WHERE'S MRS. CANTON?

A Former Smith's Falls Lady Mysteriously Disappears.

SMITH'S FALLS, June 27.—The relatives here are much cast down over the reported disappearance of Mrs. William Canton from the place she has been staying at in Providence, Rhode Island.

It is generally known that her married life did not prove a happy one and last year she and her husband separated. They could not agree and so they decided to live apart. She kept one child, a little girl, who is now here with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, and the other two Mr. Canton sent to his people near Philadelphia.

Last autumn Mrs. Canton left her old home here and went down to Providence, Rhode Island, where she has two brothers living. She got a position as companion to a lady there and seemed to be well contented. She wrote home here frequently, and there was nothing in her letters to indicate that she was particularly unhappy.

A week ago Saturday she went out from her home in Providence, and from that time no trace of her can be found. She told the lady with whom she lived that she was going to see her brother, but did not go to see him and all effort so far has failed to reveal what she did or where she went. It was discovered that she had put all her belongings into her trunk and this would look as if she did not intend to return.

The papers of Providence have published pictures and descriptions of her, and the police and detective forces have put forth every effort to trace her, but not a thing has yet been learned of her whereabouts.

THE 4 P. M. EDITION.

The "Whig" Again On Top.

Honors are coming our way. For the second time this season the WHIG employees scored a victory on the baseball field. On Saturday, 18th inst., they met and defeated by a score of twenty-two to ten the employees of the News, and on Saturday last they went into the field against the employees of the Times, scoring twenty-four runs to their opponents' five. Of course, these victories have not effected the heads of the players in a "swelled" manner, but at the same time they are beginning to realize that they can play ball. They have now issued a challenge to a combined team of News and Times employees for a match on Saturday next.

The Teams on Saturday were thus composed:

Times—Black, c.; O'Hara, p.; S. Carson, 1st b.; Fila, 2nd b.; Carlier, 3rd b.; Hancer, s.; J. Carson, c.f.; Walker, r.f.; Elliott, l.f.

WHIG—Woodrow, c.; McCaig, p.; Birch, 1st b.; W. Healey, 2nd b.; Porter, 3rd b.; M. Healey, s.; Sturgis, c.f.; Ball, r.f.; Blomley, l.f.

To Found A Scholarship.

Much interest has been aroused, especially in eastern Ontario, by the proposal to honor the memory of Rev. Robert McDowell, whose career is so associated with the founding of the Bay of Quinte district, not only by a public celebration on July 5th at the Memorial church but in a more lasting manner. The proposal made is that a theological scholarship, to be called the Robert McDowell memorial scholarship, be founded in Queen's university, of which he was a founder. Some work has been done, and already a fair proportion of the $2,000 needed is in sight. If the descendants of those whom the pioneer married and baptized were to contribute a small sum each the amount would very speedily be realized. It would certainly be a fitting means of commemorating a noteworthy and honorable career.

The Title Secure.

A report has been circulated about the village of Portmouth that the title to the property, on which St. John's church school house is being erected, is of no value, the church's ownership being disputed. J. B. Walker was asked to look the matter up and he finds that Richard Sobell, in the year 1849, conveyed the property to the church, it being lot No. 4, consisting of one fifth of an acre. The plot was given as a site for a church, Sunday school and day school, the only conditional clause in the deed being that a pew was to be set aside for the permanent use of the Sobell family.

Is A Young Man.

Company sergeant major Garnet Woleley Denison, who made such a brilliant showing at the closing examinations in connection with the Royal military college, distinguishing himself in all the fourteen subjects taught, is the youngest son of Col. George T. Denison, police magistrate, Toronto. He is a native of Toronto, and is only twenty-two years of age.

Another son, Oliver Denison, who some time ago pluckily entered the 100th Royal Canadian regiment as a private, has received his well-earned promotion and is now lieutenant Denison.

Wait For Second Advice.

A sensation is reported to have occurred on the Mohawk reserve at Tyendinaga by the interference of Anglicans with a Presbyterian burial, but it is always well not to give full credence to the first version of such affairs where warm feeling is created and to wait until both sides are heard. In all likelihood the Anglican clergymen and people will have something to say which will be reassuring to the public.

25c. A Heap For All.

Attend Gallagher's midsummer tie carnival. 300 dozen gentlemen's ties to be sold at 25c. each. Commencing Thursday morning and lasting one week we will sell any gentlemen's tie in the store for 25c. They range in price from 50c. to $1.25. No stock reserved. Everything must go in order to make room for fall imports. One week only. Gallagher, 342 King street.

Thrown From The Buggy.

Yesterday Mrs. Thomas Hogan, Arigan, township of Kingston, met with a painful experience, in which she suffered severely. While out driving the horse ran away, throwing her from the buggy. She alighted on the ground with great force, breaking her arm and dislocating her shoulder. She was brought into the Hotel Dies, where the best of attention is given her.

The Fall Session.

