THURSDAY EVEN'G, OCT. 21, 1875. THE SONG OF THE PRINTER.

- Pick and click Goes the type in the stick, His eyes glance quick; and his fingers pick The type at a rapid pace; And one by one as the letters go. Words are piled up steady and slow-But still they grow, And words of fire they soon will glow Wonderful words, that without a sound Traverse the earth to its utmost bound

Words that shall make The tyrant quake, And the fetters of the oppress'd shall break Words that can crumble an army's might, Or treble its strength in a righteons fight Yet the type they look but leaden and damb As he puts them in place with finger and thur But the printer smiles. And his work beguiles By chanting a song as the letters he piles, With pick and click,

Like the world's chronometer, tick ! tick ! tick ! O, where is the man with such simple tools Can govern the world as I ? With a printing press, and an iron stick, And a little leaden die; With paper of white, and ink of black,

I support the Right and the Wrong attack

say, where is he, or whom may be be, That can rival the printer's power! To no monarchs that five the wall doth he give Their sway lasts only an hour ; While the printer still grows, and God onl When his might shall cease to tower!
