hatred the Irish have for an informer that the principal instruments made use of by the British government have almost invariably been bushnien. In the city of Brooklyn a few years ago an emissary of Scotland Yard was known as an active working republican, called by his friends and admaintances Red McDermott. While engressed in American politics and continually twisting the tail of the British lion, his eyes were, all about him picking up the secrets of the Clan-na-Gael. It was he who miormed Scotland Yard of the departure Dr. Carroll, in whose trunk there was said to be found a constiterable lot of dymanate. He wastried and convicted of conspiracy against the government and sentenced to imprisonment for life. After a time, assisted by powerful friends at home, he was released and returned to the United States. He, however, was only the wreck of his former self. He ago. It is a little singular that Terrence Powderley, the organizer and head the Knights of labor, is now the chief of our immigration committee, where he of sits in judgment to keep improper characters from entering the nation's door. It is but common justice to acknowledge that he was the squarest and most just member of the great organization over which he presided so many years.

We hope he will send Messrs. Fitzharand thugs already here more than enough, without drawing on Europe for an extra supply. By all means, Mr. Powderley, send them back.
