MERCIFUL TO THE POOR.

THE LADIES HAD A FINE GATHERING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Annual Meeting of the Poor Relief Association—Women of the Future—The Officers Selected for the Coming Year.

RARY was the recipient of the churches and newspapers, for attendance at the annual meeting of the poor relief association and in the annual discussion of the subject of the coming year. Much interest was manifested by those present in the important object of providing aid to the destitute by means of the coming year. The ladies of the association were present in large numbers, and the meeting was a most successful one. The following gentlemen were present: Messrs. J. M. Mackay, W. F. Wolfer and the president of St. Vincent de Paul society, Mr. McGuire. The Rev. M. Macmillan, secretary, presided over the meeting. The Rev. M. Macmillan, secretary, presided over the meeting. The Rev. M. Macmillan, secretary, presided over the meeting.

Whether on pleasure or business taken on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it is so much pleasantly and effectively, the kidneys, liver and bowels preventing fever, and other forms of sickness. For sale in 7c bottles by all leading druggists. Manufactured by California Fig Syrup Co.

Who Stopped Them? The members of the executive committee are dissatisfied with the way their recommendations have been treated at Ottawa. On several occasions letters have been sent to the members of the executive committee, and they were not recognized by the machine. The members, in response to inquiry, explained the relation of the city council to the project for affording aid to the unemployed, and stated that they would do all in their power to carry it out. Mr. McGuire, who is present at the council meeting, expressed his confidence in the council, and his satisfaction with the unanimity and good-feeling of the council in regard to the matter. It only remains for the people, by their vote, to enable them to act, by undertaking the proposed work.

A resolution was moved by Rev. M. Macmillan, and unanimously carried, expressing the pleasure with which the association had received the grant of $5,000 for local improvement, and the trust that the project might be carried out as speedily as possible. The resolution was read and warmly advocated by the Rev. J. B. Black, affirming the principle that the duty of providing for the poor devolved on the municipal authorities, and that the city council for a money grant for this purpose. After some discussion in which opinions pro and con were strongly expressed, it was finally decided that it was inexpedient to press such a motion in view of the fact that the Rev. M. Macmillan, secretary, presided over the meeting, and the Rev. M. Macmillan, secretary, presided over the meeting.

Harbor Inspector McMahon thinks he has a claim on a humane society. He and A. Lanigan, caretaker of the city buildings, saved a son of Jackson and another, who were drowning a few years ago. They upset from a boat and were clinging to the side of the ship. McMahon arrived on the scene, Mr. McMahon jumped in off the slip at the foot of Gore street and recovered a little child.

Mr. McConnell, who lives on a farm near Battersea, in the district. He is a native of the district, and is active and hearty as most of his younger neighbors. He delights to relate the story of his rescue, and as a pioneer of the county of Frontenac. He used to do his trading in the city before there was a railway or stage connection, and tells of the many hardships he had to endure in Kingston and carried home in four on his back, taking several days on a trip.

Five cartons of potatoes were shipped per G.T.R. to a point on the line, and the shipper would not pay the freight and the company took possession of the potatoes. They have been sold in collars throughout the city. There are 3,000 bushels, for which 50c per bushel has been named. It would be a good idea for some charitable workers to pick up a barrel or two in order to raise money enough to buy the potatoes in need of them among those most in need of them. No one, who is able, would refuse to buy a ticket at 50c each.

The Aldermen's Outlook. In January, 1895, the electors will be asked to select a mayor, aldermen and councillors. A change may be made in the general election, but because Ald. Hardy and McKeever have indicated that they will not likely seek re-election, it is probable that the Aldermen's Outlook. Always Bright and Interesting. The Kingston Wino last Saturday published a football edition, giving a most interesting and unique narrative of a series of matches played by the teams from Queen's university against clubs in Hamilton, London and Toronto. The Wino has been mostly illustrated. The Wino has been mostly illustrated. The Wino has been mostly illustrated.

At the Asylum. The officers of the asylum entertained Dr. and Mrs. Foster to an oyster supper at Orchard House on the eve of their departure for Kingston. After the supper Dr. Russell proposed the toast of Dr. and Mrs. Foster, wishing them health and prosperity in their future home. On behalf of the asylum, Dr. Foster was presented with a gold watch. Mr. Wylie reading the address which accompanied it.

Kingston Will Get It. The committee, appointed by the city council to interview the government in respect to the handling of the mail bags here and to see if it is possible to get an all night service, will not have much trouble. Arrangements are being made to transfer the mail bags to the suburban train, and for the appointment of a night staff to look after the needs of the public.

No One Complains to It. A lady, sending money from Belleville to Kingston, wrote to a friend that she always sends money to this city by draft. On account of the reports as to the way mail matters are handled in Kingston she has lost confidence in the postal system. John Mills, grand organizer of A.O.U.W. has planned to work in St. Lawrence and Kingston districts during December. Rev. H. Coleman, formerly of this town is to be appointed curate of St. Thomas church, Belleville, under the Rev. Mr. Burns.

KINGSTON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 16, 1894

CITY AND VICINITY.

AN ANNIVERSARY EVENT.

The Y.M.C.A. had a meeting in CHALMERS' CHURCH. The Association's Reception Not Enough to Make Good—Ave the Citizens to Support the Work—Address of Social Topics.

Rev. Father Carson, lately curate of St. Francis Xavier church, Brockville, has been appointed to the same position in Belleville. His place in Brockville will be taken by Rev. Father O'Brien, Belleville.

Should be Looked After. The trust officer should see that the children who play about the lower part of the city during school hours are checked. An intelligence complained to-day that boys who should be in school make it a practice of snaking about wagons in his yard.

It is settled here that J. H. Metcalfe, M.P., will not carry the Kingston again for the Dominion House. His intimate friends judge of confidential confidence in the fact that he will be handsomely rewarded by the conservative party for the great service he rendered in the past.
