HALL AND HIS STRIKES.

Hon. Mr. Hall has agreed to disagree with the other members of the Quebec government and will leave them. It has been a case of going, going, gone. He has been going several times and regretted it, but this time he remains outside.

His strike, now, as it has been on every former occasion, has been in regard to the manner in which he shall run the finance department over wh ch he presides. A loan of $4,000,000, floated during the Mercier regime, has to be retired in January, and Mr. Hall proposes to prepare for it by issuing four per cent. bonds, payable in sixty years, or by requiring the C.P.R. to pay the ten millions for which it purchased the North Shore road in 1882; and some time since the railway company gave notice of its desire to liquidate this debt.

Premier Taillon, supported, it is said, by "active politicians who do not sit upon the treasury benches," favors the issue of three per cent. bonds for sixty years, on the ground that the interest will be one per cent. less, and that the debt will be easier handled by the province in the improved credit of the future.

Disagreement over these schemes exhibits Mr. Hall in an unfavorable light, as tending to discount his skill as a financier and detract from the influence he was alleged to possess in the ministry. He is the English-speaking member who was supposed to be of crowning importance in the government, and it is a humiliating spectacle to have his advice rejected while that of outside authorities is sought and accepted.

Mr. Hall has raised his back, and, it is said, humps for the last time. Chapleau-like, he has been on strike several times, for exhibition purposes, and found it necessary to retreat. The idea each time was that the tail should wag the dog, and it didn't.

AMBITION OF WOMEN.

The women's suffragists of the United States are advertising themselves by methods which are more or less questionable. An hundred of them, say the telegrams, have undertaken in Topeka, Kan., to adopt a form of dress as nearly like that of a man as it is possible to get. The costume is to consist of Turkish trousers covered by a skirt reaching to the fold, a close or loose waist, and cloth leggins to match the trousers.

All this is in line with the dress reform movement which has been in progress in the larger cities for some time, but with a growth much slower and less satisfactory than had been expected. The women of Boston have perhaps led in their demand for clothing which in texture, in cut, in fashion, would give the wearer the utmost comfort, and the "Arena" has supplied illustrations of the new departure and shown that it is very much as the Topeka women have adopted.

What a marvellous change of opinion civilization has brought about! An incident is related of Queen Margaret of Austria. She was passing through a town which was celebrated for its manufacture of silk stockings, and, the authorities wishing to show her some courtesy, presented her with a costly pair. The present was indignantly refused by the queen's cham berlain, who informed the delegates that "the Queen of Spain has no legs." The story, it is said, is probably a burlesque upon the Spanish etiquette for the custom which requires the women to conceal their feet. Dr. Mary Walker shocked every one when she persisted in donning, entire, the apparel of the man, in the interest of personal comfort and in demonstration of her right to wear what she liked. That was a form of independence for which few others craved, and in regard to which Dr. Mary Walker has had no imitators. But the women of America are gradually increasing what was esteemed a modesty in dress, have adopted the men's coats and vests, collars and ties, and it seems an easy transition to adopt the trousers, too, with legging attachments. Queen Margaret's chamberlain would have a different idea of things if he lived in these days.

It is a question if the suffragists are not confounding the people by coupling dress and franchise reforms. The prohibitionists of the United States adopted women's rights as a plank in their platform some years ago, and the combination weakened them. Dress reform is an issue which should stand in its own merits and in no way affects the political status of the women. The Topeka women are mixing matters to their own disadvantage.

Killed By a Pitched Ball.

SENECA, Mich., Sept. 26.—George Bacon, a blacksmith, was one of the nine that went to Jasper to play baseball with a club of that town on Sunday. He had made two long drives in previous times at the bat, and when he came to the plate in the seventh inning the pitcher sent the ball with all his force. The second ball pitched hit Bacon squarely on the head and he dropped as if shot. Physicians worked over him for hours, but could not restore him to consciousness. He died yesterday.

MIDLAND CENTRAL FAIR.

GIVING THE CHOICEST OF THE PRIZE LIST.

The Owners of Horses That Secured Good Places in the Test—The Successful Ladies and Those Who Were Leaders in Fine Arts.

