JUST WHAT HE ENDORSES.

The conservative candidate desires it to be endorsed that there is absolutely nothing in the record of his party to which he objects. The school question is the one in the contest by general inclination and consent. People are not disposed to discuss anything else, and for the sake of the conservative party it is, perhaps, just as well. For Sir Tupper is on the rampage and laying the foundation, in huge promises and bribes, for any number of future scandals.

Who can forget the shameful revelations of 1891, in the commons, in committees on which the conservatives had a majority, and on which these majorities did their level best to prevent the facts from coming out?

These revelations being reported abroad caused the London Graphic to say that "the government rested on a stupendous and all prevailing system of bribery and corruption, and that even Tammany Hall smells sweet and clean in comparison with that huge stink-pot of Sir John's government."

The London Telegraph was forced to declare that "only the most resolute and drastic purification can redeem public life in Canada from the taint of corruption, the like of which we have not seen in our own country for hundreds of years."

The London Echo said that "no country could prosper where public departments are in league with fraudulent contractors, and where ministers are open to offices."

The St. James' Gazettte added that "the existence of an organized system of corruption among public officials in Canada has been conclusively proved, and, like everything else on the American continent, the bribery has been colossal."

And Mr. McIntyre is prepared to endorse it all. That is what the people are led to infer from his position as a supporter of the prince of cracksmen, the Mail's graceful allusion to the premier of the day.

CREED AGAINST CREED.

The nature of the campaign which the conservatives are conducting is made manifest by the two kinds of cries they have raised for Catholic and Protestant communities.

In Quebec Mr. Laurier is proclaimed by the conservative politicians and press as a traitor to his church and race because he would not support the remedial bill, and so undertake the coercion of Manitoba on the school question.

Mr. Laurier has declared that the issue can be settled by conciliatory means, by a study of the situation, by the application to it of reason and common sense, and his opponents say in effect, "Away with your conciliation, your friendly offices, your commission of enquiry, your peaceful plans, and give us Tupper and his bludgeon."

In Manitoba Sir Charles Tupper asked the people if they were prepared to turn him out of office and put in his place, as premier, a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic. He saw that on the school question the tide of public feeling was running against him, and so he stooped to ponder to racial prejudices, and this at a time when Archbishop Langevin, a Frenchman and a Catholic, was stumping Quebec in his behalf.

And in Ontario the cry has been raised by some of Sir Charles Tupper's supporters in their desire to ponder to the worst of passions.

"Will you vote to turn out the present government and put in a French Roman Catholic premier?" This pointed inquiry from Sir Charles Tupper,' says the Toronto News (tory), "is causing a flutter among the liberal politicians and journalists. There are a few constituencies in which the electors will have a choice of two conservatives, but in all others the issue is exactly as put by Sir Charles in the query quoted above. It is a good thing for conservative voters to ponder the matter between now and the 23rd of June, and try to figure out how much they will gain by returning Mr. Laurier.'"

Mr. Laurier is a man every inch of him, and he never appeared to better advantage than when, in Montreal, a night or two since, he noticed this appeal and said Sir Charles Tupper ought to be ashamed of it. The leader of the opposition has never asked anyone to vote for him because he is a Catholic and a Frenchman, but he does ask for the votes of those who believe that he is a man of honor, of high principle, of stainless reputation, of character and courage, a man who in the discharge of his public duty will be faithful to any trust committed to him.

Mr. McIntyre poses as the echo of the Senior Tupper. Does he echo this last and meanest method of the abandoned man to capture votes?

CONSERVATIVE POLICY, PLANK II.

If the first plank of the conservative party is surprising, the second is slightly more so. Who, or what party, has ever questioned the advisability of promoting "the development of facilities for internal communication?" Once more a lack of policy, or a shrinking from boldly and baldly stating their true one, has driven them to the necessity of substituting for statesmanlike utterances unmeaning words.

To one who is no politician it must seem that both parties have from the beginning, to a large extent, staked their political existence on this second plank; and the only matter for contention between them has been the means best suited to develop internal communication in the most efficient manner, and at the least cost to the country. The conservative pamphlet announcing the party policy, with remarkable modesty claims every public work and every railway so far constructed in Canada, and thay have apparently carried out their gigantic schemes in the face of "the persistent and steady opposition of the liberals." One example of their claims will suffice to show what the others are worth.

"The liberal-conservative party," they say, "commenced the Intercolonial in their first administration, and completed it in their subsequent term of powor, adding thereto all the important branches."

