OPPOSED TO PREMIER BOWELL

Sir Richard Cartwright's Criticism of Mr. Foster's Explanation-Charges Against Dr. Montague.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—When the ed to the House of Commons and the leader of the House. I have had some preliminary business had been disposed of, Sir Adolphe Caron, amid a profound silence, arose and said :-

Sir Adolphe Caron-Mr. Speaker, benitted to the Governor-General and accepted by his Excellency. The gentlemen whose resignations have thus been accepted are :-Mr. George Foster, Minister of Finance; Mr. John Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals; Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper Minister of Justice; Mr. William Bullock Ives, Minister of Trade and Commerce; Mr. Arthur R. Dickey, Minister of Militia and Defence; Mr. Walter H. contague, Minister of Agriculture, and under these circumstances, (Ironical to me that these hon, gentlemen, one bounded o nfidence and respect, to leave hear, hears.) Mr. Laurier-Mr. Speaker, I really believe that my hon, friend who now leads the House will not be surprised if I tell him at the outset that it will not be possible for me nor for any of those who sit on this side of the House to agree at this moment to the proposition that the House should adjourn at all except in the ordinary way from day to day. I understand very well that the Government are in a very peculiar position and they are entitled, I must say, to some commiseration-(ironical hear, hears)—and I am not disliamentary government. It is not at it ever since we had the resignations on the 8th of July last. I rather ex-MEDICAL pected then that the day would come when another wing of the Cabinet would do the same thing as had been done by the wing of the Cabinet which resigned on that occasion.