Several owners of horses in the farmers' race at the Midland central fair are not satisfied with the way things went on Friday. On Tuesday horses were ruled out for foul riding, but on Friday much more serious offences were committed and no notice taken of them. All should have been served alike. Glenburnie farmers W. Blacklock, V. Craig, J. P. Daley and Charles Hay, made a great sweep of the prize list in apples. They grow charming varieties and have orchards that are as fine as any in Canada. E. H. Wartman, Prince Edward county, also won many prizes in this department and got first on the best collection of fruits. S. N. Watts, Portsmouth gathered in seventeen firsts, and many seconds on pears, plums and grapes. S. Fairfield, W. C. Rothwell, I. Knight, A. Knight, W. H. Reid, J. M. Fair, Kingston township; T. C. Stark, D. D. Rogers, Pittsburg township; S. A. Lyon, Storrington township; Rev. C. A. McWilliams, Loughboro township, were the chief cattle exhibitors from Frontenac, and they secured prizes that are worth something for their stock came in competition with some of the best animals now making the rounds of the provincial exhibitions.

NAPANEE'S BIG FAIR.

The Races and Baby show Were Attractions—Dr Burrows Married.

NAPANEE, Sept. 26.—Our fair opened to-day under very favorable circumstances the weather being a little cool but dry and pleasant. All the exhibits were in place by noon, and a much larger number than for several years, and all of high quality, the fruit being better than former years. The following are the winners in the races:

Special class A for stallions.—H. Milling; E. R. Masten, Wilton.

Single pacing horse.—H. Milling; B. Brisco; C. Hawley.

Free-for all trotting.—A. Benn, Moscow; E. R. Masten, Wilton; E. Hawley, Napanee.

Hotel keepers' prize.—W. Watts, Cannifton; W. R. Purdy, Ernesttown; A. Phippen, Yarker.

The greatest attraction of the day was the baby show. Many went away disappointed at not getting a glimpse of the cherubs. There will be some proud fathers in the country and some disappointed ones, too. They all looked handsome enough to get a prize. The following are the lucky ones:

Boys—First, Mrs. Shane; second, Mrs. Dickinson; third, Mrs. Murdock; fourth, Mrs. Loucks.

Girls—First, Mrs. Kaylor; second, Mrs Wagar; third, Mrs. R. Loucks.

We might especially mention to-day the exhibit of the Gibbard furniture company. They always had a good display, but excelled themselves this time, and we may well be proud of this industry in our midst. Hinch & Co. had also a fine display of furs, and Boyle & Son a tasteful exhibit of stoves, hardware, etc.

In one of the running heats a horse belonging to John Roblin, of Adolphustown, bolted, and in doing so collided with another horse, and threw its rider, who was stunned, but not otherwise injured. The animal broke its leg and had to be shot. The horse was a valuable one. Mr. Roblin, it is reported, was offered $300 for the animal recently.

Zina Ham's horse took fright on Dundas street, near the railroad bridge, yesterday, and Mr. Ham, seeing that the horse was getting beyond control, jumped and saved himself. The horse cleared the rig after running a short distance and was caught, little the worse for the run. The buggy was badly smashed.

Dr. Burrows, of Maribank, and Miss Rikley, of Camden, were married to-day at the residence of the bride's father. They left Napanee by the G.T.R. evening train for Toronto and other western points.

YARKER YIELDINGS

The Factories Are Booming With Orders—Marriage of Mr Dunn.

YARKER, Sept. 25.—Wm. Robinson has succeeded A. Johnston in the tailoring business here. Mr. Robinson hails from Peterboro. Charles Noll will remove here from Tamworth and will open his tinshop in the old Drury stand. He comes well recommended as an A 1 tinsmith. The factory has resumed operations and the amount of orders they have to fill will force them to run over time. The machinery has had a thorough overhauling and everything is in good trim to ensure good work. The new factory, erected by E. N. Benjamin, is now ready to run, and will commence this week. A. A. Connely has had a successful season in the foundry.

John Ewart has overhauled his residence and has added greatly to its appearance. Charles Bradshaw is erecting a residence for A. Vanluven. M. C. Dunn had a serenade party call on him at the residence of Peter Vanluven. The cause was his marriage to Peter Vanluven's daughter, married in Napanee, Sept. 15th, and was not known here until the arrival of the "Express" and "Beaver" last Friday. The bride and groom came out and enjoyed the fun and received the congratulations of the crowd. C. D. Wartman intends moving to Napanee. The wind on Sunday blew in the large windows in Robinson's tailor shop, breaking four panes of glass. Misses Lindsay and Montgomery open up in dressmaking over Winter's store.

