New York, April 1 .- A London despatch says the cable steamer Faraday has refitted and is coaling at Gravesend. She sails on Sunday to complete the work of laying the direct Atlantic cable.

A Pittston, Pa., special says that the river is still rising. The whole town is out and alarmed. The gorge loosened and passed down the river last night, but lodged again. The ice ran below Pittston River and flooded Kingston Flats. The water at Plainville is four feet higher than two weeks ago. The water is nearly twenty-four feet above low water mark.

A Wilkesbarre special says the gorge there backed up the waters until it flooded hundreds of acres between Wilkesbarre and Plainville. Three passenger trains guery. from Pittston were caught in the water just north of Plainville, and the wildest excitement prevailed among the passengers.
