No expense will be spared to make this the greatest attraction of the reason. It is always an event of special interest in musical circles and year by year has become more popular, not only among those who are particularly interested in the manufacture and sale of musical instruments, but also with the elite of Ontario society. Last year it was the centre of attraction, multitudes of guests being present from outside points, not only from the neighboring towns and cities, but also from the most distant parts of the province and Quebec.

Amongst the many attractions and conveniences connected with this event special | mixed mention might be made of the following
