

OUR SOLDIERS AT CHURCH.

A FINE BODY OF MEN ON PARADE.

Arrival of the Men of the 57th in the Main

The Visitors a Soldierly-Looking Lot of Men—A Garrison Church Parade—Those Who Participated—The Visit of the Regiment.

While heaven's artillery rattled and flashes of lightning brightened the dark overhanging clouds of the early morn, the gallant men of the 57th batt., Peterboro Rangers, disembarked at the K. & P. depot on Sunday morning and formed ranks on Ontario street prior to marching off to the exhibition grounds to a lively tune played by the fine regimental brass band.

The men looked fatigued after their long night jaunt on the cars, but under the stimulating influence of martial music they stepped out smartly and showed a marvellous spirit, they possessed. They kept steady lines as they marched up the streets, and were active in obeying commands in their tired condition as though they had just risen from a comfortable night's rest.

The train bearing the regiment started for Peterboro at one o'clock Sunday morning, and at half-past six o'clock it pulled into the city. At the depot were Col. Drennan, secretary of the queen's birthday celebration committee, veterinary surgeon Morgans, three sergeants and a squad of twenty men from the 14th P.W.O. rifles, and numerous civilians. Though thunder, rolled and the heavy clouds momentarily became more threatening, still it was hoped the downpour of rain would hold off until such time as the visiting soldiers got under shelter, but the fates decreed otherwise, and when about half the distance to the exhibition ground had been covered the flood gates were unloosed and the rain descended in torrents, thoroughly wetting the embryo Tommy Atkins.

Arriving at the exhibition headquarters the men took immediate possession of the main building, while the officers sought shelter under tents that, fortunately, had been erected the day previous. On account of the falling rain the extra baggage which the officers had brought with them could not be transported to the ground for some hours, consequently those who desired to make a change of clothing had to wait for several hours in their wet garments. After a "wash up" the men again assembled in ranks and proceeded to make ready for the parade, which was divided among nine hotels—Russell house, Grimsom's hotel, City hotel, Oriental, American, Athletic, Colender, Windsor and Algona house. The officers dined at the British American hotel. Returning again to the grounds all haste was made to clean up preparatory to attending divine service. To make a presentable appearance in a short space of time, after having passed through a heavy rain shower, was no light task. It required considerable brushing, washing, pipe cleaning, polishing, etc. They had every article to offer for keeping the brigade a trifle late for service.

The Church Parade At 10:15 o'clock the men of the 14th P.W.O. rifles "fell in" at their headquarters, artillery park. The cadets of the Royal military college, the men of "A" field battery, the veterans of '61-'66 and last, but not least, the St. George's cathedral boys' brigade arrived sharp on time and took up positions. The 57th battalion was in the lead in marching, owing to the men having a difficult task to perform in the way of cleaning up. It was after eleven o'clock when the word of command was given, the brigade advancing by way of Montreal street in this manner:

Cadets of the Royal military college, under command of Capt. Leslie—40. "A" field battery, Col. Drury—65. 57th Batt., Col. Bell—238. 14th P.W.O. rifles, Col. Skinner—306. Veterans of '61-'66, Col. Duff—51. St. George's cathedral boys' brigade, Capt. Clive Betts—42. Total on parade—757. The brigade was in command of Lieut.-Col. Montizambert, who was assisted by major Ogilvie, "A" field battery, and brigade-major, and Sergt.-major Stroud. "A" field battery as brigade-sergeant-major. Lieut.-Col. Drennan, 5th field battery, Capt. Labourene, Princess Louise dragoon guards, veterinary surgeon Massie, "A" field battery, and veterinary surgeon Morgans, 5th field battery, were also on parade. The different units were thus commanded:

