victory was very marked at Saturday night's big meeting in the city hall. The argumence presented were impossible of refutation. The speakers gave a lucid exposition of the government's policy and proved it was assuredly time for a change -in the harpings of the opposition's attitude of misrepresentation. They were greeted with applause, a by of students making the enquiry "What' the matter with Harty?" and the assuring ! answer being given "He's all right." Mr. Rowell would fully answer their statements in regard to the finances and would go into the question in detail. The speaker was sorry that in the heat of the campaign the conservatives had brought a charge against a local financial metitu-HOUSE IN VAUGHN TERRACE, PRIN- tion. The charge would not bear the light of investigation. He closed his remarks by paying a tribute to Mr. Rowell for the work he had performed in the west Upon rising Mr. Rowell was warmly received. His address delivered here four years ago was still tresh in the memory of the men who graced the body of the hall, auditor or the audit. The conservatives and they knew they would be treated to a clever and honest exposition of the Ondence, 189 Johnston street. Good locality, tario government's policy. In this respect they were not disappointed. Mr Rowell spoke for over an hour and a half, and throughout the entire address interest never lagged. On the contrary his words were frequently applauded, and several times when he was about to cease he was urged by the audience to continue. Like little Oliver Twise, they cried for "more. He is a clever, forceful speaker, never at a loss for a simile or a word, has a pleas ing delivery and a splendid flow of lan-

In opening he referred to the pleasure experienced four years ago in speaking from the same platform in behalf of Hon. William Harty. He knew little of Mr. Harty then, but was better acquainted wich him now, and with intimacy came increased respect. He referred to Mr. Harty's honorable career, to his integrity and honesty of purpose and his faithful discharge of the duties of his office. These things are known of him to outsiders as well as to his fellow citizens. The speaker could not believe that Mr. Harty would suffer any loss of prestige in the pre-ent campaign Kingston is called the limestone city, b he knew the people had warm hearts of flesh, and that they sympathized with the candidate who was fighting their cause. The fact that Mr. Harty entered into the campaign though auffering, is a tribute to the high sense of his conception of the duty he owes his constituents. He likened his conduct to that of the late C F. Fraser. the preceding occupant of Mr Harty's office, who died in harness and at his post. Mr. Harty's sacrifice is nonethe less heroic. Though the province has buried, yet in the magnificent structure which rears it towers in Queen's park, Toronto, stands an everla-ting monument to the late Hon. C F. Fraser, a tribute to his integrity and business ability.

In the last Ontario campaign appeals were made to the electorate on behalf of TWO LOTS ON BARRIEST., OPPOSITE THE religious instincts, in order that the gov ernment might be overthrown Nothing is heard of that cry in this campaign. The eilence of the conservatives in this respect is a complete justification of the administion's policy of equality. Because Mr. Harty sees fit to worship at another altar, should be be condemned? Is he not bound bonds of patriotism in common with all loyal Canadians in working for the country's interests and advancement of the pro-In the last campaign Mr. Marter, the Following The Leader. The meek and blind manner in which and the other around his waist. The steer steer." The people of Ontario may well ask the conservatives where they are go ing and what policy are they following. Their answer would be very much like that given by the boy.

As overyone is aware, at each session the legislature a number of statutes, more or less, are enacted for the good and guidance of the people. Naturally people would think that as the closing session the conservatives would do their best to have enacted some important measure, that surplus of $5,000,000. Suppose the consomething wonderful would be devolved But, remarkable as it may seem, the the assets of the province last? How did conservatives did not place a single act on the statute books. without a surplus, that the management of the finances has been injudicious and the government wasteful, also that the accounts | the people of Toronto were cooked. If that is so it is time for a change and the men guilty of the charges should receive the cold justice their acre merited. If you can discriminate between a lie and an exaggeration read the Mi and Empire. That paper says there must tion of major Galloway, Hirry Mooers prebe an auditor, that there has never been an riding as planist. The efforts of the singers audit. Too Kingston Nows does not say that. If there is an auditor, as the News states in to might's is-ue, then it must be a fact that there has been a audit, and the Mailand Empire sstatement bearsalle on its face. The News, admitting the existence of a provincial auditor, says, "Mr Sproulis at the mercy of the grit machine, and a part of it," and demands the appointment of an independent auditor. The speaker did not know where the editor of the Newgot his information, but if he would go to the proper source and turn up the ict of 1886, appointing the provincia auditor, he would find his statement shorn of truth. The auditor is more independent than a judge on the beach. He cannot be removed except by a petition of the entire amembly presented to the lieutenant gov. ernor in council. Yet the conservatives go about the country crying "we must have an auditor." The people of the province are not likely to trust such men who thus wilfully misrepresent matters Not a cen of public money can be paid out of the public creasury without the authority of the provincial auditor, except in special emer gencies, and all such emergency che k must be presented to the house at its fir-t meeting. The people of Ontario have yet to hear a word of reproach against the

> The statement of finances published in he News is correct, yet the conservativego about saying the government deceives and deludes the people The governmen or Ontario long ago adopted a policy that it would not create a public debt. The government builds its institutions and bonuses railways out of current receipts Or course, if a public institution is build ing, its entire cost cannot be borne in one year, but the amount is spread over a num ber of years, interest being added. these amounts come due they are paid off out of current revenue. If a min rents a store for ten years at the rate of twenty five dollars a month it is not to be inferred he owes the entire rental when the first month's rent comes due. So it is with the government's rallway certificates and an nuities. Admitting the government ower three millions of dottars for these, deduct the amount from the surply and there is over two millions of dollars lefo Besides this amount the province has book debt of over $700 000, which do not appear in the auditor's report. The parliament buildings were built out of current re venue, the debt being spread over a num ber of years. The speaker quoted figure. from the auditor's report which showed conclusively that, leaving out the railway annuities and lands available for sale, the government had an undisputed surplus of over three millions of dollars. The ses sional papers of 1890 would show that the Ontario government demanded compound interest from the dominion government on money held in trust The dominion gov. ernment was unwilling to pay compound interest, eaying, "It is no fault of ourthat these funds have not been distributed before this." These funds are worth mi hone to the province in their present con dition. During the three hours in which the Whitney meeting was in progress here recently interest on these funds accumugoes on night and day at the rate of $28 25 an hour. The Ontario government did not want to receive these funds in ca-h According to the statement of the conservatives the members of the Hardy administration must be a smart lot men Who eyer heard of a merchant or business man securing money on an over draft? Though many big firmicial institutions had aufrefer toes from the dishonest actions of employees, it was a tribute to the government to have said about it that not one servant could be accused of wrong doing To hear the conservatives talk about the officials persons would think they were above taking office.

The paker quoted from the Mail an article plaining the government for its unliev and administration of its finances. He touched upon the plank in the frail platform of the conservatives dealing with the education department, showing they had gone back to 1874 and borrowed a avatem that had been tried and condemn ed. Touching upon text books he said that in 1883 there were no less than fifty. six authorized for use in the schools. Now there are eleven. Out of the 125 school books only two were compiled out side of Canada, and are all printed and have not the honor, the manliness to bring bound in the province. A full supply of a charge against the auditor in his presrext books in Ontario cost $4.75; in New York state. $9 00

In conclusion he counseledall to do their duty to themselves and their country He felt sure Hon. W. Harty would be returned. The sound of victory is in the air, and the Hardy administration would be sustained.
