"Quarter per Annum Paper"

EMPHASIZING A TRUTH.

The police magistrate took advantage of a lull in the proceedings against the mail robbers, at the police court yesterday, to emphasize a truth, namely that the lesson of a year ago should have had its practical effects in some different manner of handling the mails, and that the lesson of a week ago ought to facilitate the improvement.

The observation of the chief inspector, that the Grand Trunk railway people did not know that the mails were in danger on their premises, and that the structural defects in the baggage room, developed by the robbery, came as a surprise to them, does not very materially affect them. It is not only an awkward and antique arrangement to have the mails lying in any building at the outer station for hours, but it is certainly unsafe to have them conveyed from the city at late and early hours by one man and in a manner particularly inviting to the beats who are on the lookout for plunder. When the Grand Trunk has a car going from the city to every train, and when, with little trouble and no increase in the cost, a night service can be established at the general post office, there is no reason for an adherence to the old-time methods and practices which the robberies have revealed.

Let Kingston have a modern service, in the acceptance of late mail matter, and in the distribution and transportation of it. The all night staff at the general post office is a necessity for which the wonder grows a demand has not been made before this. The board of trade is an institution which lately has been showing some signs of renewed life. Why does it not discuss the question of postal accommodation so that in this as in other respects the city will be abreast of the times.

FUTILE CASTLE BUILDING.

The press and its cartoonists have been having a serious time of it about the patron vote for which Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Marter, the new leader of the conservative squat in the local legislature, were supposed to be industriously angling. Mr. Marter's choice seemed to settle the issue for his party, and he and his whiskers were understood to be so acceptable to the farmer representatives, that one or two papers proceeded to block out his cabinet with our friend and neighbor Haycock as head of the agricultural department.

Now Mr. Mallory, the plain speaking leader of the patrons, has put a stop to this castle building in the air by declaring kindly, but emphatically, that the farmers will not form an alliance with any of the old parties. "We have declared our platform and our principles time and again," he said. "They are unchanged. We will not add one plank or take one away from Sir Oliver Mowat or Mr. Marter, Sir John Thompson, Mr. Laurier or Mr. McCarthy, or for anyone else. We will stand alone and form no alliance. The order would not last three months if we joined either grits or tories or any other political faction, and we will fight it out along our own line."

And the man is talking sense. It is not expected that the farmers are going to sell themselves for a mess of pottage. Their failure in the past to count in an election and in political life has been their readiness to make sacrifices for the good of others. They now want a few sacrifices from others for their good, and their success depends upon their absolute independence. This is what the tories do not desire. They have been figuring on all sorts of combinations, and especially the combination that was going to give them the prestige, with a possible advent to power eventually and a pick of the public offices. And this hopeful outlook Mr. Mallory has marred by a few words, spoken at the patrons' recent executive meeting.

MANUFACTURERS' GRIEVANCES.

It is not quite clear what the attitude of the council is towards the local carriage makers who have petitioned to be treated as generously as the new vehicle company. The petition went to the finance committee, and no action was taken, it was stated, it referred to something which was to happen in the future.

Now that, obviously, was not the intention and spirit of the petition. Those who signed it, who had been in business here for many years, had felt that they were entitled to some consideration, had expected to be dealt with as generously as any new comers, and had looked for a definite reply of some kind to their appeal.

It is said that the carriage makers were offensive in their communication, that it contained a threat which the finance committee would not brook. Then why don't they say that their dignity has been hurt, that they desire and expect greater humility from the old time citizens and tax payers, and that in its absence there is an indisposition to debate the case on a business basis. What is the sense of dodging the issue now? The assumed intelligence or seeming impropriety of any phrase or sentence in a petition should not delay the consideration of it on its merits.

Granted that a threat is implied in the petition it is not the first of which the council has had experience. It has been asked on the past for favors, has had them practically demanded of it, and has been told that unless they were granted the business so affected would be removed from the city. Telegrams have been often read in the council that unless Kingston were as generous in its public policy as other places act on would be taken very much to its disadvantage. So that in any event the petition of the local carriage makers should not create a commotion among those who are accustomed to have sharp things said to them. The question before the finance committee, remitted to it by the council, is not a difficult one to answer. Are the local carriage-makers deserving of any special favor? It is not a matter for future experience, but a matter to be settled now.

