WERE OUT OF KILTER.

Queen's hockey ream arrived home early this afternoon. They acknowledge that oney were fairly beaten by Osgoode last night. The men were entirely out of kilter. Four hard matches inside of one week were too much for the Queen's men, and they fell before the men of Osgoode hall. But this is not all. Harris was sick and Merrill's hands were in such bad condition that he could scarcely hold his hock by stick. Under such circumstances what could be expected of the team? Oegoode foreman; S. But even that might have been avoided by the executive ordering two games to be played, one in Kingston and the other is Toronto. But it was determined that the championship should be taken from Queen's at any cost, and this the executive have suc ceeded in doing in a decidedly unfair way. been in proper shape. Toronto should not overlook these facts as no great honor has come to Osgoode by defeating a crippled club. Queen's take their defeat in a most praiseworthy manner. The rumor that they would protest the game on account of such short notice being given them is with. out any foundation. Toronto (llobe: For Queen's Carmichael,
