Dairy School Notes. Prof. Robertson, dominion dairy and agricultural commissioner, paid an official visit to the school yesterday. He expressed himself as well pleased with the progress which is being made. After addressing the students in the afternoon he left for

Ottawa on the midnight train. The "special" course in cheese-making is now on; and there is a full class, com prising some of the best and most advanced cheese-makers in Eastern Ontario. Although applications for admission are being received every day, the classes are now all full until the end of the term, wit the exception of some in the butter depart ment. More applications have been received this year than last.
