CARD OF THANKS.

I DESIRE TO THANK THE CITIZENS' INSURANCE COMPANY for their prompt and satisfactory settlement of my loss by fire, which entirely destroyed my dwelling and contents.

MR. McCANN, the Agent at Kingston, was advised of the loss on August 24th, and on the 26th the claim was admitted, a cheque following a few days later.

This is probably one of the most expeditious acts that has yet taken place in fire insurance business in this district, and for this reason I would strongly recommend this old Canadian Company to all intending insurers.

Prince Edward County Show.

PICTON, Sept. 10.—Prince Edward county fair was held yesterday and to-day, and was the most successful of any exhibition ever held in the county. The crystal palace, lately erected, was found too small to contain the exhibits entered, and the lower part of the grand stand had to be utilized for the grain, dairy, fruit and other farm products. It was also filled to its utmost capacity. The exhibits of ladies' work numbered over 700 and the fine arts nearly as many. In the latter the exhibits of the ladies of the county and town were excellent and creditable, supplemented by very fine selections of water colors and oil paintings from Miss Wrenshall, of Kingston, and Miss L. A. Moore, also of Kingston. Horses, cattle and other stock were excellingly fine. The exhibition was opened by Prof. Mills, of the Ontario agricultural college. Altogether the county society can congratulate itself on this great success. The membership numbers nearly 700. There were 1,000 more entries this year than ever before.

Cape Vincent Fair.

CAPE VINCENT, N.Y., Sept. 11. — Although the second day of Cape Vincent fair opened with rain people commenced coming in town at an early hour and the attendance was much better than on the previous day. The show is first class in every department outside of the flowers. The races were good. The crowd took more interest in the ball game between Wolfe Island and Clayton which resulted in a score of 15 to 10 in favor of Clayton. Had the weather been pleasant the score would have been much better. The following horses entered in the two year old class: "Nancy Lee," 1; "Disturber," 2; "Cold Moll," 3; time, 2, 1:55, 1:53. In the third year old race "Grace B.," 1; "Flora H.," 2; "Henry C.," 3; time, 2:59, 2:57, 3. This promises to be the day and a big time is anticipated. Cape Vincent and Clayton will play ball this afternoon.

An Assessment Levied.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Considerable interest has been awakened in labor circles here by the announcement that the knights of labor have levied an assessment of 25c per head on all members of the organization for the benefit of the New York Central strikers. Some unfavorable comment is made in view of the fact that even the most sanguine say that it looks like bolstering a forlorn hope.

Diamonds Only Paste.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Diamonds supposed to be worth $10,000 were taken by the customs inspectors from W. H. Medhurst, a young Englishman on his arrival here, a few days ago. Investigation shows diamonds are made of paste, their value is about $75.

Secure your seats for "Against the World." Plan at Henderson's bookstore.

Perfectly dry slabs and edgings at Crawford's wood and coal yard, foot Queen street.

The billy goat may not be a brainy man, but he does a good deal of head work just the same.

Attend clearing sale of furnishings now going on at O'Brien & Howland's.

Organist—This music reminds me of history. Listener—Why? Organist—Because of the frequency of foot notes in it.

Cashmere hose from 12c per pair at R. McFaul's.

Men's suits, the cheapest, at B. Silver's

"You are charged with having fired this hotel because you had been discharged." "Yes, your honor. But they fired me first."

Cashmere hose, full fashioned, in three different qualities at R. McFaul's.

A married man's a hub, they say,
As if it were a joke;
And probably the thing is true,
A wife's so like a spoke.

Preserving plums at Crawford's.

Mrs. McCrackle—Miss Livewayt is a whole soled girl, isn't she? McCrackle—Whole soled! I should say she was! She's from Chicago.

Overcoats, very cheap, at B. Silver's.

"A toad gets angrier than any other animal." "I wonder why?" "I suppose it is because if he loses his temper at all he gets hopping mad."

The firemen parade to-night headed by the 14th battalion band in uniform.

Five year old William was talking about his knuckles, and his brother asked what he meant. "I mean the little elbows on my fingers," was the ready reply.

Hardy will offer a job lot of corsets at 25c. a pair on Friday only.

