians without materially increasing the price of flour to consumers.

Added protection would be given to another of the great farming products. The time was felt to have come for a duty to give protection against United States competition to the articles of meats of various kinds and products of that class. There was no reason why Canada should not raise her own consumption of meat, and the Government had come to the conclusion to raise the duty in this way:

Mess pork and pork from 1c. to 1½c. per lb.

All salted and fresh meats, from 1c to 2c to 3c.

Prepared meats, 3c. to 3c.

Fried lard, 2c. to 3c.

Unfried lard, ½c. to 2c.

Live cattle, hogs and sheep to have the duty raised from 20 p.c. to 30 p.c.

It was proposed also to have something to do with corn duties. The people of the Maritime Provinces especially used corn most very largely. It was proposed that a rebate of 10 p.c. should be given of the duty paid on corn imported for corn meal.

It was also proposed that molasses, now taxed 15 p.c., should when imported from the place of production be lowered about one-half, and that the duty should be 1½c. per gallon, the test to be lowered, too, from 30 to 35. Molasses was used very largely in the Maritime provinces. In New Brunswick molasses of good grade was very widely used in rural sections. By the change in the corn and molasses duties the Maritime Provinces would be compensated for the increase in flour.

As to fruits, shrubs, plants and the like, these had been placed on the free list in 1888 in accordance with a standing offer to the United States in consequence of representations made in Parliament. Considerable duty had been lost in consequence and much loss inflicted on persons engaged in that industry in Canada, who were hampered by state laws from pushing their trade in the United States, whilst the people of that country had free range in Canada. It was now proposed to put upon these articles the same duty as existed before 1888, with the exception that the duty on blackberries, gooseberries, raspberries and strawberries would be 3c. in place of 4c. Some fruits not grown in Canada were now placed on the free list.

The new duties go into effect from March 28. Following is the schedule of dutiable goods:

(1) Acid, acetic and pyroligneous, n.e.s.; and vinegar. A special duty of 15c. for each gallon of any strength not exceeding a strength of proof, and for each degree of strength in excess of the strength of proof an additional duty of 1c. The strength of proof shall be held to be equal to 6 p.c. of absolute acid, and in all cases the strength shall be determined in such manner as may be established by the Governor-in-Council.

(2) Acid, acetic and pyroligneous, of any strength, when imported by dyers, calico printers or manufacturers of acetates or colors for exclusive use in dying or printing, or for the manufacture of such acetates or colors in their own factories under such regulations as may be established by the Governor-in-Council, a duty of 25c. per gallon and 20 p.c. ad val.