In Withrow's History of Canada anyone sufficiently interested in the matter will find this paragraph: "During the early part of the summer (1876) the Intercolonial railway was opened for travel and traffic. The increased facilities given to intercolonial trade cannot fail to strengthen the bonds of union between the maritime and western provinces." And yet the tories did it all.

This was under Mackenzie's administration, and the historian adds that "The public works of the dominion were pressed forward with vigor, and a very large amount of work has been accomplished on the new constructions and excavations of the Welland and St. Lawrence canals. Several contracts were let for the construction of the C.P.R., and considerable progress has been made on some of the sections of this gigantic project. Large quantities of steel rails were purchased and laid down at convenient depots for distribution. Telegraphic and postal communication along the projected line of railway, and in the newer portions of the dominion, has been much extended, and will greatly contribute to the facilitation of business."

It would be well for the electors to keep these facts in mind, when reading or hearing uttered the fancies of the conservatives—fancies that they have given expression to so often and so vehemently that they have at last come to believe them themselves.

But while it is not true that the liberals have opposed schemes for developing internal communication, it is true that they have steadily and persistently opposed many of the methods advanced for carrying out these schemes. Our debt is now $253,000,000, and but for this opposition it would probably have been in the vicinity of $500,000,000. Nothing illustrates better the character of their opposition than the stand they took at the close of the session when the conservatives made a dying effort to vote away a trifling $300,000, or thereabouts, of the country's funds. To a non-political observer it seems that the liberal party has only opposed such wild-cat schemes as ship railways and new fangled tunnels like the one projected for the Straits of Northumberland. In all other enterprises they have merely opposed reckless waste and although their efforts have been in many cases in vain—as in the Langevin block, Tay canal, etc.—they have succeeded in saving Canada many millions of dollars and all public works have been the better done for their ever watchful eyes.—TERTIUM QUID.

PITH OF THE PRESS.

Who Is Who?

Hamilton Herald.

It seems to be a moot point as to whether it is Sir Charles Tupper that is premier of Canada or his grace archbishop Langevin.

Chairman on His Muscle.

London Free Press.

They have had a lively time in the Methodist general conference of the United States, now in session at Cleveland. So unruly were the members that bishop Hurst, who was in the chair, broke a gavel trying to command order.

John A. And Public Opinion.

Toronto Telegram.

Other people may regard those demonstrations of hostility to major John A. McGillivray in the conservative convention last week as a straw showing the way the wind is blowing, but the reception was no straw to the major himself, who, when he heard those howls, hoots and hisses, must have felt that he was being hit by a haystack.

Somewhat Off The Base.

Hamilton Times.

The Kingston News, an ardent Tupper worshipper, ridicules the idea that Mr. Laurier could settle the school question without dragooning the provinces or interfering in their sphere of sovereignty. It says: "But has not the ministry already tried that? Has it not minified its demands to the very lowest point in order to facilitate an adjustment of the difficulty?" The answer to both questions is no, emphatically no.

CHARLES STEVENS IS OUT

AS THE P.P.A. CANDIDATE FOR LENNOX COUNTY.

And He Will Take Uriah Wilson's Supporters—A Gathering in Napanee Last Night—Address By J. Lockie Wilson.

NAPANEE, May 13.—The political situation in Lennox has assumed a new complexion. To-day Charles Stevens, ex-mayor of Napanee, announced his intentions of running as an independent candidate. Just who invited Mr. Stevens to enter the field is not very clear, at present, as he certainly was not nominated by a convention in the regular orthodox manner. It is generally understood, however, that he is the candidate of the P. P. A., being an active and prominent member of that association. He promises to announce his platform in a day or so. Opinions are diversified as to the outcome of this triangular fight, but it is looked upon by the majority as a death blow to the prospects of Mr. Wilson. If the patron candidate, Mr. Switzer, receives the liberal vote, and there is now every assurance that he will, his election on the 23rd of June is a foregone conclusion. A great majority of the P.P.As. in this district are old time tories and erstwhile supporters of the member for Lennox. Mr. Switzer, who is making a house to house canvass in Napanee, was seen to-day, and he appeared rather pleased than otherwise with the turn affairs had taken.

A well attended public meeting in the interests of Mr. Switzer was held in the town hall here this evening. Short addresses were delivered by the patron candidate, Charles Stevens, the P.P.A. candidate, H. M. Deroche, Q.C., and J. Lockie Wilson, Glengarry, the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Wilson's address was listened to with great interest. He represented himself as a plain, blunt farmer, armed with the justice of his cause. He was sorry to see another independent candidate in the field, for if the independent men split up into factions the boodler would go unchecked. He was an old line tory himself, and had never polled a reform vote in his life, but he felt the need of a change and a cessation of the boodling and corruption that had characterized the regime of the present government. He dwelt on the decapitation of Sir M. Bowell and asserted that Tupper had intrigued and plotted with the "nest of traitors" to bring it about. Tupper was fighting for the spoils of office, and we now have a Tupper government and a Tupper cabinet and Canada is in the control of one of the greatest blood-suckers the country ever produced.