COURT OF REVISION

The Cases Considered at the Session Held Yesterday.

Sydenham ward appeals were looked after by the court of revision Tuesday.

Michael Purcell and Joseph Brophy will be assessed in future as supporters of separate schools.

Edwin Chown rented lot 275 for $250 a year and he pays the taxes; assessed for $3,000, reduced to $2,800.

Charles D. Chown was owner of lot 274 and thought the assessment should not be over $2,000. He will be assessed as owner.

Henry Dunbar was assessed $650 last year for lots 145 and 146 and $900 this year. He thought $550 was enough. Confirmed. The assessment of lot 150 was changed from Mary O'Brien to Henry Dunbar.

Archibald Sinclair thought his taxable income was too large. His income was $1,000 and as the law exempted $700 it was reduced to $300.

L. B. Spencer claimed illegal assessment of his steamyacht Wherenow. The court recommended to the council that the assessment be struck off.

Kirkpatrick & Rogers for Mrs. Ann Muckleston, taxed for income of $1,200, and it was not over $800. Reduced to $800.

Martin Clayton's assessment reduced $100.

W. H. Wormwith, dog struck off.

J. H. Birkett appeared for the locomotive works, objected to the assessment on personal property. The company was indebted for the whole of the stock represented by the amount. Average would not exceed $5,000 from month to month; buys on time, has no capital in personal property. Adjourned.

John H. Birkett, for 349, testified that real estate and personal property and income, total assessment $5,200 is $2,000 too much. He rented real estate from his father-in-law for $37 per month and taxes. He owned all the machinery in the mill which was paid for, $3,000. It would not realize more than $1,000 now. Real estate confirmed and personal property reduced to $1,500.

Col. Duncan Norton-Taylor, income assessment to be struck off and Mrs Norton-Taylor to be assessed for $1,600 income.

MANY FINE COTTAGES

Are Now Going Up in the Vicinity of Thousand Island Park.

THOUSAND ISLAND PARK, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Joseph Russell, who lived a short distance from Fisher's Landing, died very suddenly last week after a short illness. Deceased was very highly respected. She formerly came from Brighton, Ont. Gillespie's new cottage on Basswood Island is going up fast; so is the addition to the Pullman house. Jos. Robinson has finished. Mrs. Skinner's new cottage on Island avenue and it is now being painted. He has started another on Star avenue for J. H. Hemway of Syracuse. A pancake social was held at the Fine View hall on Hallowe'en and was well attended. The admission fee was fifteen cents. Proceeds went to Rev. Mr. Shortts.

Masons are engaged in building cellar walls for the Gridley cottage and the new farm house. It is a noticeable fact that the class of cottages going up now are superior to what has been built heretofore. D. W. Gardner has the contract of building the new farm house. Butter is a very scarce article here now on account of the cheese factory running late. The park store closes on Saturday after a very successful season under the management of H. Egbertson of Beaver Falls, N.Y. He and his family left for home to-day. Gordon Emmett is raising and putting new posts under J. A. Morris' cottage on Sunrise avenue. The steamer Juanita will quit running on the Clayton-Alexandria Bay route in a few days. Wind, accompanied with rain showers, passed over the Park on Saturday.

A Remarkable Success.

After five years of labor, with the help of 247 editors and the enormous expenditure of nearly one million dollars, the Funk & Wagnalls company (New York and Toronto) announce that the last page of the second, the concluding volume of the new Standard dictionary is in type, to be ready for delivery this month. The hearty reception extended the dictionary by the literary public in England is one of the literary surprises of the year. Justin McCarthy, the historian and parliamentarian, recently wrote: "I regard the Standard dictionary every day as a monumental work, perfect of its kind, and for its purpose destined to be a conclusive authority to the English speaking peoples, and to other peoples as well, for many a generation."