57th Battalion. Lieutenant-colonel, R. W. Bell; major, E. B. Edwards; captain and paymaster, R. M. Dennistoun; captains and acting adjut., G. S. Maitland, quarter-master, Langford; chaplain, Rev. J. C. Davidson; surgeon, Halliday. "A" company—Capt. Stevenson, Lieut. Ames. "B" company—Capt. Clegg, Lieut. Clugston. "C" company—Capt. Hill, Lieut. Eastwood. "D" company—Capt. McGill, Lieuts. Bell and Lefebvre. "E" company—Capt. Miller, Lieut. Hounsell. "F" company—Capt. Hayes, Lieut. Mills. Bandmaster F. W. Miller and thirty men, bugle major Sharp and seventeen men, seven pioneers and fourteen in ambulance corps, Sergt.-major Peters. 14th Battalion. Lieutenant-colonel, J. S. Skinner; majors, J. Galloway, R. E. Kent; captain and paymaster, Sinclair; surgeon-major, Barrett; surgeon-lieutenant, Herald; quartermaster, W. J. B. White; captain and adjutant, R. W. Briggston. "A" company—Capt. Hora, Lieut. Bogart. "B" company—Capt. Cunningham, Lieut. Farrell. "C" company—Capt. Strange, Lieut. Skinner. "D" company—Capt. Sutherland, Lieut. Low. "E" company—Capt. Macnee, Lieut. Starr. Bandmaster T. C. Carey and forty-one men, bugle sergeant Proctor and seven men, ambulance corps of fourteen men. Veterans of '64-'68. Lieut.-Col. Duff, major King, Capt. Horsey. Boys' Brigade. Capt. Clive Betts, lieutenants C. Cross, F. Worrell. Sermon At The Cathedral. After leaving the artillery park by way of Montreal street, the brigade proceeded down Princess street to King street, thence to St. George's cathedral, where Rev. G. L. Starr preached the sermon from the text: "The glory of a young man is his strength." Proverbs XX, 29. The speaker prefaced his sermon by a reference to the Spanish-American war, which was in progress, saying: "Our country across the line proved themselves valiant fighters on two occasions—the war of independence and the terrible civil conquest—and now having exposed the cause of a downtrodden country, such as Cuba undoubtedly is, what they have done in the past I am persuaded they will do again. For it is a righteous war, and the right must prove victorious. But it is not of bloodshed I would speak, but rather of something that will stimulate our manhood, for I am convinced that no one will do a tunic in whose bosom there does not breathe a spirit of true manhood. Was it not evinced in our country in 1898, the volunteers bade farewell to home and loved ones and started for the field, in some cases at immense sacrifice, and offered their service to their country. Canada is proud of her veterans of '60, and whether the long expected medal is issued or not, nothing can rob you of the honor of having played the soldier in one of the greatest events of your country's history.

"It is to men whose sentiments are embodied in the motto, 'Pro Patria I speak.' The speaker referred to the peculiar beauty of everything in nature, showed the glory of a young man in his prime at length, comparing it with the strength of a buffalo. The nature of the first mentioned is complex, while that of the buffalo is simple; the spiritual and the physical part of man rises above the level of the brute. The Hebrew meaning of the word strength is "to pant," as one pants for breath when exerting himself in a great contest. Every true man is a born fighter. Thirty young men gather on a rainy afternoon to rough and tumble in a college gymnasium. Ten thousand people sit and see one side or the other kick a ball over a goal. Isn't it queer? Yet it is a grand thing. It is right that all men should know how to tussle, learn to win and know how to accept defeat.

After touching on the victory to be gained by overcoming besetting sins, the speaker dwelt upon the meaning of the word. What has it not meant in the annals of our history. Victory made heroes from the days of Julius Caesar to the charge of Dargh. "I cannot close without referring to a great hero and statesman whom all England honored, and whose spirit now rests in paradise. A man who through a long life served 'Pro Patria'.

Forming in front of the cathedral the brigade proceeded by way of William, Wellington, Earl and Gwyg streets, where the different corps proceeded to their private parades. At the artillery park Col. Skinner complimented the men of the 14th upon their deportment and steadiness. Referring to the parade of the men of the 57th battalion upon their first appearance and exemplary conduct.

Notes Of The Parade. A large number of the visiting volunteers visited the elevators today. Lieut. Col. H. C. Rogers, ex-commandant of the 57th battalion, accompanied the regiment on its trip to this city. J. C. Davidson, M.A., chaplain with the 57th battalion, dined with E. B. Loucks, hardware merchant, yesterday. The Rangers have two good bands that produce excellent military music. The members show the effects of careful training. After church parade yesterday the veterans decided to turn out for the review tomorrow. The "old boys" will be welcomed on the field. The veterans of '66 will turn out for drill this evening, and will march to the ferry wharf to receive the 39th separate company from Watertown.

