pital Results Futally. HAMILTON, April 80. - The story of a fata piece of carelessness, says The Spectator tonight, has fust leaked out. Last autumn man was brought to the city hospital who was suffering from an aggravated form yealed the fact that one of his kidneys was paratively healthy. A consultation was ? by the physicians of the medical staff who were then in attendance and it was decided to perform the delicate operation of removing the diseased kidney. The doctor who was chosen to perform the operation did the preliminary work of cutting open his patient with neatness and dispatch. The diseased organ was lait open view. One of the kidneys was abnormally large. This the doctor immediately pounced upon as the diseased one and he promptly cut it out. After this was done one of the staff who was standing by, mildly suggested that perhaps the kidney which had been remove was not the diseased kidney at all. An investigation proved that this was actually the Ald, Gillespie, Toronto, has gone to New States and is deprived of his liberty by examined as to the finding and identification of away was the healthy one; its abnormal size It can be retained and digested when every other food is rejected. It contains all the do, the other kidney being so diseased that it and it had shrunken up to half its natural size. But it was too late to remedy the blunder. There was nothing left to do but to sew the poor fellow up again after having deprived him of his healthy kidney, and left him with his useless diseased one. Of course the poor patient died a little while