The sales of the Standard dictionary are phenomenal. The publishers have a mathematician who has figured out that if the copies required to fill the advance orders were laid one on top of the other, the stack would be over three miles high, and laid end to end would make a path over fifteen miles in length.

Queen's May Leave the West.

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—An evening paper, speaking of the Queen's university foot ball club leaving the Ontario union to join Montreal and Ottawa in the eastern union, says: "The eastern organization is compact, possessing two clubs in Ottawa and three in Montreal. Kingston's accession would give the easterns an even number of teams, and no fifteen would be compelled to accept an undesirable bye once during the season. The accession of Queen's would leave the Ontario union in an evil case. Toronto, Varsity and Hamilton are the only senior teams that are certain of re-organization next year. Osgoode made a manful attempt to gather her scattered forces together this season, but next year will see Smellie and the other legal cracks permanently out of it. A three club union will not have much attraction for spectators, and it may be the easterners again will hold the premier place in Canadian football."

The Oil of the Norway Fir.

Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. The kind that cures! colds, coughs, bronchitis and all affections of the throat and lungs. Every bottle warranted. No oily taste like others. In big bottles, 50c, and $1.00, at Wade's drug store.

FROM NORTHERN NORWAY.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY MADE IN THAT FAR-OFF LAND.

The Wonderful Medicinal and Nourishing Properties of Cod Liver Oil—A Priceless Gift From the "Land of the Midnight Sun."

There has been nothing discovered by medical science to take the place of Cod Liver Oil. It is somewhat singular that there should be obtained from the livers of cod-fish a nourishment and remedial agent which cannot be supplanted by some other food medicine, but, nevertheless, such is the undisputed fact.

How Cod Liver Oil was discovered is not definitely known. It is certain, however, that up in the cold regions of the north the natives long ago made use of all parts of the fish they caught that could possibly be made available for food, and it is probable that the Lapps of Northern Norway have known the virtues of Cod Liver Oil for a century. They found that in Cod Liver Oil were nourishing powers not possessed by any other food or medicine within their reach, and they were not slow to avail themselves of the benefits of a substance so easy for them to obtain.

About fifty years ago, the medical world in civilized countries became impressed with Cod Liver Oil, and by close observation and experiment, physicians found that Cod Liver Oil could be made a wonderful help to their profession. The result of investigation proved that after Cod Liver Oil was taken into the system it became an emulsion, just as milk is an emulsion of butter. This knowledge resulted twenty years ago in the appearance of Scott's Emulsion, which has now become a world-famed preparation.

Scott's Emulsion has taken the place of Cod Liver Oil, that is in its raw state. Scott's Emulsion and Cod Liver Oil are, of course, one and the same thing, except that in Scott's Emulsion the taste of the oil is completely disguised and all of the objections advanced by a nervous person with a weak stomach are entirely overcome. Scott's Emulsion saves the digestive organs the work of converting the oil into an emulsion, but it does not result in any unnatural process of digestion and assimilation.

Scott's Emulsion aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach, and is then passed on and assimilated in the natural way. Anything which is either digested or assimilated in an unnatural manner should be taken only on a doctor's prescription.

The endorsement by physicians of Scott's Emulsion is no lombast or buncombe. In all diseases or unhealthy conditions indicated by excessive wasting, Scott's Emulsion aids medical science more than any other nourishment. Scott's Emulsion helps a dyspeptic person by aiding the digestion of other foods, and to a person who is failing in health it gives increased appetite and promotes the making of solid flesh and gives vital strength. It enriches the blood, makes new lung-tissue and overcomes all wasting tendencies.

In cases of inflammation of throat and lungs Scott's Emulsion has no equal in power to afford quick relief. It cures the most stubborn cough, soothes and cures sore throat, and overcomes all the early stages of consumption.

In the wasting of the vital elements of the blood Scott's Emulsion also works wonders. Anæmic or scrofulous persons are made well by it, and there is restored the pure skin and healthy color.

It is almost useless to refer to Scott's Emulsion as a nourishment for babies and children. Its name is a household word in hundreds of thousands of families where there have been thin babies and children who were thin and pale. Babies and children thrive on Scott's Emulsion. It insures a healthy growth.