Philosopher—An egg is entirely unlike a human being. Pupil—In what respect? Philosopher—Why, it gets hardened to a boil and doesn't mind it at all.

Hams that are hams at Crawford's.

Working pants, very cheap, at B. Silver's.

Alphonse—Ah, Gertrude, what a fine knowledge of anatomy you have. Gertrude—How do you mean? Alphonse—It only took you a minute to find my heart.

The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation company are issuing tickets to Toronto and return at $4 during the exhibition there.

Breakfast bacon and hams, J. Crawford.

Selby—Do you know that Coldspring, the temperance lecturer, always takes something before he goes to bed? Dumpsey—No! What does he take? Selby—A bath.

Velvet pile, reversible velvet and knitted wool shawls in endless variety at R. McFaul's.

"Jinks, the man we nominated for the legislature, refuses to run." "What's his reason?" "He says it's against his principles. He used to be a messenger boy, years ago."

Go to James Campbell's for slabs, edgings and shingle wood, perfectly dry; sawed wood, one or two cuts, and all of the best quality.

"How's speculation?" asked the bee. "Bad," said the fly. "I got pinched in a sugar corner last week, and my father is so deep in molasses I'm afraid he'll never get out again."

Plums, pears and grapes at J. Crawford's.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

Paragraphs of Interest to Those Engaged on the Lakes.

The str. Kathleen is on her last trip to Montreal and Ottawa.

The prop. Niagara is unloading deals at the M. T. company's dock.

The barge Alice Pacy is loading phosphate at Richardson's dock.

Reported at Port Dalhousie: S. H. Dunn, Kingston to Ashtabula, iron ore.

Clearances: Schr. Eliza White, 2,900 ties, Charlotte; str. Algerian, Montreal.

The tugs Thompson and Walker, with six barges arrived last night from Montreal.

The yacht Atalanta, recently damaged by fire at Charlotte, has been taken to Brighton.

The steamer Omaha, bound up the Welland canal, ran aground on a mitre sill in the lock, detaining her for some hours.

The str. Algerian on her Saturday trip will go via the bay of Quinte and the Murray canal, calling at Belleville and Brighton.

Arrivals: STR. Pamport, Alexandria Bay; schr. Julia, Fairhaven, coal; prop. Niagara, Manistee, deals; prop. Lake Michigan, Toledo, corn.

Reported at Port Colborne: Schr. Homer, Chicago to Kingston, corn; Tecumseh and barge, Collins Bay to Serpent River; Emerald, Kingston to Port Elgin.

The str. Annie Laurie was sold by S. B. Hance, Cape Vincent, to J. B. Hicks, of Cleveland, for $4,000. She will be run between Cleveland and Rocky River.

Capt. Forrester, of the Island Wanderer, says this has been a great season on the Ogdensburg Alexandria Bay route. He carried more passengers and freight than ever before.

Capt. Sweet, in one sense the pioneer of steamboat travel on the St. Lawrence, established in 1872 the route between Cape Vincent and Alexandria Bay with the James Kelly, (now the Islander) and a little later the route between Clayton and the Bay with the J. F. Maynard, both of which boats Mr. Sweet sold to the St. Lawrence river steamboat company.

The steamer Bon Voyage is to be built this winter in Sangatuck for service between Rochester and the islands. She will have accommodation for 300 cabin passengers, state rooms above and below, promenade on hurricane deck forward and aft, 30x 30, three masts, steam arch from end to end, built with concave sides, engine inclosed in iron and lighted throughout with electricity. The str. Pilgrim, at present on the route, will be thoroughly remodelled.

MORGANS IS CHAMPION.

HIS BOUTS WITH THE GREAT AMERICAN SWORDSMAN.

The Affair Was Quite Tame as McGregor Was No Match For Morgans — Many Pleasing Events in Connection With the Night's Enjoyment.

The long-looked for contest between Sergt. Major Morgans and Prof. McGregor, now of Cleveland, Ohio, late of the Imperial army, was the means of drawing a great crowd to the new skating rink last night. The interest taken in the affair by the sports of the city was intense as was evidenced by the eager attention with which the engagements were watched.