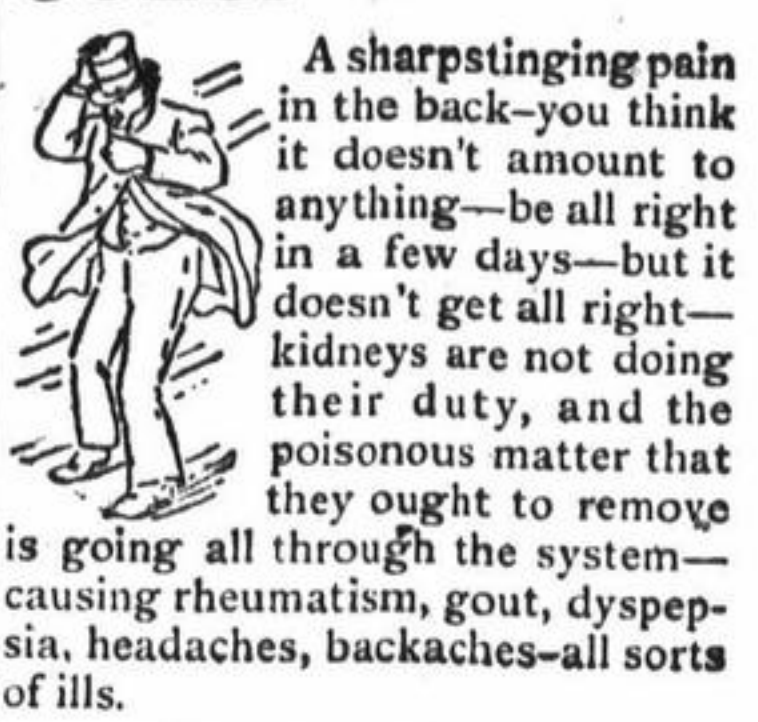

The bugle band of the 14th P.W.O. rifles was not in evidence yesterday as a musical organization. The members turned out on parade, but not a note was sounded. Lieut. Loucks, 57th battalion, is a graduate of the Royal military college, of the class of '94. Captain and paymaster Dennistoun is also well known here, having graduated from Queen's college. Among the veterans of '66 who turned out in parade yesterday were George Lenigan, bookbinder, Hamilton, an old member of the 14th battalion, and Capt. Leslie, Toronto, formerly of Barrie, who is in the city in connection with Richardson's elevator.

Harold Morrow, captain in the 57th battalion, Peterboro Rangers, was unable to accompany his company, owing to an injured leg. Capt. Morrow is a graduate of the Royal military college and received the injured leg in a football game some years ago. The trouble has broken out again. The Cape Vincent steamer bringing over the 39th separate company and band from Watertown, N.Y., is scheduled to arrive here at seven o'clock. The band of the 14th P.W.O. rifles will be on the wharf to welcome the visitors, who will be escorted to the hotel which they will make their headquarters while in the city. It was a pleasing sight to see the boys' brigade in line of march following the veterans. The boys presented a splendid appearance and conducted themselves in a manner that would be credit to any senior body of soldiers. They showed the effects of military training and discipline and were quick and accurate in obeying all commands of their juvenile captain. The carbines have arrived with which the brigade will be armed, and on parade tomorrow the boys will appear with their weapons for the first time. Fully one-third of the members of the 14th P.W.O. rifles did not enter St. George's cathedral for service, but instead paraded the streets and spent the time idly. They were conspicuous for their lack of reverence. A few members of the 57th did not enter church, but in this respect they were greatly outnumbered by their dark coated brethren in arms. By and by a church parade of the local battalion will be nothing more than a farce, as none of the corps will be in church to benefit by the service.

Delicate children! What a source of anxiety they are! The parents wish them hearty and strong, but they keep thin and pale. To all these delicate children Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites comes with the best of results. It brings rich blood, strong bones, healthy nerves, and sound digestion. It is growth and prosperity to them. No matter how delicate, the child, it is readily taken.

JUST A BAD COLD.

A sharp stinging pain in the back—you think it doesn't amount to anything—be all right in a few days—but it doesn't get all right—kidneys are not doing their duty, and the poisonous matter that they ought to remove is going all through the system—causing rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, headaches, backaches—all sorts of ills.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS Cure the disease by removing the cause. MR. WILLIAM FRANKS, in charge of the Grand Trunk Engine Shops, Port Dover, Ont., says: "Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a very bad attack of kidney complaint and lame back. I was suffering greatly, so much so that I was thinking seriously of giving up my situation."