Scott's Emulsion is for sale by all druggists at 50c and $1. Pamphlet mailed free on application to Scott & Bowne, Belleville.

NORTH ONTARIO PLOWING MATCH.

Good Plowing in Every Class—The Prize List.

PORT PERRY, Ont., Nov. 7.—The annual plowing match of the Reach, Port Perry, Scugog and North Ontario Plowing Association was held yesterday on Ambleside farm, Scugog, and proved in every particular a grand success. The host of Ambleside generously supplied not alone the plowmen, but the spectators, which numbered hundreds, with an excellent lunch. The plowing in every class was good and the judges, all of whom were from a distance, discharged their duties in a highly satisfactory manner. At the close of the match all repaired to the Railroad Hotel, Port Perry, where a grand dinner was served.

Prize list: Sod class—First, E. Pardon, Whitby; second, Frank Weir, Scarboro; third, John Robb, Whitby.

Stubble class No. 1—First, Frank Hooper, Saintfield; second, George Bryant, Darlington; third, John O'Leary, Saintfield.

Stubble class No. 2—First, George S. Staples, Cartwright; second, A. Page, Esom; third, W. Moffatt, Columbus.

Stubble class, boys under 17 years—First, Campbell Blakely, Saintfield; second, James Coates, Shirley; third, John Moffatt, Reglan.

Judges on sod—Messrs. A. Barnett, John Tweedie and Frank Elliott. On stubble—Messrs. J. Curtin, E. Smith and William Birkett.

Burglary at Ridgeway.

RIDGEWAY, Ont., Nov. 7.—Burglars effected an entrance into the store of Eber Cutler by prying open the front door with a crowbar. The combination lock of the safe was broken with a sledge hammer and an attempt was made to drill a hole in the safe. The thieves evidently got discouraged and abandoned their attempt to blow open the safe. The cash drawer behind the counter was pried open and a small amount of change was secured. The burglars then picked up a quantity of cutlery, stripped the store of its best assortment of neckties and pocket handkerchiefs, took the overcoat of Clerk Stone and decamped. One of the party left behind him a coat and vest. In the pocket of the former article of wearing apparel was found a package of cheap smoking tobacco enclosed in a paper bearing an American trade mark on its surface.

Another Electric Railway.

HAMILTON, Nov. 7.—There are so many electric and steam railway schemes and other extensive projects before the public in this vicinity that enough surveyors cannot be procured to rush on them all. The latest is the Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls Electric Railway Company to construct which a company gives notice that it will apply to the next session of the Legislature for an act of incorporation. It proposes to construct an electric railway from some point in Toronto to Hamilton, thence to the Niagara river near the Falls, with a branch from Grimsby through Smithville to Dunnville.

When Others Fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by modern methods, possesses the greatest curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

Interred On Tuesday

The funeral of the late Mrs. Harrington took place on Tuesday to St. Mary's cathedral, where a requiem mass was sung, many friends of the deceased being present. The deceased was stepmother of Miss Harrington, Queen street. Mrs. Harrington, for some years had been living with her daughter, Mrs J. V. Clarke, in Chicago, and died on Nov. 2nd. She was a former Kingstonian and at her request her remains were brought here for burial.

Hanson's Magic Corn Salve cures corns and bunions with three applications. 15c per box at Wade's drug store, Kingston.

GENIUS AND MADNESS.

Moliere was subject to convulsions.

Schopenhauer was always gloomy and pessimistic.

Ben Johson and Nat Lee were almost slaves to alcohol.

Paganini, the violinist, often fell into a cataleptic state.

Schiller was a victim of fainting fits and convulsions.

George Eliot had frequent attacks of nervous prostration.

Chatterton was undoubtedly insane when he took his own life.

Shelley is said to have had visions to which he devoutly believed.

Both Kepler and Cartier died of different forms of brain disease.

Johanna Southcote was a cataleptic of the same variety as Joan of Arc.

Ignatius Loyola had visions which he seems to have regarded as inspired.

The brilliant Southey finally sank into a state of mental stupor, in which he died.