The entertainment was opened by the selection "The Waits" by the battery band after which Sergt. Jacobs stepped to the front and blew the "fall in" at which the two contestants and their seconds, Sergt. Boutillier for Morgans and Sergt.-Major Stroud for McGregor, Capt. Hudon referee, and Harry Redmond, master of ceremonies, stepped to the centre of the rink amid the applause of the spectators. Mr. Redmond read the rules govering the contests and introducing Prof. McGregor mentioned the fact that he was not an American, as was supposed by many, but a Scotchman.

The first engagement was foil vs. foil. This was supposed to be Prof. McGregor's stronghold and many who knew both men expected that the Kingston man was not "in it" with him, but on the men making a few passes it was plainly seen that "Jack," as the more intimate friends of the sergt.-major call him, had not been idle during the time he had been preparing for the event. Diligent practice had given his arm that quickness and nerve so necessary in a fencer. The superiority over his mode of last year was very noticeable. Almost as soon as started Morgans, by a quick lunge, got the first point, by reaching McGregor's breast, who on re engaging promptly returned the compliment. Some skilful parrying then ensued ending in Morgans scoring on the professor's shoulder and again on the breast. It was now the Cleveland man's turn and he scored twice in succession, which deepened the excitement, the score being even. But Morgans was waiting his chance, and made the next two after a little feinting with ease, giving him a lead of two points, five being the winning numbers.

Master Ernest Morgans gave an exhibition of fancy club swinging to the music of a waltz. He captivated the audience by the ease and grace with which he went through the intricate movements.

The men re appeared for the next bout, sword vs. sword. McGregor leading off with a slash at Morgan's sword arm. This he was unable to parry, but he returned it with interest, and immediately afterwards disarmed the professor (one point). When the Clevelander recovered his sword, with a quick cut Morgans struck him such a blow that if he had not been protected by a heavy mask he would have beheaded him. As it was, he ably scored another point. McGregor then made two, tieing the score, but Morgans was equal to the occasion, and made his five points in good style, making his total lead four points.

The audience was then favored with a xylophone sole, "Ten Daughters, "by bandsman Harrison, accompanied by the band. This was loudly encored. He responded with the old favorite "La Petite."

Morgans and McGregor took their places for the next item, bayonet vs. bayonet. Morgans lead off with a thrust at the professor's head which was not parried; McGregor returned it with one on Morgan's shoulder. Then Morgans seemed to gather himself for a great effort, and made the next four points one after another, thus giving him a total lead of eight points.

Mr. Pritchard, Kingston, danced the sailor's hornpipe in such a style as to call forth the loud applause of the spectators. His motions to represent pulling and coiling ropes were very naturally done, indeed this dance has never been performed better in Kingston.

The band played "The Spanish Fort," and the men advanced for the final contest, McGregor on horseback with sword, Morgans on foot with bayonet. It was plainly seen that McGregor was not at ease on the animal. The horse did not appear to have become accustomed to the sword flashing near its head. McGregor rode the animal up to the north end of the rink, and at a signal advanced at a canter toward Morgans, waiting near the centre of the building. On reaching him McGregor slashed with his sword as he rode past, but Morgans was on his guard and parried it well. After several trials the professor called the referee and stated that he was unable to do anything with the horse, and asked Mr. Redmond to state that he was fairly beaten and that Sergt.-Major Morgans was justly entitled to not only the championship of Canada but of all America.

McGregor walked over to Morgans and warmly congratulated him on his victory amid the cheers of the spectators. At times during the contest the electric lights were very bad, flickering unsteadily, and one going completely out. At one period the contestants had to suspend operations until the lights became clear.

The summary of the scores made is: Foil vs. foil, Morgans, 5, McGregor, 3; sword vs. sword, Morgans, 5, McGregor, 3; bayonet vs. bayonet, Morgans, 5, McGregor, 1, giving the Kingston man the victory by eight points.

The proceedings terminated shortly after nine o'clock. Morgans was not to blame for the shortness of the engagements as he did his work so well that McGregor had no chance to do anything. He was placed on the defensive throughout the entire night. The bouts were not half as interesting as those between Morgans and Reid, witnessed last winter.