There is not much grain moving yet as farmers anticipate higher prices soon. Messrs. Norrington and Sagar, Free Methodist ministers, will reside here if possible to obtain a residence. The water in the river is very low and manufacturers are bothered some. Alfred Martin was the only reform representative at the revision of the voters' list having to contend with about a dozen conservatives.

Barriefield Briefs.

BARRIEFIELD, Sept. 26.—Farmers suffered so much for want of water this summer that many are sinking new wells and deepening others. In the Gore Mr. Farrelly, Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Moran and others are among the number. A new boardwalk is being placed on the principal street, where it was badly needed; the old timbers are being stored for firing in the village school house.

Through the death of a relative the head teacher, Miss Barclay, has been called away for a few days. Miss Scott will take her class in charge till she returns. Most of the few women and children who attended the fair had their clothes and boots almost destroyed with the rain and mud and not a few of them are ill with severe colds.

A purse with $1 in it was found by two little boys named Stanton and Tisdale on the highway near Rev. Prof. Worrell's residence a week since. The children began to dispute over the division of the contents when another member of one of the families settled it, like the monkey did for the two cats and the cheese, by taking all.

Robert P. Baxter, Victoria, Vancouver, formerly of Pittsburg, was married on Sept. 13th to Miss Nellie Enwright, Victoria. Mr. Baxter left here several years ago for the north-west, and though quite young his perseverance and amiable disposition have won for him many friends. Nelson Burnside, New York city, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Forbes; Mrs. McDar, Brockville, visiting Mrs. M. Byrnes; Mrs. Lye, of same place, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Medley.

ODESSA OCCURRENCES.

THE HARVEST FESTIVAL AT ST. ALBANS WAS A SUCCESS.

A Quiet Marriage and Departure—There Are Various People Quite Ill—Canvassing for Patrons for Electric Lights.

ODESSA, Sept. 26.—A sudden launch upon the matrimonial sea was made last week by a couple of our esteemed young people. Sidney Clark and Miss Millie Schermerhorn surprised their friends on Wednesday last by a quiet departure for Kingston, followed on arrival there by a very quiet marriage in which they figured as principals. After a short honeymoon they are at present back at Mr. Clark's home, a couple of miles from the village. Both are natives of this place and well known and much esteemed by a large circle of friends who join in congratulations in this happy event in their lives and in good wishes for their future joy and prosperity. Mr. Clark and wife are both active members of the Y.P.S.C.E. of the Methodist church here. Mrs. Clark being an ex-president, and it is to be hoped that the society will continue to receive their usual help and support.

Henry Murphy has suffered a second relapse of his illness of a few weeks ago and is again confined to his bed in a serious condition. He will be removed to the hospital at Kingston as soon as he can safely be moved that distance. Mrs. Sidney Sprotle, who has been confined to bed for over six weeks, is now so much improved as to be able to sit up for a short time each day. William H. Hogle, ill for some time, has become worse and lies at present in a dangerous condition. Next Sabbath will be flower Sunday at the Methodist church here. This service is held in connection with the Sabbath school and will henceforth be an annual one. The church will be decorated with flowers and a special sermon to the young will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Seccombe. In the evening the series of sermons on the Prodigal Son will be continued. These discourses are proving very interesting and profitable.

The canvas for the electric lights in town is progressing nicely and quite a number have signified their intention to use electricity in their places of business and residence. Enough have not yet been guaranteed, however, to warrant the putting in of the plant by B. A. Booth. The scheme is sure to succeed, however, if a little more substantial support of the company is forthcoming. The township council met yesterday in regular session; all members present. Considerable business was done, including the passing of by-laws for the appointment of tax collectors and the striking of the rate. The township rate remains the same as last year, but the county rate is higher, necessitated by the fact that the county is asking more money from Ernesttown this year. The following collectors of taxes received appointment: Ward No. 1, Lewis Smith; No. 2, John Shaw, No. 3, Allan Chadwick; No. 4, P. C. R. Miller; No. 5, Wellington Lapum; No. 6, Allan Chadwick. Mr. Chadwick breaks the record at collecting, being the most successful man ever in the employ of the council. The poor list was paid up till Oct. 1st, 1894, and a number of accounts for ditching and building culverts, etc., were paid. The following county road orders were paid: John Redden, division No. 6, $25; Isaac Hogabone, div. No. 7, $13.33; Eli Emmons, div. No. 5 7, 11, 12, $109.39; Jason Hawley, div. No. 1, $3.50; E. O. Clark, div. No. 9, $17.50; Wm. Miller, div. No. 7, $2.50; John Fellows, div. No. 5, $2.90; Fred Laidley, div. No. 5, $8.60. Council adjourned until last Monday in October.

