CONTRIBUTION TO HISTORY ABOUT EDUCATION OF POOR.

Review of the Formation and Work of the Midland District Society-The First Authentic Account Given to the Public in Many Years.

Kingston, as the oldest city in Ontario, has some comparatively venerable institutions to boast of. One of these, the M. D. schoolsociety, having resently excited attention, a sketch of its history and work may possess some interest as a contribution to local history, and may also clear up somepast. This sketch is prepared mainly from full and careful memoranda left by the late Mrs. Machar, who, as the wife of one of the most active trustees, and as berself an un tiring worker among the Kingston poor for half a century, took a deep interest in the working of these schools, and along with her friend, the late Mrs. Cartwright, gave them school department was also for some time Messrs.
