Made a Good President.

C. D. McFarlane, who has just been succeeded by R. J., Wilson as president of the Kingston bicycle club, did good work for the club during the year he filled the office. He has always taken a geat interest in wheelmen and all matters connected with wheeling, and the club members regard him as a sort o father. His active work and wise judgment have been greatly beneficial in bringing the club up to its present prosperous condition.