Robert Ashley receives our congratulations on the birth of a young son last Thursday. Messrs. W. Calder and S. Babcock were out on a fishing expedition to the back lakes last week. They caught several bass and pronounced the fishing out there to be excellent just now. Parker Timmerman is building an addition to and otherwise improving his residence on Main street. Mr. Timmerman is possessed of unusual vigor of body for one who has reached the very advanced age which he enjoys. He took an active part himself in the improvements which were made. Wm. Calder, harness maker, has bought the lot and residence of Russell Howard, just east of the Dominion hotel, and will move into the new premises next week. He will also remove his shop there from up town.

Mr. Howard has traded his brick house on Main street with Byron Derbyshire for one of the latter's farms in Quobham and is now removing from the village. Visitors: Mrs. David Aylesworth, Markham, at her father's, J. C. Fraser; Mrs. Dr. Jonah, Baston, at D. B. Booth's; Mrs. Solomon Shultz, Watertown, at W. R. Lee's; Mrs. Charles Milsap, Watertown, Mrs. F. McBrien, Kingston, and Mrs. Wm. Tout and daughter, Buffalo, at S. D. Babcock's; Mrs. Peter Walroth and daughter Watertown, at Billings Gordon's; Miss Rees, Kingston, at Anson Storms'.

In connection with the township fair to be held here on Oct. 4th next, a new departure will be made which is a very praiseworthy one. Special prizes will be offered by Messrs. J. A. Timmerman, secretary of the society, and P. D. Shorey, principal of Odessa public school, for best specimen of writing, best specimen of freehand drawing and best map of Ontario. These competitions will be open to bonafide pupils of the schools of Ernesttown, work to be certified in each case by teacher. The prizes in each case will be 75c. to the first and 50c. to second. This feature was unfortunately omitted from the show posters, but the teachers of the township will all be notified of the competition and invited to bring their pupils into the contest. It is hopeful that a lively interest will be taken in this by all our schools.

A special meeting of Court 424, I.O.O.F., was held in Bond's hall, last evening, for the reception of special reports, including Rev. F. T. Dibb's report as delegate to the grand lodge. A vote of thanks was tendered him for his work in this respect. Mr. Dibbs missed election as delegate to England by but a small majority. A couple of initiations were made last night and the session of the court was not finished till nearly midnight. Another quiet wedding comes to the ears of your correspondent, but too late for any particulars, which will be given next week.

Particulars Of The Accident.

MOUNTAIN GROVE, Sept. 25.—The funeral of Robert Stinchcomb, of Long Lake, was held here on Friday. His death was very sudden and painful. On Tuesday afternoon he went to the field and caught his horses. As he was leading them out of the field a two-year old colt came up. He struck it with the halter to drive it away, when the animal turned and kicked him in the stomach. After fifteen or sixteen hours of intense suffering he passed away. He was about forty years of age, and leaves a wife and two small children. Rev. N. D. Drew preached to a large and sympathetic audience from the words, "Redeeming the time." The time is short.

On Thursday morning James Bender, one of the oldest residents of Olden, passed away peacefully. The funeral service was conducted at Parham Methodist church on Saturday by Rev. N. D. Drew. Mr. Bender was well known and respected. He was a magistrate and kept the Long Lake post office for many years. W. H. Bender, of the W. I. Bridge Co., Canton, Ohio, is at home for a short time.

Miss Charlotte Flynn is visiting friends in Havelock. Miss Maggie Coulter and Miss Reems Sanderson attend the teachers' institute in Kingston this week. Mrs. S. Abbott and son, Percy, are visiting on Wolfe Island. Miss Mabel Gates, Westbrook, is staying with her sister, Mrs. D. McDonald. H. Connolly, teacher of No. 4, Olden, leaves on Saturday, to attend Queen's college.

Price & Co's threshing machine is going its round and the yield is reported fair.