The fall session of the high court of justice have been thus fixed: July, Sept. 26th, chief Justice Armour; non-jury, Nov. 29th, judge Meredith. At Napawa Nov. 28th, judge Ferguson; at Preston, Oct. 31st, judge Robertson; at Perth, Dec. 5th, judge Ferguson; at Pembroke, Nov. 28th, judge Rose.

They Stole Flowers.

Yesterday afternoon vandals visited the premises of Col. Kerr and E. W. Robertson, Earl street, stealing large quantities of blooming flowers. At both places they created considerable damage to valuable rose bushes. If the guilty parties can be located they will be punished.

Why For Medicinal Purposes?

Waltham, N.D., June 23.—(To the Editor): Many temperance men and other zealous people are for the prohibition of liquor for medicinal purposes. I have overlooked the fact that excepting liquor for medicinal purposes leaves a loophole by which liquor would be procured by means of drug stores or as they are known in this state "blind pigs." Why not prohibit it for medicine? We would be no worse off. The most learned doctors, assisted by medicine, have never succeeded in eradicating a single disease from our midst. In many sciences the cause of a trouble is attacked, but knights of Escalapa vigorously attack the effect which will return just so long as the cause exists. The present prohibitory law of North Dakota is a farce, as anyone can see. State that you wish it for medicine and sign your name and for half a dollar they will give you a bottle of "Red Eye" which is a sure cure for a sick man. It is surprising the number of sick men there are, but the law at present exists in Canada which makes the saloons the recruiting stations for the workhouses and prisons; and the authorities for a sum of money license an evil which makes widows and orphans and causes mankind to sink to the lowest depths of degradation, thereby raising a revenue through the lives and liberty of humanity. We can easily dispense with liquor, though it looks as though it came from the fountain of eternal life to help people take exception to it as a medicine. It is miraculous that wubblers are ever sick. If such a law passed the voters will regret, when it is late, that they did not insist on retaining this universal cure instead of saying "except for medicinal purposes." No sane man can give a reason why it should be tolerated at all.

Arrested This Afternoon.

This afternoon police constables Megarry and McColligan arrested Sherman Wager, wanted at Napawa for a serious crime. He was aboard the steamer New Island Wanderer at the time, having taken passage for Watertown, N.Y. A day or two ago he met a woman in a lonely spot near Napawa and criminally assaulted her. In 1884 police sergeant Snodden arrested Wager as a local not on the strength of advice received from Napawa. He was taken back there and tried, but coming home the same as that of which he is now charged. He received a term of fourteen years in the Kingston penitentiary, serving eleven and one-half years and being liberated less than two years.

Writes Hopefully.

Rev. F. W. Armstrong, who is acting in England for the jubilee commemoration committee of Ontario diocese, writes very hopefully of his prospects. A number of leading pulpits have been opened to him, including that of the cathedral of York, and he has no doubt of the ultimate success of his purpose. Among the subscribers on his list is one of $500 from Mrs. Brewster.

ALL PEACE RUMORS DENIED.

TIME HAS NOT ARRIVED FOR SUCH NEGOTIATIONS.

Will Attack the Republic-Carlists to Secure Present Dynasty, Pop. informed—Campos Would be Dictator—Feared in Vienna That He Will Attempt to Assume Power.

LONDON, June 27.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "Senator Sagasta yesterday said: 'The rumors about peace negotiations and the possibility of ending hostilities are utterly groundless. The time has not arrived for speaking of peace.'"

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The latest advice from Madrid indicate that there is ground for the apprehension that marshal Martinez de Campos will soon issue a proclamation and attempt a dictatorship."

"Minute directions have been sent to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Madrid, regarding the personal safety of the pope. The latest news from Madrid is that the situation is so serious that several cabinet meetings have been held in a desperate attempt to avert a crisis."

LONDON, June 27.—The Rome correspondent of the Standard says: "The pope, disquieted by the Carlist rumors, summoned one of the leaders to Rome incognito, interviewing him privately. The latter informed the pope that the Carlists had no intention of attacking the reigning dynasty, but were resolved to combat any attempt to proclaim a republic."

"The pope lately wrote the queen regent, advising her on no account to abdicate, because to do so would be to encourage the enemies of the dynasty."

Roosevelt Frites His Meas.

JURAUQUA, Cuba, June 27.—"There must have been nearly 1,500 Spaniards in front and to the side of us," said Lieut. Col. Roosevelt, when discussing the fight. "They held the ridge with rifle pits and machine guns and a field of view of an ambush in the thick jungle at the sides of the road over which we were advancing."

"The Spanish firing was accurate; so accurate, indeed, that it surprised me; and their firing was fearfully heavy."

"I want to say a word for my own men," continued Lieut. Col. Roosevelt. "Every officer and man did his duty up to the last. None finched."