McGregor will remain in the city for a couple of days to see the sights. He has been made an honorary member of the sergeants' mess of "A" battery during his stay. From here he will proceed to Toronto to take in the exhibition there. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the decisions of the referee and the treatment accorded him by the people of Kingston. The professor is every inch a gentleman, and it is to be hoped that he will carry away a good opinion of the Limestone City.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Interesting Paragraphs From the Various Arenas of Sport.

The prizes to be awarded the winners of the tennis tournament will take the form of tennis racquets. One will be given the winners of the singles and one each to the winners of the doubles.

The St. Bernard dog, Alton, recently imported from England by R. H. Moore, Melrose, Mass., at a cost of $4,250, is said to be the largest of his breed on this side of the Atlantic. His girth of chest is 45 inches, height at shoulder 34½ inches, weight 208 pounds.

The celebrated stallion Axtell, the highest priced horse in the world, and the holder of the world's stallion record for trotting, has been taken from the turf for the remainder of the season, owing to a slight injury received from his severe training.

The Ottawa university football team will not join the Ontario rugby union this year, and as a consequence there will be fewer matches in the capital this fall. They will, however, get into condition immediately in order to defend their title of champions of Canada against all comers.

Matrimonial Blind Pool.

The London Advertiser says: "Arizona miners are appealing to Canadian mayors to send them out wives. They say they cannot get helpmates in that far away territory and they have a fund of $5,000 to pledge that they will be good husbands. Then let them take their money and come east for wives. A matrimonial 'blind pool,' as the saying goes, is scarcely to be relied on by either party to the transaction."

Breakfast Delicacies.

Finnan haddies, Yarmouth bloaters, kippered herrings, mess mackerel, Lochfyne herrings, ham, breakfast bacon, etc., at Henderson's cheap grocery, Brock st.

Don't forget 400 remnants dress goods, prints, etc., at Hardy's Friday sale.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Potatoes Will be Scarce.

American dealers in St. Louis, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn desire to purchase potatoes in Canada, and have written to merchants here respecting the crop. Potatoes are going to be scarce in the United States.

Looking For Sites.

The committee appointed by the separate school board to deal with the matter of relieving the overcrowding in the schools, are pushing their work. They have examined several sites which would be suitable for a new school in Rideau ward.

The Mission Band Officers.

At a meeting of the Methodist mission band, held in Queen street church, on Monday, Sept. 8th, the following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: President, Miss Lavell; vice-president, Miss L. Phillips; secretary, Miss Ely; treasurer, Miss B. Taylor; committee, convener, Miss L. Chown, Miss H. Chown, Miss Clark.

Has Not Resigned.

Prof. Carr Harris, of the Royal military college, has arrived home after spending the summer vacation on his farm in New Brunswick. He says the crops in that country are excellent. Potatoes are very plentiful. The rumor that the professor had resigned the R.M.C. staff is incorrect. He is professor of engineering, and an able teacher. His place could not be filled easily.

Off for India.

Lieut. Eugene Panet, of the Royal engineers, son of Col. Panet, deputy minister of militia and defence, Ottawa, has received orders to leave Chatham, Eng., for India, on the 17th inst., to be employed on military engineering works. Mr. Panet is a graduate of the Royal military college and one of a batch of Canadian cadets who passed through the Chatham course several months under the usual time.

Home From Wales.

Mr. Jones, merchant tailor, returned to the city yesterday after an extended visit to Wales. His health was greatly improved by the trip and he looks better than he has for years. On the outward steamship there were representative farmers from England, Ireland and Wales, who were en route to the North West to examine the lands there with a view to urging old country farmers to settle in that country.

Will Double Track the Road.

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg RR. will have its road built from Suspension Bridge to Buffalo, effecting an entrance into the latter city on July 1st, 1891, according to Superintendent I. H. McEwen, of that road. This Buffalo, Thousand Islands & Portland RR., will give the western connection which the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg has been seeking for years. The line of the road is now undergoing a thorough overhauling.

Went Swift and Straight.