Lord Clive's melancholy finally ended in madness, and he died by his own hand.

Socrates imagined that he had a familiar spirit or guardian angel that conversed with him.

WELL-KNOWN FOREIGNERS.

Alexander Dumas has been fined twice for keeping a vicious dog at his home in Paris.

M. Durnof, the aeronaut, who first opened communication between Paris and the outside world in 1870, is dying in a Paris hospital.

Multafa Bey, formerly private physician to the sultan of Morocco, is said to derive an income of $100,000 a year from his profession.

Countess Alesio, of Turin, Italy, who celebrated her one hundredth birthday recently, accompanied her husband through all the hardships of the Moscow campaign while she was a bride of eighteen.

The Archduke Rainer, of Austria, has a collection of 10,000 Egyptian papyrus documents dating back from B.C. 1200. The collection contains commercial letters, contracts, tax records, wills, tailors' bills, novels and even love letters.

Bismarck said to a correspondent who visited him at Varzin a couple of weeks ago: "I shall never enter public life of any kind again. I am out of the harness forever." As he is verging upon the age of fourscore this is not particularly surprising.

GOVERNMENT RAILROADS.

South Austria owns her own railway system.

The little country of Hesse owns two hundred and twenty-six miles of railroad.

The government of Portugal owns about half the railroads in the country.

The Netherlands own nearly one thousand miles of railroads, all in the best of condition.

There are six hundred and three miles of railway belonging to the Japanese government.

A large per cent of the railways of Italy are owned by the government and leased to corporations.

Victoria, Australia, owns all the railroads in the colony, two thousand three hundred and forty-one miles.

New South Wales owns two thousand one hundred and eighty-two miles of railway, and New Zealand in 1892 owned six hundred and seventy-two miles.

THE ORIENT.

According to the examination just made by order of the Greek patriarch, the Byzantine edifices of Constantinople have not suffered severely by the earthquake.

As fasters the sect of Jains, in India, is far ahead of all rivals. Fasts of from thirty to forty days are very common, and once a year they are said to abstain from food for seventy-five days.

Nearly every Japanese paper has a "prison editor." For infraction of the publication laws somebody must go to jail, and so the prison editor's chief duty is to expiate the newspaper's offense by languishing in a cell.

On a territory about the area of Montana Japan supports forty million people in comparative comfort. Reckoning our own area at twenty-four times that of Japan, this country at that rate would support nine hundred and sixty million people.

HORTICULTURE.

Sir William Harcourt is not only fond of flowers, but he is an enthusiastic amateur gardener.

The only frostless belt in this country is said to be three miles in breadth, lying between Los Angeles and the ocean. Tender vegetables flourish in winter.

All plants have periods of activity and rest. Some are active in the daytime and sleep at night; others repose during the daylight hours and are awake at night.

The ramie fiber is tough and wears well. It is said that in China, where it is used for making clothing, it lasts so well that children frequently wear the clothes which their grandparents were when children.

QUARRELLED OVER POLITICS.

Three Brothers Engage in a Fight and One is Shot Dead.

CRANSTON STATION, N.Y., Nov. 7.—A murder was committed at about midnight near Garrisons, a village on the east side of the river, a few miles south of Cold Spring. John and Benjamin Gilbert, brothers, who reside with their mothers, became involved in a drunken quarrel over politics. The quarrel developed into a desperate fight and their mother while acting as peacemaker had one of her thumbs bitten off.

John and another brother, James, had been discussing politics. John became aggressive and James called upon Benjamin for assistance. John thereupon turned on Benjamin and drove him into another room. The door was closed and John fired through one of the panels, killing Benjamin instantly.

The murderer then ran from the house, seeking refuge at the house of another brother, where he was found and arrested. Both men are about 40 years of age and unmarried.

