DRANK AND WERE MERRY

THE EVIDENCE AS PRESENTED AT THE ELECTION COURT.

A Late Patient Twice During His Recital of the Day's Doings—George Smith and H. M. Merdith—A Shipwright's Visit to Wolfe Island.

There was not any forceful evidence presented at the Frontenac election trial yesterday afternoon. George Smith, the other of the respondent, was the first in the box; worked for his brother from the day he was nominated until he was elected. He used every device to get over the election, and lured them from all the lively saloons, keepers in the city. He took W. A. Webster to Storrington.

Mr. Aylesworth, Mr. Webster is in the control of the dominion government. He is an immigration agent.

Mr. Smith said $100 would cover his expenditure in connection with the election.
This money was his own. It was not given to him by his brother or any one else.

Mr. Aylesworth—Do you know anything of a package handed you a few days before the election?

Witness—No.

Mr. Aylesworth—There was no parcel or money handed you on the Saturday before the election?

Witness—This is the first time I heard of such a thing.

Witness—Did he and Webster drove out to Brewer's Mills and on the way out called at the house of the Foresters and Roach for the purpose of canvassing their votes for respondent. They stopped at other places on the way.

Mr. Aylesworth—Lancet C. Forester, whom you canvassed, a well known conservative?

Witness—I don't know anything to the contrary.

Mr. Aylesworth—Did you carry any papers to Forester during the campaign?

Witness—If I did I don't remember.

Witness—Lancet C. Forester any relation to you?

Witness—Not that I know of.

Mr. Aylesworth—Mr. Roach any relation to you?

Witness—I am first cousin to Mrs. Roach.
R. T. Walker—You are charged with having given money to voters to vote for you generally, and to give money to anyone for election purposes?

Witness—No.

Thomas Duggan, shipwright, at the M.
E. Co. dock near W. and G. streets. He secured a rig from W. and G. street. He had not yet paid for the rig, but he thought he owed for it. He was not paid for the time and labor he had done. He paid money for the rig he voted. He knew the election law and knew that if he accepted a bribe he was liable to a fine of $100 or six months in jail. He found no money in the rig.

Objection was made to the way the charges were being considered and to save expense Mr. Aylesworth agreed to give a rig to the witness.

Stanley Lane, of Erosstown, was in Verona on election day. He was at Abrams hotel and was in the drive house.

Witness—A mere youth, after being driven to the drive house, he staggered and fainted. Constables carried him into the fresh air.

Labor at Verona.

While the witness was waiting for Lane to return Edward Albertson was called. He belonged to Portland township and was at Abrams hotel on the afternoon of election day. He did not see any witness. He did not see any witness. He did not see any witness. He did not see any witness.

Witness—Who are the prominent conservative workers in the township?

Witness (after a pause)—Your honor, I am not an educated man.

Mr. Aylesworth—Am afraid you are too young to be a witness.

Mr. Merdith—That is not a proper statement.

Mr. Aylesworth—I think it is Witnes—I am afraid you are too young to be a witness.

WITNESSES.

Howard Abrams, proprietor of a hotel at Verona, said H. M. Merdith might have got some liquor as late as nine o'clock in the morning. He probably got half a pint of whisky.

Witness—A flask out of a bottle owned by a dentist, who had been boarding at the hotel, for one Hoffman. Abrams saw respondent at the hotel. He asked for whisky and witness filled a flask for him.

In answer to Mr. Merdith witness said he consulted with Mr. Shibley respecting the charge laid against him for selling liquor on election day. He was a supporter of Mr. Shibley.

Mr. Merdith, Q. C.—Did you tell Mr.
Walker on the day you were tried for selling liquor, that you had sold liquor?
Witness—No. I did not get liquor in your hotel on election day.

Mr. Abrams—I think I did say so.
Witness—Was it true?

Witness—Yes, it was true with the exception of the flask filled for Smith. When I spoke to Mr. Walker I did not recollect that Smith got liquor from the hotel.

Mr. Merdith, Q. C.—Did you not tell Mr. Shibley that Smith got liquor at your hotel on election day?

Witness—A dozen times he did not recollect. I do not think I told Mr. Shibley that Mr. Smith got liquor at the hotel on election day.

Witness—This is the first time I heard of
such a thing.

WHO WANTED IT.

The speaker closed by stating that he had established specific charges of corrupt practices.

Mr. Merdith contended that there were no facts in the evidence to show that the liquor drunk in the hotel was given to voters. He contended that the witness was not a witness to the fact that the witness was not a witness to the fact that the witness was not a witness to the fact that the witness was not a witness to the
