BURGLARS BUSY AT WORK.

BAJUS' BREWERY BROKEN INTO AND MONEY TAKEN.

With an Ir n Bara Back Door Was Pried Open-The Point of Entrance a Long Distance From the Office-Between Four and Five Dollars Secured-Papers | born at Brighton in December, 1845, and Scattered About.

During the early hours of this morning bold, bad burglars visited Bajus' brewery for the sake of plunder, and carried off all the money they came across. Entrance was accomplished by foreing the lock on a back door, far distant from the office. They then had to proceed through two BEECHAM'S PILLS, taken as direct- cellars, through a narrow passage running among a maize of barrels and climb three plete health. They promptly remove flights of stairs before they reached the office. Only persons intimate with the interior of the brewery could have accoun plished the feat. " An iron bar was used in forcing open the door, as marks of the instrument were left in the woodwork. Footprints were discernible in a pile of soft snow that had drifted in through the door, and these may lead to the identity of the burglars. One, at least, wore a pair of rubbers with pointed toes with the soles fairly new. On leaving the premises they closed the door behind them and placed a pry against the door on the inside in such a manner that its weight kept the door closed. In the office they took the precaution to pull down the blinds. These are thick and completely shut in all rays of light. The office safe, having twice previously been blown open, could not be locked, so the visitors last night had merely to pull open received his education at Harrow.
