A Plausible Reason Why Hobson And His Men Were Not Exchanged-Spanish Forces Were Mistaken As To The Plaoes Chosen For The Landing Of Shafter's Army-A Man On The Texas Killed -Blanco's Secretary Has Sailed For

NEW YORK, June 23 -A St. Thomas, D. W. I., special to the Journal says : The United States consul at Havana, formerly | run the blockade. at Porto Rico, has discovered a typical Spanish plot arranged by governor Macaias, of Porto Rico. The governor has placed cannon between Santurce and the sea in such a position that they must attract fire of American warships when the capture of San Juan is undertaken. Santurce is a suburb peopled exclusively by foreigners. Fourteen consuls reside there. Macaias' plan is to cause a wholesale slaughter among the foreigners in the HAVANA, June 23 .- It is false that any attempt has been made to murder Capt. Gen. Blanco. Gen. Blanco has not been attacked by any one in any way nor is he wounded. He is enjoying excellent health. It is known that the exchange of the Merrimac prisoners was refused because it was understood thas Hobson and his men could have known all about the Cuban port by examining its defences, and prudence advised not to give them their free-

It has been decreed that ships flying flags of truce are not to be allowed pearer the harbor than six miles, in order that they may not make observations of the fortifications. In Havana complete tranquility reigns, and in Santiago great enthusiasm is reported.

The German warship Geirer arrived here yesterday afternoon. Under the decree giving up concentration, 1 378 persons have left Guiramelena since June 19th to cultivate their plantations. The prisoners caught by rebels on Cubans worked valiantly in the rear of the Spaniards, and when the first bodies of the United States troops reached land and began to shoot, they very quickly drove the enemy into the hands of the insurgents. The battleship Texas took a lively part in the work and took the minds of a great many Spaniards away from the ecene by throwing shells into Mazamone, twenty miles west of Daiquiri and into the west batteries of Cabanas. One man of the Texas was killed. This was intended as a diversion, and was a most successful one, as the greater part of the Spanish forces evidently were mistaken as to the places chosen for landing.

Winning Over Insurgents.

KINGSTON, Ja., June 23.—The Spanish government in Cuba has been making ad-The Carnovsky Wood Co., vances to the insurgent leaders, endeavoring to win them from allegiance to their cause. One of the missions of Virgilio Lopez Charez, after he has reached Man zunilla, is to see Batholomo Masso, an old friend and comrade of Charez before the war, and make proposale to him. Gen. Pando went on a similar mission to Gen. Gomez offering him large sums of money if he would join the Spanish forces and any position he desired in the army. The lieutenant-general of the Spanish reserves in Havana stated officially that Gen. Gomez replied that he would concent if he were placed in command of 10,000 men to go and fight the Yankees. The Spaniards who arrived from Havana on the steamship Adula have not the elightest knowledge of the real state of affairs, and believe the Americans have been defeated and that the insurgents are going over to the Spaniards. WASHINGTON, June 23 -Two months ago war broke out between the United States and Spain, according to the proclamation of the president and the declaration of congress. The end of that period finds nearly 16,000 troops lying off Santrago de Cuba preparing to land, and it finds able communication established between the government at Washington and the advance guard of the expedition in Cuba. It finds Cuban territory in the possession of United States marines backed up by a equadron and nearly all the commercial ports of Cuba blockaded. This is all spare from Dewey's great victory at Manila and the splendid results achieved in organizing several armise in

Therefore the officers of the administration feel that they have a right to look back with pride over what has been accomplished in the short space of two months working in a large part with raw material in both army and navy.

LONDON, June 23.—Reports from Manila, says a special despatch from Shanghai Augusti, wife of coptain-general Augusti, and her children, have been massacred by the rebels in Buecan. It is thought, according to the same advices, that this is the reason of the unwillingness of Gen. Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, to allow the British consul to start to rescue them. LONDON, June 23.—The Daily News prints a statement from a correspondent who claims to have high authority for asserting that Manila has been occupied by detachments of marines and blue jackets admiral Dewey's forces. This action was probably taken under command of admiral Diedrich, commanding the German squadron, as the highest in rank. OVY SANTEAGO DE CURA, June 23. - Gen. Galixto Garcia, of the Cuban army, on his return visit to Sampson on board the New York on Sunday, brought important news that the Spanish troops under Gen. Pando, second in command to Blanco, were march-

American soldiers are encamped in the hills in and about Daiquiri and 1,000 more rest on their arms on board transports off shore ready to join those who have debarked as soon as the available launches and small boats can carry them ashore.

