Not Out of the Service. DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 7.-W. J. Spicer, general manager of the Chicago and Grand runk, denies the report that he has retired from the service of the Grand Trunk "What I said," said Mr. Spicer, yesterday after his return from the east, "was that I had retired from the position, but not from Saturday, that the board of directors, located in England, had decided to merge the position of general manager of all the trand Trunk lines into one, with offices in Montreal, the position Mr. Hays now fills. It was upon the strength of this official information that Mr. Spicer gave it out that he had retired from the position filled by him. Mr. Spicer says that so far he has not resigned his position, nor has he been asked to resign. He has had no correspondence with the directors or with Mr.

The Prince Imperial.
