We have heard from Trenton, in answer to the newspaper enquiry, and it is affirmed that six 'persons there swear positively that it was the body of John payne without a doubt-which was picked up in the harbor there, with a whiskey bottle in his pocket. His former em: ployer, Mr. Smith, of the factory, is one of those who positively recognized the corpse. The correspondent adds that Payne was seen on the night preceding the recovery of the body on the bridge there by several persons, and Mr. Smith, hearing of his return, was expecting a call from him until he heard his body had been picked up in the river, and he had Runs. | made his last call. If the Payne who is ] 14 now in Kingston is the same one that 22 worked last winter in Swith's Factory. 0 then the most surprising case of mistaken identity on record has been developed.
