IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of Ethel M. Furner who died ering. on May 8ah, 1898, aged seventeen years. See ! her tired hands are folded Peacefully upon her breast;

Ethel is at rest. I can hear her gently whispering "Darling toved ones! Do not weep"

Pain and toll forever ended,

After weary nights of watching I find rest in sleep. "Life is nothing to the rapture Of the perfect life above;

I am happy with my Saviour, "Do not mourn for me nor miss me.

I'm forever out of pain, In this land of life eternal We shall met again." Yes, dear Ethel, though we miss thee More than e'er the tongue can tell,

We would never call thee back he.e; We know that all is well. Not alone she crossed the river, Tenus bore her safely o'er :

Oh! the rapture of the meeting on the other shore. We are willing, Heavenly Father, We can trust her in Thy care,

For we soon shall end our journey, Then we'll meet her there. Then, dear Father, may we labor, Live that when this life is done,

We may all go home to Ethel, May she miss not one. May 9th, 189% marquises and other noble Britons sleep in their coronets. In fact, they never wear thern at all except at the coronation of the sovereign, when they put on their coronets at the precise moment when the primate of England places the crown upon the ancinted brow of the king or queen. And when a peer or peeress dies, the coronet is again used at the funeral, being placed in the coffin or borne on a purple cushion behind the hearse by one of the attendants. That is the extent to which the coronet is used according to the official rules and for $2. regulations. But sometimes they are made to serve other purposes than those for which they were intended. They are made of silver gilt, edged with ermine and lined inside with a purple velvet cap topped with a gold tassel and are quite ornamental baubles.