Tidings From The War.

Cubans from the rear of Santiago report to admiral Sampson that Cervera intende to dash through the channel and attempt to evade Sampson's first on the first dark or stormy night. The Spanish fleet is coaled to the utmost capacity and is pre pared to give desperate battle to any ships that bar the way when once it attempts to

Part of Shafter's army has landed on the Cuban coast. Before landing a large body of Spaniards was discovered in the vicinity. Acting under instructions from hope of causing complications among the Gen. Shafter a body of Cubans attacked the Spanish force in the rear, after the warships had shelled the shore. The troops which were first landed attacked the Spaniards, driving them towards the

The steamship Adula, from Cienfuegos, reached Kingston, Ja., yesterday with ninety-eight passengers, all Spanish, among them being Virgilio Charese, Blanco's secretary, who is on his way to Spain as a member of a secret commission. outh And Central American Republica May Join To Resist The United States. LONDON, June 23 -A despatch to the Daily Mail from Madrid says that diplomatic circles there have been reliably informed that steps have been initiated for the holding of a conference of representatives of the South and Central American republics. The movement is inspired by the interference of the United States in Cuba, the republice referred to being of the opinion that the United States, after achieving its purpose in Cuba, will seek to extend this influence and authority to the Spanish speaking republics, where, owing to the r being subject to revolutionary out breaks, the United States would find easy to foment rebellion, as has done in Cuba. The republics are firmly resolved to resist absorption by the United Sta es or protection by that country. The conference will not meet until the present war is concluded, deeir ing to watch the treatment that will be accorded Cuba and Porto Rico. If they receive therefrom confirmation of the belief that the United States aims at dominuting the whole American continent, the Central and South American republics will federate, agreeing to make common cause with any one coming into conflict with the United States. The prospective agreement, it is believed, will bind each republic to maintain a military and naval force proportionate to its population and wealth. It is likely that Spain will enter countries, building upon it to secure re-

But Will Go Back to the Diggings-William Abbott's Luck.

VANCOUVIR, BC, June 23 - William Abbott, a reputable Vancouver citizen formerly a logger on the coast, arrived from the north by steamer Tartar with $15,000 in his valies. In a gulch on the Hootalingua, a continuation of Teeling lake, fabulously rich diggings have been struck, the pay dirt running $37 to the

William Abbott left for the Klondyk two years ago, arriving too late to stake out any of the now famous claims. He and his partner, however, tound good pay dirt on Bear creek, which his partner is working successfully to this day. He thought it not good enough for him and started home. On reaching Skaguay he fell in with a party of eight gold hunters from Michigan and all went back into the country, prospecting the Pelly and Hootalingua rivers for two months without success. He says: "When we were turning back disgusted, we struck a likely looking gulch. Its exact tocation it is my particular busi ness not to describe, except that it was on the Hootalingua. We washed some of the frezen ground before we got two feet down, which went from $4 to $5 to the pan. knew we had a big thing and camped right there, working down to hard pan. The pans gradually improved in richness until they averaged at hard pan $37 to the pan during the two months I remained there. It is a summer's diggings. I washed up $15,000 but some of the others made far more than I, about $200,000 in gold in all.

The diggings are extensive and I can stake only one claim. "I returned to civilization for two reasons: to let in a few friends and to get two years' provisions for the party. The locality is the bed of an old creek, strangely isolated from the outside world. nearest whiteman's town is said to be thirty five miles distant. To prevent trailers I have refrained from telling my story till the eve of my departure, but it

e absolutely true." From the fact that the party was returning when the strike was made it is probable that the diggins are not fifty miles from Teslin lake as the Hootalingua is scarcely 100 miles long.