WOLFE ISLAND NEWS.

The Events Racily Written Up By Our Correspondent.

WOLFE ISLAND, Sept. 25.—The sudden and untimely death of Dr. Betts has cast a gloom over the entire island. He was looked upon as a kind and skilful physician, never refusing his services when asked, but willingly responding to every call, whether from rich or poor, and no matter at what hour of the night, or what the state of the roads or weather. He enjoyed a large and lucrative practice and was court physician of the C.F. and I.O.F. societies here. His sorrowing friends have the sincere sympathy of the islanders.

A large quantity of hay and grain, purchased by Richardson & Co., Kingston, through their agent, Mr. Going, is being stored in Cumming's warehouse.

Threshing which has been vigorously prosecuted for some weeks is nearly completed. In many cases the grain yield has been below the average.

Potatoes have turned out fairly well, but in some places a slight rot has appeared since the weather set in. The root crop generally is pretty good.

The apple crop which, at one time promised to be large, has been considerably damaged by the prevailing high winds. So much of the fruit is falling that very little will remain to be plucked.

The grass has greatly revived since the rains, but so little substance is there in the new blade that there has been no increase in the flow of lacteal fluid from the cows, consequently some of the cheese factories will be closed down at an earlier date than usual. There have been four factories in operation on the island this season. T. Hatfield, of Calgary, is visiting friends on the island. He speaks in high terms of the climate of Calgary, but does not intend to permanently reside there, however.

Mesdames Horne and Hiscock have returned from a visit to the capital. While there they visited the "model farm" and were greatly delighted with what they saw. Misses Jennie Card and Mabel Davis and Richard Card, of this place, were stopping at Jerome's hotel, Cape Vincent, on the night of the fire. Richard saved the lives of his sister and cousin by going to their room, and after placing wet clothes over their faces, leading them down two flights of stairs through the intense heat and smoke to the street in safety. Such bravery in a boy of his age is praise worthy indeed.

Arthur Spankie, aged nine, and little Earnie Crawford were out in a small boat lately, when Earnie in reaching over fell in, and disappeared. Arthur, without raising any alarm or getting frightened, coolly waited until his head appeared above the water when he seized hold of him and drew him into the boat. Miss Lena Abrams, of Verona, is the guest of Mrs. T. Friend. Miss Beaubiah, of Amherst Island, is visiting at Mrs. Sanderson's.

THE GREEN HOUR OF PARIS.

In Which Parisians of Both Sexes Strong Alcohol Upon a System.

Absinthe is one of the special [illegible] Paris. Whether you be on the Boulevards or at Belleville, the green drink, or "green hour," as they call it, is a marked feature of the landscape, according to a New York Sun, which gives these details about it: In general this drink takes the place in Paris which Americans give to whisky, rum, gin and brandy, cocktails and mixed drinks. In Paris absinthe means strong alcohol. That is the central truth. It is the strongest form of alcohol for drinking purposes. The "absinthe" part of it, the herb, is in comparison almost an accessory. The peculiar feature is the hour or hours of drinking.

Parisians regard the drinking of their absinthe out of certain hours as a gross piece of ignorance and bad taste. Few people in the smarter sections of the city dare to brave the waiter's elevated eyebrows or their neighbors' looks of curious amusement which are sure to follow a demand for absinthe after luncheon or after dinner. Even at night, at midnight, or at 2 a. m., absinthe may not be drunk. Absinthe is an aperitif, a drink which people take to give them appetite and tranquilize the nerves before a meal. Along with absinthe there are many other aperitifs—vermouths, amers and proprietary nostrums, all served with the water bottle and cracked ice in summer. As in the taking of absinthe, all these, in general, must be diluted with at least three times their weight in water. You drink them all from goblets, sitting on the sidewalk, on the "terrace," as they call it, of the cafe.

After a Quarter of a Century.

For more than a quarter of a century the face of Charlotte, once empress of Mexico, has not been seen by the world. Her alienation has lasted during all that space of European history and lasts yet, but a glimpse of that secluded face was given the other day, not to the great world indeed, but to the villagers living in the neighborhood of her place of retreat. Every year a procession is held at this time of year from the village to the park, and benediction is given at a temporary altar under the windows of the empress' apartments. This year she appeared at her balcony, knelt and followed all the prayers. Witnesses relate that, though she never lifted her eyes