An Ohio Mayor in Trouble.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The Grand Jury of Lorain county have returned two indictments against Mr. George Wickens, Mayor of the city of Lorain. The complaining witness was Miss Mida Pershing. Mr. Wickens is one of the leading merchants of the city, and superintendent of the M. E. Sabbath school. Miss Pershing is a well-known and active church worker. Early in the spring she was employed by the Mayor as a book-keeper in his store, but left his employment in May. To a friend she confided the story of how Mr. Wickens had insulted her and forcibly kissed her. The Rev. Mr. Smith and Miss Pershing called upon an attorney, and an affidavit was sworn out, charging Mayor Wickens with using obscene language in the presence of a female, and for assault and battery in having kissed her. Before the justice the Mayor pleaded not guilty and waived examination. The case was then laid before the Grand Jury, with the result indicated.

GENERALLY PRESCRIBED.

The Idea That Bright's Disease Cannot Be Cured, Proven to Be a Fallacy.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—Local physicians are much gratified over the letter of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond, this province, testifying to his cure of Bright's disease, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Since the introduction of the remedy in this city, many physicians have not hesitated to prescribe the pills, and numerous cures have been the result. This latest testimony, coming from so well known a medical man, proves that the local men were right in changing the old time remedies for Dodd's Kidney Pills. Hence their jubilation.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge unless you desire to please. Try them.

The Baptist state convention, of Arkansas, has declared war on the church university at Chicago. It is alleged that Dr. Harper, president of the university, entertains and promulgates ideas at variance with the universal belief of Baptists in the divinity of all the books of the bible.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

The 300 W.C.T.U. women of Anderson, Ind., decided to go to the polls and make every possible effort to cast their ballots. In case they are refused they will appear in the United States court, with Mrs. Helen Gougar, who will try to vote at Lafayette, to test the constitutionality of the Indiana law.

ALMOST A CRIPPLE FOR LIFE.

The Sad Condition of a Little Girl Whose Parents Feared She was Beyond Hope.

Horatio N. Robinson, of Mount Pleasant, P.E.I., is one of the most prosperous and progressive farmers on the western part of the island. To a representative of the "Summerside Journal," Mr Robinson related how his little daughter, Bertha Mabel, had been brought back to health and strength. "Some time ago," said Mr. Robinson, "Mabel completely lost the use of her left leg. She could not use it in any manner whatever and had to be lifted in and out of bed. The doctor seemed at a loss to understand the cause, and although very attentive seemed not to be able to do anything for her. We were very much alarmed, and as she was not getting better we determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of which we had heard so much. Before a half dozen boxes were used she could run about and play without the use of her crutches. She is now lively, eats well and sleeps well and is in the best of spirits, and we are satisfied is far on the way to complete recovery. I am convinced that if we had not used Pink Pills she would have been a cripple for life, if indeed she had survived the illness. Mr. Robinson also told the reporter that his brother, Peter W. Robinson, was last spring greatly debilitated and suffered much from rheumatism. He began taking Pink Pills and is now as well as ever. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blood builder and nerve restorer known to medical science and cure when all other remedies fail. If not kept by your dealer they will be sent post paid on receipt of 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Get the genuine. Imitations and substitutes are worthless—perhaps dangerous.

Induction At Pickering.

PICKERING, Nov. 6.—Rev. Alexander McAuley, B.A., was, this afternoon, inducted as pastor of St. Andrew's church here and St. John's church, Brougham. The induction sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Smith, Ashburn. Rev. Mr. Eastman, Oshawa, addressed the newly-inducted minister, and Rev. Mr. Abram, Whitby, addressed the congregation. After the services were over the large congregation present were invited to the lecture room to partake of a lunch that had been prepared by the ladies of the congregation. The people of Pickering are to be congratulated in having Mr. McAuley in their town. He is a graduate of Queen's.

A Hunter In Trouble.

BROCKVILLE, Nov. 8.—William Massie, Grenadier Island, a famous hunter, and known as one of the best wing shots on the river, has been getting into serious trouble with the customs officer. The story is that Massie came to Ivo Island the other morning after ducks, and while shooting from that point was interviewed by a customs officer, who seized his guns and hunting outfit, under the law which compels all Americans shooting in Canadian territory to pay a fixed fee. At latest accounts Massie is said to have been still deprived of his property, and that it will cost him $75 to get it back.