San Juan Badly Scaled.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 27.—Captain Hobbs, of the British schooner Monitor, who arrived from Ponce, Puerto Rico, reports that British consul Torro, of Ponce, told him that Sampson's bombardment of San Juan did little damage, most of the shells falling into the inner harbor. Captain Hobbs says:

"Consul Torro informed me that five or six men were killed and about the same number wounded. Many of the shells from Sampson's fleet went over the fortifications, dropping into the inner harbor. From this fact it is believed in Ponce that the bombardment was intended for a scare more than to destroy the city or the fortifications."

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The navy department at 11:15 o'clock posted the following bulletin: "Commodore Watson sails to-day in the Newark to join Sampson when he will take under his command an armored squadron with cruisers and proceed at once for the Spanish coast."

New York, June 27.—Gen. Shafter expects to remove his headquarters from Barquet to Juraguah this evening. Light batteries of artillery have started for Juraguah by road. The road is impracticable for siege guns. The men ashore have five days' supplies, but supplies for ten days are needed as a precaution against a sudden move.

The Latest News.

A reign of terror exists in Havana. Police force threaten to revolt and is being watched by troops. Famine is imminent and the city is panic stricken. The entire Cuban army, under direction of Gen. Gelizto Garcia, is massing for a co-operative attack on Santiago. There are no Spaniards in the entire country between Baiquiri, where most of the American troops were landed, and Santiago.

An Austrian vessel is on her way to the Philippine islands with 500 torpedoes intended for the Spanish coast. Private dispatches received from Havana at Madrid declare Friday's fight the most able of La Quemas was "favorable to the Spaniards."

The American transports have not yet arrived at Manila. No change in situation there. The Spanish cruisers Victoria and Alfonso XIII have left the arsenal at Cadix and the Caraca and Iala De Luzon are ready for their armament.

The Austrian corvettes Froberg and Breda arrived at Singapore on June 23rd and will proceed to Manila on June 27th. The Spanish squadron will leave Port Said for the Philippine islands and is powerful enough to defeat Dewey. Manila can hold out till its arrival.

Few London papers believe Camara will ever reach Manila or Iloilo owing to coal-lacking difficulties.

A carnival of land and aquatic sports will be held about July 27th and 28th at Clayton. The volunteer life saving corps of New York state will be present.

On Wednesday Henry G. Dean and Miss Emily Fanny, both of Morton, were married. Mr. Dean is a native of England and Miss Fanny claims to be a native of Ireland. They will reside on Island farm, the prettiest camping spot on the Rideau, where is situated the famous "Cold Water Spring."

SHE'S NOT TOO OLD.

The Reply to the Lonely Woman Who Wants Some One to Love. The New York Sun recently received the following letter, which is not without its pathos:

"To the Editor: I am thirty-two years old and not deformed. I live alone and have to work for my living. I should like to get married, not for the sake of being supported, for I should expect to work after marriage, but for the sake of loving and being loved. Do you think I am too old? Agatha."

The Sun made the following answer: "Why, you poor child, of course you are not too old. What do you call old? To a youth of nineteen you may seem old, just as he is looked upon as a monument of antiquity by little Tommy spinning his top on the sidewalk there. Age is a thoroughly relative term, but we have pleasure in assuring you that, save in the eyes of the law, you are a good deal of an infant yet, with your best years before you, please God!"

"You have passed the days of giggling and gushing. Without being a bit of a prig, or stiff or dried up, you are, you are, an accumulated fact and knowledge. Your sympathies and affections are infinitely deeper than they were at eighteen. Do you remember what a shallow little chit you were then compared with what you are?"

"We don't know you, but we have seen you. We see you in your letter, industrious, patient, cheerful, affectionate, watching with wistful eyes the years that scurry by and bring no fairy prince. Good eyes, well be bound, whatever be their color, eyes soul with kindness, and that need to be lighted up with happiness."

"No, Agatha, you are at the age of sense, which by no means precludes charm. A woman in the thirties is at her loveliest. Pity so few of them know it."

"You are just the wife for a sensible man, who has got over the ebullient follies of youth, and knows enough to pick out a companion for himself. Somewhere there must be such a one waiting for you. If he doesn't come to you he is an idiot. Don't you mind him!"

The Athletic Association Taxes.

The question before the city council as to the remission of the athletic association's taxes should not be a subject of very lengthy discussion. There is perhaps no other tax so levied in this city which can conduct athletic grounds as to pay. There is not the support in a city of less than 30,000 people and even in Toronto the athletic club was financially embarrassed. Kingston cannot do without the athletic ground. It would cost $5,000 or more to make the field as a crystal palace, and it would take an army of policemen to watch the fences. If the city council does not support the athletic association to the extent of continuing the remission of taxes, the association will be charged up with the time it will severely go down. It is generally the last straw which breaks the camel's back. Five years ago the grounds, which had cost $9,000, and are the second best in all Ontario, were financially swamped so that it was thought no one had the temerity to take their management. Several gentlemen have so successfully carried it on and steadily improved it that now when all the debts are consolidated and the ground almost completely failure would be disastrous.