When I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I was in such a condition that I could hardly move on account of the pain in my back. As soon as I began taking them, however, I grew better. Day by day the pain became less and less, and after having taken four boxes it was entirely gone. They made a complete cure, for I have not had the slightest sign of kidney or back trouble since.

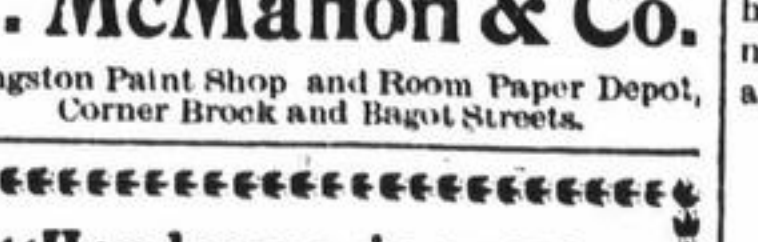

Book that tells all about these pills sent free to any address. The Doan Kidney Pills Co., Toronto, Ont.

Railway to Lake Bennett. SEATTLE, May 23.—Contracts have been let for the construction of a railway from Skagway to Lake Bennett, via the White Pass. It is said that work will begin at once. Weigh Yourself before Taking Them. GAINED 22 POUNDS. I have more faith in Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills than anything else I have ever used. Since using them I have recommended them to several of my friends who were troubled as I was, and now they are in splendid health. I had been a sufferer, like a great many other women, with a disease peculiar to my sex. I tried everything I could read or think about to help me, but was getting worse instead of better. My condition was terrible—I was losing flesh and color and my friends were alarmed. I consulted a doctor of this town and he said I would never get better; that I would always be sickly and delicate, and that medicines were of little use to me. Hearing what Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills had done for others, I determined to try them myself, and to-day I weigh one hundred and forty pounds, while before I weighed only one hundred and eighteen pounds, and now I have a constitution that is hard to beat. I have not suffered any pain in months, and earnestly hope that Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills will reach every woman suffering as I did. Sincerely yours, MAY COLE, Simcoe, Ont. Many of The Vessels Were Used By Englishmen Under Spanish Colors. New York, May 23.—According to James Dixon, a member of Lloyd's underwriters' association of London, and of the New York firm of Harrison & Dixon, of the produce exchange, England will have to pay for the Spanish merchantmen captured as prizes by the American war vessels. "The American people have no reason to rejoice over the taking of such ships as the Catalina, Jover, Pedro, Panama, Guido, and others," said Mr. Dixon. "The Spaniards will lose nothing. The British underwriters will have to pay for them, and Spain does not suffer. While these ships are sailing under the Spanish flag, they are really owned by the Fleet-chers of Liverpool. The ships engaged in the West India trade sail under Spain's flag because they are given many advantages they would not have otherwise, and the law requires that they shall be manned by a certain number of Spanish seamen."

EARLY WEDDING BELLS. Two Officials on the Rockwood Asylum Staff Married This Morning. An early morning wedding occurred at the residence of Thomas Convery, Alvington avenue, at seven o'clock this morning, when Lois Isabel, second daughter of Mr. Convery, was united in marriage to Edward Gilmore, on the staff of officials at Rockwood asylum for the insane. The bride was dressed in a dark colored traveling dress, and was assisted by Miss Lottie Gilmore, sister of the groom. W. J. Convery, the bride's brother, acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony, performed by Rev. G. W. Snell, the immediate relatives present sat down with the bride and groom to a sumptuous breakfast, after which the young couple left for an extended trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and other western cities. The bride was connected with the staff of nurses at Rockwood and is a general favorite with her co-workers in the institution, who remembered her with several handsome presents. The groom is also popular. Outside the qualities of a general disposition he has gained a fair name as a musician. In all the musical entertainments given at the asylum, he is there to assist in orchestral work. Among the numerous presents received was handsome marble clock to the bride from the nurses of the asylum, a richly upholstered easy chair for the groom from the attendants, and also a fancy rocker from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Paul.
