LABRADOR'S TERRIBLE TRAGEDY Details of the Manner in Which Oliver

Killed His Children and Hunself, St. Johns, Nfid., July 24,-The steamer Panther brings the news of a terriple tragedy in Labrador. Thomas Oliver had lived for nine years at Pig Brook, Stag Bay, Labrador, with his wife and five children. May 4 he told his son to go across the river and hunt for partridges; he also sent his wife and daughter out to pick wild tea. Oliver then took his Bible and lay down on the bed. Before leaving his wife took the infant boy, six When on the ice about half way across river she heard the report of a gun. Looking around she saw the dogs running from the door. Thinking nothing was wrong she con tinued her fourney.

After she and her daughter had gathered all the tea they wanted they returned home. There they beheld a sickening sight. On the floor, was the baby. On taking it up the mother discovered that its, head had been battered to pieces. The next sight that met her horrifled gaze was the body of daughter, 11 years old. She was in a sitting posture on the floor, with her head fearfully mangled, while across her legs lay a toy, six years old, with his band split open. He lived

Mrs. Oliver next discovered the body gun grasped in his hands and a bullet hole through his head. The distracted mother, after waiting till her boy died, ran down Scal Cove, three miles away, where her nearest neighbors lived, and told her awful story. The victims were buried near the house which the prime was committed. The gu was put in the murderer's coffin. The child ren were killed with an axa. Melancholy caused the crime.

Sen Controversy is Viewed. Lindon, July 25.—The Telegraph regrets the asperity of the tone of Mr. Blaine in the Behring sea despatches. "England," it says, "is atrong enough to be calm and courteous, and is sufficiently fond of peace to disregard Mr. Bisine's petulance. Ameriwith a curious dislike of England, while every Englishman now feels a kind of a family pride in the strength of America question beyond sceing fair play. The dispute, resting on history, treaties, recorded rights and purchased privileges, constitutes a clean case for reference."

It concludes with the auggestion that King Humbert of Italy or Emperor William The Times says the correspondence leaves matters worse. Under the sinister influences of party pressure, President Harrison and Mr. Blaine have become more exacting, and have advanced, in an irreconcilable spirit, claims about which they once expressed diffidence. The question is now at a dead look, although the last word is far from reassuring. Both countries must feel that the dispute is unworthy of a serious quarrel. Surely America is the last nation to admit an extreme development of maritime rights.

The States Must Arbitrate. New York, July 25 .- A Washington deepatch to the Herald says the publication of the Behring Sea correspondence has re-moved the one cause of irritation that has vexed two great countries for several years. In helf an hour from the time that Captain Hunter boarded the warship the Espiegle was signalled as follows: "The Espiegle is ordered to leave the dry dock at once." In another hour the dock was full of water and the Espiegle floated out, the Elder taking her place. The admiral also offered any assistance in his power, sending a large number of man-ofwar men to assist in docking the Elder. This prompt and courteous action of Admiral Hotham has without doubt saved the ship and will result in saving a very large amount of money to the American company owning her. . At one o'clock the Gustave Oscar hove in sight and the men on the Egypt took their boats and got aboard the German vessel, where they watched the burning steamer until midday. Several of the Egypt's crew declare the steamer lacked two of her proper complement of boats. Many cattle on the Egypt were suffocated and the others, half roasted, rushed overboard, roaring madly. The scene was hor rible in the extreme. At Dover the ship wrecked sailors were taken care of at the sailors' home. According to an official statement the fire occurred 1,100 mile from land. The flames first appeared among bales of cotton stored over the boiler. The fire dried up the pumps until at last they refused to work.

The Cession of Heligoland. LONDON, July 24 .- In the House of Commons to-day Sir James Fergusson moved that the bill providing for the cession of Haligoland to Germany pass its second reading. He advocated the bitt.

Mr. Gladstone made a speech in support of the African portion of the Anglo-German agreement. He paid a tribute to Lord Salis bury for the part he had taken in effecting the agreement, which he urged was conceived in a spirit of regard for the best interests of England, Mr. Gladstone blamed the Government for not securing beforehand an agreement with France regarding Zanzibar, He said the House had never before been asked to vote a cession of territory. There had been several cessions of territory without the consent of the Commons being asked. He was not disposed to make a precedent on a subject of profound practical importance in the constitution and would therefore decline to vote on the

The debate was adjourned. Blaine Smart but Wrong. LONDON, July 25,-The Chronicle says Mr. Blaine proves himself an abler ma controversy than Lord Salisbury, although having a worse case to fend. The representatives of seem mere babies in the hands of Mr. Blaine. It is obvious that Lord Salisbury at an early his inferiority in dialectic skill to his opponent, lost his temper and deliberately insulted Mr. Blaine by declaring he conducted | no more desirable location for a hotel could the negotiations in the interests of a be conceived. The people of Kingston alone party and not of the country.