As a sample of how justice was administered, he pointed out that if Mr. Switzer, the patron candidate, was discovered during the election loaning a $5 bill to an elector of Lennox he would be disqualified. But we find Sir Charles Tupper promising $25,000,000 towards railroads in Manitoba to bribe the electors of Manitoba with our money, and his actions are considered legal and proper. He dwelt for a time on the tariff question, demonstrating how it injured and retarded the farmer. He also referred to the manner in which the farmer was discriminated against by the N.P. He briefly referred to the superannuation system and the need for its abolition. He gave all honor to the men who prevented the passing of the estimates as brought down at the last session.

The Shortis case was briefly touched on as a cowardly miscarriage of justice for which the cabinet was responsible. The speaker wound up his excellent address by calling upon all honest men to unite to bring about the election of Mr. Switzer. The Tuppers were hungry for the spoils of office, he said. There is now over a million dollars loaned on mortgages in every constituency in Ontario, still we find Tupper running up and down the country promising millions more. Where was the money to come from? where did Tupper's five million dollars come from? He got it out of Onderdonk and the big contractors, and not out of the practice of medicine. He urged upon them the necessity for putting down Tupperism. The meeting broke up with cheers for the queen and the patron candidate.

Political Cullings.

David McElroy, Carp, may run as a McCarthyite in North Lanark.

Edmund Dupre will be the conservative candidate against Dr. Guay in Levis.

Tupper used to be called the high priest of protection, to which may now be added the title archbishop of coercion.

Sir Charles Tupper is expected to hold a meeting in Quebec on Monday, 18th, instead of on Wednesday, 20th.

"Mgr. Langevin," says La Patrie, "is now engaged in a quasi-political tour through the county of Laprairie, and his sermons appear to be inspired to a much greater extent by Sir Charles Tupper than by the Holy Spirit."

Tarte, in the course of a speech at Terrebonne, accused Tupper of aspiring to a seat in the house of lords, and trying to use Canada as a stepping stone. Tarte said a friend of his had seen documents that McGreevy and Connolly had threatened to make public if they were not released from prison.

Mr. Fergusen, ex-M.P. for South Renfrew, has retired and left the field to Mr. Brady, the liberal, who will be returned by a splendid majority. In North Renfrew Mr. Mackie is meeting with great success, and the friends of speaker White admit that they are not in it. Both Renfrews will be in line for Laurier on the 23rd June.

Major Sam Hughes is busily engaged telling his constituents what a lot of money he and the good government at Ottawa would have secured for North Victoria, but for the opposition, who blocked the supplies. There was money for the Gilert railway and the L. H. & M. railway, and £11,500 for cutting a log slide in the rock at Fenelon Falls, and $48,000 in the supplementaries for 1897, "besides thousands for other purposes." It is very funny that, although in power for eighteen years, the government never cut a log slide at Fenelon Falls, and only wanted real badly to do it on the eve of a hard election. Mr. Hughes is clinking gold from the treasury under the eyes of the electors every day, but, sad to say, they can't see it, and must just take his word for it. But it's a miserable kind of campaign for a decent citizen to make.

Don't Like His Way.

CHAFFEY'S LOCK, May 12.—The old time conservatives in this locality are not well pleased at the action of Dr. Preston in the convention held at Delta last week. They have stood by him in the past and elected him as their representative in the local legislature, and now when they do not see their way clear to support him as their candidate for the commons, he is ready to turn his back on them. Mrs. James Howarth has the sympathy of the community in her sorrow over the death of her grandson, Alpha Thomas, who shot himself recently and died two hours afterwards. The funeral of E. J. Hopkins, V. S., of Elgin, occurs to-day. He was formerly a resident of Newboro and was much respected, being a gentleman in every respect. S. H. Hughes is about selling his mill property here and going to the northwest. He will be employed by the Ontario Milling Co. to oversee the building of a grist mill at Delorraine, Man. T. Simmons is having one of his barns moved nearer his dwelling-house and making extensive improvements to his farm. W. H. Fleming is having a well drilled by Mr. Wilson, of Athens. There are prospects of quite a brisk trade on the Rideau canal this season as a good deal of lumber will come through from Ottawa. M. Regan wears a happy smile—it is a little girl. Visitors: J. W. Simmons, Newboro; S. McNamee, Toledo.