A messenger pigeon, sent to Monday night by John Mason, of the interior department, Ottawa, in care of Inspector O'Leary, of the dominion police, was given to Major-General Cameron, by whom it was released. The bird was liberated yesterday at 6:45 a.m. It did not circle around but made a direct line for Ottawa. Owing to some misunderstanding as to the time the bird was to be sent, Mr. Mason was not on the watch for it. It arrived sometime previous to nine o'clock.

Mr. Swain's Prizes.

J. C. Swain was an exhibitor at the Midland fair and carried off a first and second prize. The monetary value of the winnings was thirty-eight cents after the usual discounts for entries. Mr. Swain's friends have been chaffing him about the "sweep," and he writes to enquire if the association is "doing right with the citizens." The citizens assisted the association and "it is a poor rule that won't work both ways." He wants to know "if there is not something wrong." His winnings were deposited in a poor box.

Married at Battersea.

Yesterday morning at eleven o'clock a very pleasant event occurred at the residence of John Arthur, Battersea, when his eldest daughter, Maggie, was married to Dr. Freeman, of Inverary. Rev. Mr. Sproule, of Inverary, and Rev. A. O. Watts, of Battersea, officiated. The attendants were S. Arthur, of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Freeman, sister of the groom. The wedding feast was a rich one, and the presents were many and valuable. The doctor and Mrs. Freeman left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. The wishes of friends are cordial.

Lots of Merriment.

There was a large audience in the skating rink last evening when Major Edwards, of the Royal Military college, and J. P. Gildersleeve arrived. There being no seats Major Edwards, who is unusually tall, walked to the centre of the rink for a chair. Many of the auditors who did not know him recognized his splendid physique, and thinking he was professor McGregor loudly cheered him. Immediately afterwards J. P. Gildersleeve, small in stature, attracted attention by following Major Edward's example. The crowd got on to his size and gave him a great ovation. Mr. Gildersleeve responded by lifting his hat and bowing gracefully to "ye gods."

Duty on Cedar Poles.

Mayor McCaffrey, of Oswego, is very mad over the McKinley bill. It will kill telegraph pole contractors. He says: "I import large numbers from Canada each year and in no way compete with American lumber. At present these poles are admitted free. If the proposed duty of 25 per cent. is levied it will make a difference of from 25c. to $1.25 on each pole imported. We pay for poles in Canada $1 to $5 each according to length. The best quality of cedar is obtained in Canada—yellow cedar. The cedar of Michigan is known as white cedar, and is inferior to the yellow cedar of Canada. I can't understand why this proposed duty is imposed unless it is to give the manufacturers of iron railroad ties and iron poles a monopoly."

A Terrible Accident.

Walter Cannon, a boy about 15, was killed at Bloomfield, on Friday. He was returning home from work on horse back, and was carrying a pail, when the horse became frightened and ran away. The boy in trying to jump slipped his leg through the trace tied at the horse's side. The fall of the boy caused the knot to slip till it came near the end of the trace, when it became tight around his ankle, and he was dragged a few yards, when the horse stopped. When he got up to unfasten the trace the horse became frightened again, kicking the boy in the breast and started off at a furious gait around the field, dragging the poor fellow after him. When the horse was caught the boy was nearly dead, a large hole in his body being caused by striking against the fence. His face and body were badly bruised. He lived till they carried him into the house, when he breathed his last.

Police Court—Thursday.

Two Americans, who were suffering from the effects of too much "Canadian Club," were allowed to go on payment of $2 and costs. Michael Tethro, charged with drunkenness, appeared with a red handkerchief tied around his head, evidently for the purpose of reducing its size. He is very deaf, and in a broken speech explained that he "had a pain" and had taken the whiskey so as to alleviate the same to some extent. The magistrate, in view of his sufferings, allowed him to go, but to abstain from further potions of pain killer. James Sullivan was charged with the larceny of a clock from C. Lennox's hotel yesterday. Peter Lamoreaux swore that he had given Sullivan twenty-five cents for it. The prisoner confessed and gave the excuse that he was "beastly drunk, your worship." This was not sufficient for his worship, who committed him for trial. A man named Groves, a tenant of D. Grimshaw's, was given twenty-four hours to take down a stove-pipe which ran through his roof, contrary to the fire by-law. He promised to do so. The case of Mr. Fraser, charged with theft, was allowed to stand.