NAPANEE CHEESE BOARD.

It is Organized For the Season—A Fair Price For Cheese.

NAPANEE, May 14.—The first meeting of the cheese board took place yesterday afternoon in the council chamber. The members of the board for 1895 were all present. The audit report for 1895 was found satisfactory with a balance on hand of $3.15, after meeting all expenses. The report was adopted.

It was moved by S. E. Clark, seconded by A. Alexander, that a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Whalen who wished to retire from being president, as he found it was impossible to attend. Moved by R. Thompson, seconded by A. Alexander, that S. E. Clark be president for 1896, and E. H. Phippen, vice-president. W. R. Gerdanier, secretary and treasurer, at a salary of $25, same as last year. Members' fees to be the same as last year, $1.50 per factory.

Geo. Benjamin, inspector for 1895, was obtainable at the same terms as last year. It was moved, and seconded, that each factory engaging the inspector pay $4 for each visit; several factories engaged the inspector for a named number of visits. Mr. Vanluven and A. Alexander were chosen auditors for 1896. The board will meet at two p.m. each Wednesday during the season.

The buyers present were Thompson Bros., A. Alexander, F. E. Vanluven, C. E. Bartlett. There were 335 boxes cheese boarded, all white. The bidding started at 7¼c. for board and rose steadily until 7⅞c. was reached. This was considered quite a fair price, as the first cheese of 1895 sold for 6 1-16c.

Mrs. A. A. Richardson, Nanaimo, B. C., arrived in town on Saturday last and spent a few days visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Richardson, market square, and left Tuesday on an extended visit with friends in Iroquois, Ont. S. Burrows, Belleville, was in town yesterday.

THE MANDAMENT.

Bishops' Document Approved in Rome—What They Will Say.

Toronto Star.

MONTREAL, May 13.—I am enabled to give, from a high authority, the gist of the much-talked-of mandament which will be read in the Catholic churches of Quebec next Sunday, with regard to the Manitoba schools. My informant states that the utterance has the approval of the vatican authorities, to whom it was submitted, and who approved of it.

The mandament to be read is not the original declaration drawn up, for that one was declared by the Rome authorities to be too drastic.

The mandament will be promulgated in the ecclesiastical provinces of Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa. In the other provinces of Canada the bishops will give the utterance individual approval and privately instruct their flocks to carry out its directions.

First, the mandament will state that the domain of education is one that comes under the teaching of the gospel, and that the clergy have authority in that domain.

Next will come a recital of the facts in the Manitoba school case. Deep regret will be expressed for the division, as expected in parliament, of Catholics over the remedial bill. The duty of the representatives of the people with reference to christian education will then be touched upon, and reasons will be given why every Catholic member should vote for the remedial bill.

The duty of the Catholic electors will be laid down to vote only for those candidates who are so pledged. It will be stated that if such support is withheld it will constitute a grievous error for which they will be held spiritually responsible.

PLENTY OF BUSINESS.

What the People of Bedford Mills Find Work At.

BEDFORD MILLS, May 12.—Farmers are nearly through seeding, and a large portion of the grain sown is up and looking well. A large acreage of corn will be planted around here this year. Our cheese factory is managed by A. Croskey, whom we are looking forward to for the best of results. The shingle mill is running full time, under the management of L. Chapman. The mica mine on J. Stoness' property, near here, is a scene of activity. The Webster Co., Sydenham, has leased the property and has a gang of men working it, with good results. The Misses Scott have returned to Sydenham, after spending a few days with their sister here. George Toner and E. Compton, Kingston Mills, made us a visit last week. George Moulton, truant officer for this school, is bound to enforce the law, which will be of great benefit to the scholars. Quite a number from here attended the funeral of the late E. J. Hopkins at Elgin. Many expressions of sympathy have been uttered here for the friends and relatives of deceased. He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his departure. Mr. Chown, Sydenham, gave us a call last week. He was looking after the interests of the mica mines. The tug Edmond and barge will leave here in a few days. The sawmill will soon be in operation again. Fred. Page will soon be here with his drive of logs.

Denbigh Doings.

DENBIGH, May 11.—We have been favored with beautiful spring weather and a great deal of seeding has been done. Our land is now getting rather dry and a good rain is wished for. The Rathbun company has just finished driving a very large drive of timber out of Hyde's Creek into the Madawaska river, and the drivers are moving up to Snake Creek, where they have another large drive to take down. Quarterly meeting was held at the Methodist church last Sunday and conducted by the Rev. J. C. Anderson, of Vennachar, and Rev. C. H. Shephard, of this place. Rev. F. W. Schneider conducted divine service at Plevna last Sunday. A German Lutheran congregation was organized in the township of Lyndoch, in the county of Renfrew, which is to be added to the Denbigh Lutheran mission district and ministered to by the Rev. F. W. Schneider, whose arduous duties will thereby be still more increased. Quite a number of our young folks attended the Free Methodist service at Vennachar last Sunday evening. A quiet wedding took place at the residence of D. Youmans on the 4th inst., his daughter, Ella, being joined in the bonds of holy matrimony to Oscar Chatson by the Rev. J. C. Anderson, Vennachar. A fire, the cause of which has as yet not been ascertained, was started near the dwelling of Richard Mieske during his absence and destroyed the dwelling with all contents on Saturday last. Mr. Mieske loses all his clothing, bedding, tools and provisions, and receives the sympathy of the community.

Petworth Incidents.

PETWORTH, May 12.—George W. Dawson will address the people here on 28th. Thomas Kerr has gone to Cornwall, having obtained an office there. Yesterday a horse belonging to John Boyce, while employed on the farm, dropped dead. Mrs. John and Eman Lakins are visiting relatives in the United States. Danford Lakins, sick for some time, is well again. The village looks much better since many have planted ornamental trees. Our board walks should now be repaired as they are becoming dangerous in places. Some of our young men have secured a job with the Rathbun company.

William Kerr has disposed of some fine cattle to Waddington Bros., Kingston. The larger portion of seeding is now done. The season has been favorable the weather being cool. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. John Curl at Mrs. Cranston's; Jessie McQuinn at James Lambert's; Mr. Martin at James Kerr's.

POOR OLD BOWELL.

By His Own Pusillanimous Conduct He Dethroned Himself.

Kincardine Review, Conservative.

If anybody suspected Sir Charles Tupper of complicity in the miserable conspiracy that took place in January last, he must be still stronger in his suspicion now. Every vestige almost of poor old Bowell has been wiped out. He is not in it himself. Ouimet, Caron and Daly, who stood by him in his extremity, are out of it also. The strikers are on top. Only Costigan, of all the ministers with portfolios who stood by Bowell, is allowed to stand by Tupper. That he can sing "I'm the Only One That's Left of All the Family," is due to two accidents—birth and religion. . . . But don't weep for Mr. Bowell. If you have tears, hold them for some other occasion. He had the whipstock in his hand. He could have punished his enemies. He could also have protected his friends. He chose not to use that power. What his reasons were we know not, but we do know that by his own pusillanimous conduct he dethroned himself and left his friends to be sacrificed by his enemies. He is entitled to no more sympathy than you can give him with due regard to all the circumstances. Newspaper reports say that he and Sir Charles Tupper are on the very best terms. That may all be. At all events we can swallow it in Kincardine where we have lots of salt. But Sir Mackenzie wanted neither Haggart nor Montague in any cabinet. Why did he not, master of the situation as he was, dictate his terms before surrendering the citadel?"

Hamilton's Butternut Pills For Dyspepsia One a Dose.

It is too often forgotten that impaired digestion, flatulence, sour stomach eructation of gas from the stomach, all have their origin in a disordered condition of the liver. No remedy can equal Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut for the cure of all diseases of the liver, stomach and bowels. They are vegetable, mild in action, and safe for young and old under all circumstances. Sold by all dealers in medicine at Polson's drug store.

Never Despair.

IT IS IN THE AIR
Kingston People Talk About It
It is in the air.
Can't stop it spreading.
Can't keep down a good thing.
People who don't know about it want to know.
People who do know want to tell about it.
It is kidney education.
Kingston people are learning fast.
Here are some facts:
John F. Wilson, the popular grocer, No. 5 O'Kill street, Kingston, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at McLeod's drug store have done me much good.
"When they were introduced into Kingston I was not able to go for them and had to send my boy to get a box for me to try. I am now very thankful that I sent him for that box of pills.
"For ten years I have been a great sufferer with terrible pains across the small of my back and in my left side, also from urinary difficulties which caused me great inconvenience and distress, restlessness, sleeplessness and tired, worn-out feeling, all these made my life a burden, and I was also a sufferer from rheumatism.
"Since taking Doan's Kidney Pills I have been getting better right along. The pains in my back and side have been entirely taken away. The urinary trouble is gone and my rheumatism is wonderfully improved.
"I now sleep and rest well, and cannot say too much for Doan's Kidney Pills which have helped me so quicky and so wonderfully. I can recommend them as the best remedy I know of for those suffering from kidney trouble in any of its various forms."
(Signed), JOHN F. WILSON.
